addresses read to day have recited some of the reasons which invited your con- 1873 we went out on the Pacific. Scandal, what the people say since was a Pacific Slander. The people were found in good condition, and trade is flourishing. We left a handsome m in the treasury for our successors to amence business with. They had a an slate, and had every opportunity fulfilling what they were made of, and fulfilling their promises. You know had the course of the five years of their ministrations was. You know that on '73 to '78 the country was getting orse and worse. The surplus melted, ay, and became a deficit: Trade be- came paralyzed, and capitalists were running the country. We had the grief of seeing the sons of Canadians ing to the United States, to look for read. We called upon the Govern- do something to relieve the distress.

Richard Cartwright, who was the minister, said it was impossible. What can we do?" said he. "We can no more to relieve the distress than a y on a wheel can turn the wheel round." They were then called the y the wheel Government, and the peo- ple were unkind enough to say that they were paying out money for the y. (Laughter.) We had faith in our country. We saw no reason why a coun- try like this should be left in despair and insolvency. We asked parliament and the country to imitate that great country to the south, the United States. That is, routing the remains of the few or factories and industries that were en in a languishing condition. We id we must imitate our southern neigh- ors, and have a national policy for Can- a. The people rose in their might and spelled these men who had a system of misgovernment, and did not think we ad the same desire to improve ourselv- at the Americans had. We brought own the National Policy in the first session, and Mr Mackenzie said we had sried out our promises, and had "gone a whole hog," and that we did- not give a shams protection, but a real rotection. We find that our people have o longer to go to the United States. (Smiles.) Every man in Canada can day get a day's work for a good day's wage, (renewed smiles) and so Canada is day prosperous through the beneficent ifluence of the National Policy. In- ry branch of industry there is a devel- opment and progress, and in all the hab- able globe there is no country more rprosperous than Canada. You made a mistake last time at West Huron, but I ink you will retrieve yourself next time, and send a supporter of the National Policy to parliament to support Sir John Macdonald. We confederated Canada, id established the Union. The Mari- me provinces had turned in their in- rests with us. The Government have asked those seaside provinces to us by e Intercolonial Railway. The Domin- ion Government at my suggestion had id $300,000 for the Northwest; today y cannot buy the city of Winnipeg ne for a sum; yet we were told at e time of the purchase that it was ex- avagant. One of the conditions of ion with British Columbia was that should build the Canada Pacific Rail- y. I recently went over that road, id at every station I was thanked for iding it. Not only was the building the road an enormous enterprise, but had the most persistent and malig- ant opposition to the construction, of from the beginning to the end, from r Blake and his supporters. He was prophet of evil from the first to the st. It was "Woe, woe, woe!" But ere is no "Woe, woe, woe!" You don't em to be miserable now, if you are u do not seem to feel it. We have the usfaction of knowing that that railway going to be an immense commercial ceans. Mr Blake said the traffic would re grease the wheels of the loocom- es. He said the rust would accum- ne on the rails, and that the company ould "scamp" their work, and after king their twenty-five millions of ney would desert the road and leave on the hands of the Government. The overnment has had that road built, ripped and running, and has also rks of every kind started all through e country. We have subsidized a umber of railways. We are helping im- rially branch lines in the Maritime rovinces, Quebec and Ontario. We a going as far as prudence will allow us go. It would be ruin to us to allow e great credit we have in the markets e world to suffer by over-running r credit and our revenue. We have ne as far as we ought to do; we have assisted in all these great works, and I trust that in addition to the railway accommodation you now have, you will soon have a competitor in the Canada Pacific Railway. The issue now before us is the question whether the Govern- ment was right or wrong in allowing the law to go into force, and permitting a murderer and a rebel to hang? Why did Mr. Blake take his position? It was not from any belief that Louis Riel did not deserve to be hanged. He offered a reward in 1870. But he has since changed his note; and why? Because so many of the French Cana- dians have protested against that hang- ing, from a mistaken feeling, and from their impulsive, generous nature. They were told that it was because of the pressure on me by the Orange influence of this province. The Provincial Govern- ment of Quebec has been very nearly ousted and turned out of office through that senseless charge, and Mr. Mercier has very nearly succeeded. And what would have been the result had he suc- ceeded? Up to this unfortunate incident all classes and creeds and races in this country have been divided in their political beliefs, but have been living in peace with one another. I must call your attention to a merit of my Govern- ment. I have three French Canadians in the Cabinet. They know what they would expect if they supported me in this matter; but they look that stand, and they deserve the greatest credit from their English speaking fellow subjects. Mr. Mercier has very nearly succeeded; but I can tell you, I give you my fore- cast, the present Conservative Govern- ment and my colleagues in the Govern- ment will be sustained by a majority of their fellow French Canadians at the next general election. The Liberals will find that after all their betrayal their disreput- ation will have no compensation, for they have sold themselves to the French- men and have not got the money. I call upon the young men here to give an adherence to the Government which has given you five years of prosperity. If you do this you will do what Mr Mac- kenzie said: "When it is a question of party and country, I will go with my country." I say to you, "Go thou and do likewise." The right hon. gentleman resumed his seat amidst applause. At the conclusion of the speech the meeting broke up after the usual cheers, a hearty cheer for Cameron mingling with the rest.

Kingsbridge.

John O'Connor, formerly of this section, died at the iron mines near Ishphing, in the state of Michigan. He had been ill with diphtheria for a short time only. The deceased left this township for Michigan about two years ago. He was a married man, and leaves a widow and several children to lament his loss, although two children died about the same time as his father did. He was a steady man, and was well thought of by those who knew him. He was a brother of Mr P. O'Connor of this place.

The Mayoralty.

C. SEAGER, Esq., Barrister, Goderich. DEAR SIR.—Understanding that Mayor Horton does not intend to seek re-election, we the undersigned ratepayers of the Town of Goderich, request that you will allow your- self to be put in nomination as Mayor for the year 1887. Believing, as we do, that you are best qualified to discharge the duties of that office, energy, capability and impartiality, we pledge ourselves to give you our earnest support in your candidature. Goderich, 25th Novemr, 1886. (Signed) JOHN THOMAS NAFFTEL, and over 40 others.

To JOHN T. NAFFTEL, Esq., J.P., and others. GENTLEMEN.—I deeply appreciate your very kind and flattering requisition, signed by so many of my fellow citizens of all parties and opinions. I exceedingly regret that at this juncture in the affairs of our town, there is to be any change in the Mayoralty. I believe that it would have been best had our present Mayor, who has served you so many years, and who is so thoroughly conversant with its affairs, could have been induced to continue to serve us for the coming very important year. Since it is not to be the case, I have much pleasure in acceding to your request, and can assure you that, if elected, my best energies shall be devoted to the promotion of the progress of our town. Yours respectfully, C. SEAGER. Goderich, 25th Nov., 1886.

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE TOWN OF GODERICH.

Having been requested by a number of rate- payers of the town to offer myself at the municipal election as a candidate for the honorable position of mayor, I have decided to do so. During my residence of over twenty years in Goderich, I have watched with great interest its progress, and I might say its prosperity, and I am most desirous for its future. I believe that I understand its wants and necessities, and I am most competent to deal with and overcome them. If elected, I pledge myself to use every legitimate means in my power to advance the prosperity (es- pecially the commercial interests) of the town, without unduly increasing the burden of taxation.
