

ORDERS FOR SHAM FIGHT.

This Event at Niagara Camp on Thursday.

Plan of the Engagement and Troops to Participate.

Health of Camp Good—Very Hot Yesterday.

Niagara-on-the-Lake, June 22.—Yesterday was an oppressively hot day at camp and several cases of mild prostration occurred.

The general idea for the sham fight on Wednesday and Thursday was contained in the orders issued last evening. The tactical exercises this year will be on a more comprehensive scale than heretofore. It will be understood that a red force, in occupation of Niagara Falls, learns that a defending force is in place, while attacking forces from Toronto. The attacking force will therefore march in from Niagara Falls and attack this town. The particular ideas will be issued on Wednesday evening. The attacking force will leave the camp on Wednesday afternoon, and will march to Niagara Falls or thereabouts, and the defending party will march towards Queenston later in the day. The parties will bivouac for the night, and the battle proper will commence at daylight Thursday morning. Extra precautions are being taken this year to prevent accidents. Twenty rounds of blank ammunition will be made for each man, and an immediate collection of expended ammunition will be made at the close of operations, in order to guard against accident. Previous to the commencement of operations a most thorough examination of all rifles, pouches, bandoliers and pockets will be made, for the purpose of assuring against service ammunition being carried and accidentally used.

Special orders have been issued against the desecration of cemeteries or the destruction of property. Bands will not accompany the troops, and no extraneous assistance in the form of motor cars, wagons, etc., will be allowed troops during the exercise. Bayonets will not be carried, and the opposing forces will be specially instructed not to approach within 100 yards of each other.

The Red, or attacking force, will be in command of Lieut. Col. A. T. Thompson, and the Blue, or defending party, will be in command of Lieut. Col. J. Mason. The order against the use of bayonets was given to prevent any accidents, as many of the soldiers get excited in the exercises, and accidents occur.

The opposing force will be accompanied by signallers, field ambulance and hospital corps, engineers and all troops required in actual warfare. The men will gain much practical experience. General Lake will criticize.

The composition of the forces will be as follows: Red, 2nd and 3rd Field Batteries, 36th, 37th, 39th, 44th, 77th, 13th Cavalry; ambulance and signallers to be detailed from the different units. The Blue force will be composed of the 9th Militia Horse, 418 Q. F. guns, representing one field battery, 12th, 20th, 24th, 2nd Field Engineers, 10th and 11th Field Ambulance and signallers. The Red force will wear helmets and the Blue force caps, as a mark of distinction.

Instead of accompanying the troops at the sham fight, the ten bands in camp will spend the day finishing up their practice for the tattoo, which takes place in the evening.

Dr. Fotheringham found the sanitary condition of the camp to be very satisfactory when he inspected it. The fact that there are so few patients in the hospitals proves that the sanitary arrangements are excellent. The annual strawberry festival and bazaar was held in the park yesterday afternoon and evening, and was well patronized.

The annual military dance takes place to-morrow night at the Casino of the Queen's Royal Hotel, and promises to be quite a brilliant social function.

BRITANNIA LODGE.

The weekly meeting of Britannia Lodge, I. O. G. T., last evening, in the Salvation Army Hall, Barton street east, was fairly well attended. The election of the Chief Templar, John Porteous, Lodge Deputy, presided, and admitted one candidate into regular membership. During business the Lodge Deputy and F. S. Morrison, of International Lodge, referred in flattering terms to the honor conferred on the lodge by the election of the Chief Templar, John Porteous, last week, at Grand Lodge, of the Financial Secretary, Tom Macnaughton, to the office of Grand Superintendent of Juvenile Templars. A literary programme along strictly temperance lines was supplied by F. S. Morrison, George Austin and Master Fred Ambrose, while A. D. Howegge added variety by giving several excellent turns on a very handsome Edison phonograph.

On Saturday afternoon the Rambling Club will meet and ramble to Chedoke Falls, while next Monday evening the lodge will have an annual ice cream and strawberry social, in the direction of the fairer members.

First Regular Passenger Service on Grand Trunk Pacific R'y.

Advices have been received from the General Passenger Department of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, that the first regular passenger train which is being operated between Winnipeg and Scott, a distance of 369 miles, was thoroughly satisfactory both as to service and patronage. Brass band receptions were given the train at every point along the line.

Have You Poor Eyesight?

Blurring of vision, weak or watery eyes, headaches, inflamed eyelids, or eye-balls, or do your eyes easily tire? If so, you probably need glasses. Examination free, and glasses supplied at a moderate price (if required) by J. W. Gerrie, druggist and doctor of optician, 32 James street north.

MANITOBA HALF DRY.

Temperance People Preparing an Energetic Campaign.

Winnipeg, June 21.—According to the statement issued by the R. T. of T. executive, there are now 130 municipalities in Manitoba and an even break has been secured between the license and local option forces, each being in control in 65. Nearly every one of the license municipalities will be invaded by the temperance party this fall, in an effort to bring them under the veto.

Electricity Serves at Table in This House

THE DARK CENTRE OF THE TABLE IS AN ELEVATOR THAT LOWERS INTO THE BASEMENT KITCHEN. PHONOGRAPH AT GATE. MORNING COFFEE BY ELECTRICITY. SENDING UP COFFEE FROM KITCHEN. ELECTRIC KITCHEN.

A villa recently completed at Troyes is like Aladdin's palace. The servant problem is completely solved, for one servant does not even enter the dining room.

The table is set in the kitchen in the basement and comes noiselessly through the floor, into the dining room. Tiny elevators run from the place and a push of a button brings whatever the host desires, noiselessly, to his place. Electricity cooks, washes dishes, makes sauces and bed the coffee and pepper. In the bedroom the curtains close of themselves, and the lights go out automatically, after one has stretched himself out for the night. Coffee or breakfast comes to the bedside in the morning by the touch of a button. Doors open by pushing buttons, and at the front gate a phonograph asks the visitor his business.

PATRIOTIC TURKS.

They Decide That a National Hymn is Necessary.

Paris, June 21.—The new Turkey has suddenly discovered that something is missing in her reformed Government outfit to insure recognition as an up-to-date nation. An influential Young Turk graduate of the Paris Conservatory of Music, who has been authorized to organize a national conservatory in Constantinople, has called the Government's attention to the fact that Turkey has no national hymn. The Cabinet declared that she must have one.

Turkish composers, however, are still in the tomtom period of musical development, and accordingly the suggestion of the young man from Paris was adopted—that Saint-Saens be invited to compose the Turkish national hymn.

ASK CHANGE.

Counties Want Government Amendment to Assessment Act.

Toronto, June 22.—A number of County Councils throughout Ontario are forwarding petitions to the Provincial Government, asking that farm buildings in rural municipalities be exempted from taxation. The petitions set forth that such action would have a pronounced tendency towards securing the speedy improvement and occupation of vacant lands, and would encourage farmers to improve and beautify their property. It is the intention of the Government, it is learned, to submit the question to the special Legislative Committee appointed to deal with a complete revision of the assessment act. This committee will probably be called together early in the autumn with a view to completing its work in time for the Legislative Session, which, by reason of the change in the financial year of the Province, will meet next year early in January.

SMOTHERED TO DEATH.

Roy Wilson Killed While Digging a Well at Thessalon.

Thessalon, June 19.—Roy Wilson, of Wells Township, was digging a well at the Whinnifield school house in Wells Township on Friday, June 18, and it was on him, burying him under four or five feet of earth. It took several hours to find his body, and no doubt death was almost instantaneous. He was 22 years of age, unmarried, and leaves a large circle of relatives in Thessalon and vicinity.

Elzear Mann, who was serving a life sentence in St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary for murdering his mother-in-law, has been released with a pardon.

GARDEN ON A SHIP.

One Ocean Liner Now Supplies Its Passengers With Vegetables From the Soil.

The recent introduction of a garden and truck farm on a small scale on the Hamburg-American line steamship Kaiserin Augusta Victoria, while an innovation, is not merely a detailed item appealing only on account of its novelty. It is a part of the development of a well-considered and carefully planned scheme, the purpose of which is to provide ocean travellers with every possible and conceivable luxury and convenience. The term "Necessities of ocean travel" has departed from the category of the cross-sea wanderer. No longer does he think of these necessities in the sense that the enjoyment of the ocean voyage could be restricted and limited to mere necessities. The wonderful advance in steamship construction is not applied merely to structural perfection, but embraces every possible condition and interpretation of what constitutes our conception of a "ideal existence." In perspective of the fact that in this case it applies to a trip across the Atlantic. From the above statements it will be perceived that the many innovations which have appeared in recent years are really the co-ordinate details of a wonderful system of which the keynote is "Perfection in travel."

The steamship companies have been quick to realize that as far as the traveller and his inclination to pay is concerned, no limitation existed with respect to his wishes for the very best. With no restriction as to cost it was but natural that improvements were in order. At first these were manifested in larger accommodations for each individual traveller.

ELEVATORS AND TELEPHONES. The equipments and appointments of the state rooms were improved, bedrooms were installed in place of old-fashioned berths, and, as a natural sequence, magnificent public rooms, such as the lounge, regular ball, ladies' parlors, smoking rooms, etc., were soon regarded as indispensable to every ship. The same idea was responsible for the elevator, electric light, bath, telephones, gymnasiums, wireless and submarine bell systems, etc.

The truck farm and green house on the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria is but the natural outcome of a well-ordered scheme. Formerly fruits, vegetables and flowers, in order to be available for the table, were kept in cold storage rooms in the hold of the ship. Now a steamship gardener is one of the regular staff. It is his special duty to look after the flowers, plants, the strawberries, the mushrooms, even the lettuce and other greens which are used in the restaurant. The green house itself is a steel structure on the sun deck. It has the same profusion of windows which, after the manner of the modern green houses ashore, allow of being opened and turned to permit the best possible circulation of air and sunshine throughout the house. During inclement weather and in the winter season the green house will be heated by coils of steam pipes.

Relating to the foregoing matter, a few words as to the purchase and amount of provisions taken on board may be of interest. The modern ocean greyhound is a modern hotel, and has but one disadvantage compared with the world-renowned hostleries ashore. That is, that the dozens and dozens of merchants who supply the ship with fresh vegetables, meats and other provender, are unable to back their wagons up to the steward's department on the vessel to deal out a fresh supply of goods for the day. The sea restaurant, however, is almost at all times prepared to serve anything from a ham sandwich to a banquet.

THE SHIP'S PROVISIONS. The chief care of a steamship dining room is the provisions; that is true to a certain extent, but when the ship is seven or perhaps eight days between ports, without a chance to get a large supply of fresh food, the selection and the manner of keeping the food really gives the steward something to think about. He must get a supply which shall be just enough in order that in the restaurant there may be a meal for 50 persons and the next two for 250. This requires a lot of guessing and figuring, as the restaurant must never run short of anything. The various supplies are bought at the most favorable places. For instance, in England, the German liners get the fresh European fish, such as sole, together with the best English lamb, mutton and beef. At Cherbourg a supply of fruits, poultry, eggs, butter and milk is taken on board. The Kaiserin

Augusta Victoria takes in 5,000 eggs at Cherbourg and these are kept in perfect condition by covering them with fresh butter as soon as they are received, placing them in straw and turning them every day. The peaches and other fine fruits are also carefully packed in straw.

The store rooms of the great ocean liners may be compared to great markets, where even the most perishable foods are stored. The store rooms on the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria, for example, consist of a series of chambers, artificially cooled to a fixed temperature, each devoted to a different use. There is a room for fish, another for meats, another for fruits and still another for vegetables. The grocery shop on board ship is a reproduction of its counterpart ashore, but of the highest grade. Long shelves and pigeonholes contain countless delicacies from all over the world. The wine vaults aboard are also marvelously complete. In hundreds of pigeonholes can be seen the best products of vineyard from every section of the globe.

YOUNG LIVES LOST.

Fell Out of Boat Into Cornwall Canal—Drowning at Woodbridge.

Cornwall, June 21.—Albert Forget, of Lachine, Que., was drowned in the Cornwall Canal to-day. He was employed as deck hand on the barge Dakota and fell out of a small boat, after taking a line from the shore. The other men say that he sank at once and was never seen again, despite their efforts to save him. The body has so far not been recovered. Forget was 29 years of age and unmarried.

Woodbridge, June 21.—This evening about 7.30 Howard Douglas, aged six years, adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Douglas, was accidentally drowned while playing on the Humber River, near his home. The child not coming home caused the parents some anxiety, so the father went out to find him, and came across his body lying in the water.

REACHED POLE?

Washington Friends of Commander of Peary Optimistic.

Washington, June 21.—Friends in this city of Commander Robert Edwin Peary, U. S. N., the explorer, who left the United States last July for the frozen North, say they believe Peary by this time has reached the goal of his ambition and has successfully planted the Stars and Stripes at the North Pole. No news has been received from Peary since he left Etah, North Greenland, August 17th, 1908, in the Boasvelt. If he has been successful in attaining this much-sought goal, the news of his discovery will not reach a point of telegraphic communication until August or September next. If he has been unsuccessful, he will remain in the far north and make another endeavor next year.

INDIANS ANGRY.

Tribes in Canadian North-West Making Trouble Over Lands.

Prince Rupert, June 21.—Passengers arriving by the Hudson's Bay Company's steamer Port Simpson report that the Kispixio Indians in the outlying districts around Hazelton are giving serious trouble. They consider that the new settlers are taking lands that are Indian reserves, and under the leadership of Big Frank, who recently escaped from jail, they have retired to their lands beyond the Kispixio River. The whites have been forbidden to cross the stream and while on the Skeena River have been driven away by braves with rifles.

SICK SKINS IN SUMMER.

Summer is the hardest time for the human skin. Its delicate tiny pores, if worked under the best conditions, would have a rough time because of the heat. How when they have to work when impaired or damaged by sunburn and heat spots? No wonder one has rough patches, freckles, etc.

Zam-Buk heals sick skins. When a patch of skin on face, neck or arms is blistered by the sun, apply Zam-Buk at once. It will cool and soothe beautifully, and new skin will be quickly formed. When you are footsore, or have some chafed places, Zam-Buk will give you ease. When the mosquitoes raise lumps on you, Zam-Buk will stop that terrible itching and smarting. Keep Zam-Buk handy, use it freely, and this will be the happiest summer you have ever spent, viewed from the skin health standpoint. All druggists and stores.

Blackheath

The regular June meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Hutt, with an attendance of 40. All were pleased to have present the old members, Mrs. and Misses McAdams, and friends, from Caledonia. Miss Gibson was appointed as delegate.

Miss Hutt sang a solo, and the President introduced Miss Miller, of Guelph, who gave a talk on "As Others See Us." She prefaced her address by some excellent hints on Institute work. Her subject had some good points, especially her remarks on the selfish side of nature, and how others see us, especially the new folk, in the use of our labor-saving devices, time and strength, which are woman's capital.

Mrs. Ginchig gave an instrumental solo, after which Mrs. Hutt read a number of extracts from the life of Queen Victoria. After singing the usual closing hymn, and enjoying a social chat over lunch, the meeting adjourned, to meet next month at Mrs. Martindale's.
