Concert for Blind Man.

The concert to raise money to buy an organ for the blind man at the People's Theatre last night was a great success. The T. A. band rendered some excellent music. Miss Strang sang a solo, Mrs. Geo. W. B. Ayre rendered "Believe me if all these enduring young charms" to a new setting, and as an encore "The little silver ring." Miss Christian sang a sweet solo. Songs were also rendered by Mrs. Pennock, Messrs. Fox, Martin and Courtenay. Mr. T. H. O'Neill and Miss Pauline Baird gave recitations and Mr. Purdon a reading. Irish dances were given by the boys of Mount Cashel. Mr. Clouston read letters from the Archbishop and the Premier, regretting their inability to be present and enclosing donations. An enjoyable feature of the programme was a series of moving pictures and a number of times on the pathograph, kindly lent by Messrs. Ayre & Sons. The financial results were beyond expectations and the people responded to the appeal of Messrs. Walter Clouston and James Vey in that well-known spirit of generosity that distinguishes the people of St. John's. At the conclusion Mr. Clouston thanked all who assisted in the rendition, as well as the audience.

FUNERAL ON MONDAY.—The funeral of the late Mrs. George H. Le Mesurier will take place from her late residence, Topsail Road, Monday next, at 11 a.m.

Pilot Boat's Cruise.

The new boat purchased for the pilots of St. John's and named the Pilot Boat, to which the Telegram referred yesterday, was taken for a trial spin in the afternoon. She ran out as far as Cape Spear, and after returning circled the harbor a couple of times. The little vessel, which is run by gasoline, proved herself a good sailor and substantial sea boat. There went out in her the Premier, Hons. J. Harris, M. P. Cashin and J. C. Crosbie, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, Mr. P. P. Moore and Rev. E. Birchy. All after returning pronounced her to be a fine boat of her class.

TO CURE SCALDS, BURNS.

Nothing can possibly give better results than Dr. Hamilton's Ointment. It draws out the pain, destroys inflammation, gives ease and comfort in one application. In every case of skin trouble the surest cure is Dr. Hamilton's Ointment. Get a 50c. box from your druggist.

CHURCH SHIP FUND.—A good programme has been arranged for the concert at Canon Wood Hall in aid of the Church Ship Fund on April 19th. A play will be acted by the pupils of Miss Bright's school. Mrs. Gosling, Misses Withers and Furlong will take part in the farce entitled "His Majesty's Maids." Nothing is being left undone to make the affair a success.

(By the Man in the Moon.)

A guillotine, said to have done service during the French Revolution, was recently sold in Paris for $185.00.

A memorial will be unveiled by Earl Grey, in Toronto, on May 24th to the men who fell in the South African War.

Sovereigns to the value of $59,000,000, and half-sovereigns valued at $10,000,000 were struck at the English mint last year.

Billy Papke is now the middle-weight champion boxer of the world. He recently defeated W. Lewis at Paris in the third round, thereby winning the above title.

Mr. Otto Kahn, a banker, recently paid $100,000 for a portrait of "Frans Hals and his Family," which had been painted by Hals himself. Big price for a picture!

A town was destroyed by fire in Southern Nigeria 80 years ago. The site of the town is now covered with a growth of mahogany trees, some of which are said to be more than ten feet in diameter.

Some American capitalists have formed a new "hotel trust" in New York. Their object is to conduct a chain of hotels in the large cities. The company will invest $50,000,000, and several large hotels besides the new Vanderbilt will be taken over in New York alone.

Dorando, the famous Italian runner, has again shown his mettle by defeating Tom Longboat, the Indian, in a twenty-five mile race at Pittsburgh on March 31st. Dorando took the lead in the 7th mile and continued until the finish. His time was 1 hour, 54 mins. 8 2/5 secs. At the pistol shot Dorando led by 25 yards.

A net work of subterranean passages has been discovered under the Royal Palace of Spain. One of the passages is directly under King Alfonso's private apartments. The discovery was made quite accidentally a short time ago when a street car was passing along the Plaza de Oriente the earth caved in and the car dropped into a deep hole in front of the Palace. The hole was forty-five feet deep.

According to the New York American, J. P. Morgan and the Standard Oil Company have entered into a big scheme whereby they hope to wrest the banking supremacy of South America from Great Britain and Germany. The projectors hope to establish a chain of banks (American) which will finance five hundred million dollars of trade between the North American and South American Republics.

Mr. Mordecai Bibbero, the veteran Jewish Professor of swimming, recently died in the Old Country at the age of 85. He was who trained Capt. Webb, the great English swimmer. In August 1908, to celebrate his golden wedding, the professor gave a display of swimming in a rough sea off Dover, and another of the feats to his credit is the swimming of the river between Brooklyn and New York with his hands manacled. He had saved fifty persons from drowning during his career. He had lived to some purpose.

All the Canadians are not elated over the outcome of the Tariff negotiations between their country and the United States. Here is what one of the papers up there has to say of the outcome: "And the country that is the birthplace of the authors of the tariff back-down is the same haughty Nation that was ready to burn Lord Alverstone in effigy." Lord Alverstone it will be remembered was an arbitrator in the Alaskan dispute, and it was claimed by many Canadians that he had sacrificed their interests and awarded the United States a big slice of Canadian territory.

Mr. Patten, the man who cornered the cotton market recently, is home in the States again after quite an experience in the Old Land. He has given some of the New York papers an account of the reception he received in Manchester. He is credited with saying: "It was not until I had been shown some seventy-five feet in the Royal Exchange at Manchester that the fact that the crowd was hostile penetrated my thick head. Then I took the hint and went." He also said he was delighted because the crowd had dubbed him a "Yankee." "The Man in the Moon" is under the impression that Mr. Patten has an overdose of swelled head, and the Manchester "cotton spinners" are to be congratulated if they succeeded in reducing his "block" to any appreciable extent.

A Boomerang!

"P. J. K." what manner of man art thou?

For the life of me I cannot solve the riddle of your prose. You are certainly as recondite as a chapter in Talmud. The Fourth Dimension is nothing in it when compared with the abstruseness of your erudition. "Verbatim strong" and "partio essay" are as unfathomable to my mind as a reading in Hindustani. They have a titubatory effect on the aural nerve when rapidly repeated; and one is inclined to the idea that they would serve as excellent names for a breakfast cereal or the latest summer drink.

All I can infer from your succinct reply, poor "P. J. K." is: you evidently believe "By-stander" has taken offense at your memorable article appearing in the "Herald" six days anterior to the Ides of March; and to use the jargon of the low-ways and the by-ways, "he has an axe to grind." Permit me, esteemed and honored sir, to disabuse you of this erroneous idea by the gentle removal of that very soft and very grey matter which gave birth to such a false conception of my remarks. I could take no offense, my dear friend, (may I use the appellation?) for the reason of its absence. Nothing offensive could have been intended, I presume. Albeit I do not understand such words as "verbatim" and "partio" as applied. Surely I am not a gramophone record or can I lay claim connection with a South American enclosure. Anyway I shall forgive you this time but, please, don't say such hard things again. Now, cease worrying that little "Ko-Ko" of yours that I misconstrued the nonsense of your remarks.

I cannot forget about the axe. Who has not an "axe to grind," or in other words, who does not want to succeed. We all have our little axes, dear "Peejakay" (our author's nom de plume, phonetically spelled) and we wield them as valiantly as did the Red Indians of old. Every man of us who is striving to win out in the race of life has his little axe where-with to hew the path to the goal of his desires. You are the exception, mayhap. Your pen might do much better work if it were exchanged for a spade or pick.

Now, really, that "real thought" of yours was the most real of 'em all. (Have you been in Green Bay lately that you speak of them as 'em?)—the really the most realistic of all the real things you have offered. But the "real subject" was lacking, and in your endeavour to "knock the wind out of something or other," as you aptly say, you but did damage to your "sub-conscious ego." ("Sub-conscious ego" is not the name of a food or drink.) In your puerile attempt to take the middle stump you fell flat to mother earth. The ball through some miscalculation on your part or by the agency of some undisclosed law governing moving bodies acted as a boomerang and fairly bowled you over—stumped, to use the more favourite expression. "Every real thought or every real subject knocks the wind out of somebody or other." Somebody happily escaped, but you were the unfortunate "other."

"As soon as the breath is recovered, it is expended in hard words" speaketh the high jokolorum, and having

Before entering upon the second act, let me tell you "Peejakay," in all sincerity I don't know who you are. In all my time I have never seen you. I don't know what size hat you wear (presumably a No. 6) nor can I guess the number of your shoes. I hear you NO personal grudge. My only "prejudice to satisfy" (as you miscall it) is to prick the airy soap bubbles of your epistolary efforts in the field of nonsense ere the sanity of the community is endangered.

Straight Talk on Danger of Colds

Let your cold gain headway and you can't keep it from running into Catarrh.

Catarrh never stays in the same place—it travels down into the lungs, then it's too late!

Drive colds and catarrh right out of your system while you have the chance.

Easily done by inhaling Catarrhazone, which instantly reaches the true source of the trouble, gets right where the living germs of catarrh are working.

Catarrhazone

A Convenient Inhaler Treatment is the Proper Remedy to Cure

You see, Catarrhazone is simply healing balsams and rich, pure essences, and is able to patch up the sore spots and remove that tender sensitive feeling from the nose and throat.

Hawking and spitting cease, because the discharge is cured. The nostrils are cleared, headache is relieved, breath is purified. Every trace of catarrh, bronchial and throat weakness is permanently cured.

Shun medicines that contain harmful drugs—use a safe remedy that is prescribed by doctors, that is used in hospitals, that is endorsed by thousands and Catarrhazone has cured. For winter ills there's nothing half so good.

Two months' treatment, large size, price $1, and guaranteed. Small size, 50c., all reliable dealers, or the Catarrhazone Co., Kingston, Ont. Beware of dangerous substitutes and

WHAT THEY DO IN QUEBEC.

Tells How They Cure Weariness and Tiredness in Sherbrooke.

Probably no remedy has come so rapidly to the front and is held in such high estimation by the people of Sherbrooke as "Ferrozone."

Everyone is talking of the wonderful cures it has made, and no one is more enthusiastic in their praise of Ferrozone than Mrs. George Ray, of No. 3 Alexander Street, who writes of her case as follows:—

"Permit me to say a few words concerning that grand medicine, 'Ferrozone':

"I had lost my appetite. 'I was very weak. 'Had pains in my back. 'Suffered with bad digestion. 'Headaches were frequent. 'I always felt weary.

"I commenced to use Ferrozone and improved rapidly. I now feel well—am cured, and am glad to recommend Ferrozone to all my friends.

(Signed) "MRS. GEO. RAY."

If you have any of Mrs. Ray's symptoms you will be quickly cured by Ferrozone—the best of all tonics—the most nourishing and strengthening. Try one or two Ferrozone tablets at meal time—the result will surprise you; 50c. a box, six boxes for $2.50, all dealers, or The Catarrhazone Co., Kingston, Canada.

thus riddle-me-ree-d he brings the illustrious Johnson to his apiked canon, and, with the appalling presumption of a literary parvenu in the most literal sense of the word, thus calls upon the philosophy of genius to support his catermaling to his SILENT muse. For such arrogant and insolent display of presumptuous bumpiness this is certainly hard to beat.

What next? The comet and destruction! "Peejakay" has "neither the time or inclination to treat on this matter." This is what the "down-and-outer" says to his disgusted supporters, and further cries aloud: "Wait till I catch him next time, boys."

"Controversy equalizes fools and wise men, in the same way (admirable quotation) and the fools know it." Yes, "Peejakay," the phools know it. Give me the cap and the bells any old time in any old place and before any old polygamous king to play the role of lesser than be considered wise with such as you. Verily, Minerva in her fabled wanderings through Elysian Thessaly must have chanced upon the citruss tree and plucked a juicy lemon as a fitting bequest to any ashline aspirant of the laurel wreath!

"I intend to write many articles in the future and I have judgment as such to those people who know me best and not to 'By-stander' who, if he has not an axe to grind, has a prejudice to satisfy" exclaimeth the prophet. The six-year-old intends to surprise us in his sixty-sixth year, but the pleasure of the surprise is long delayed and infrequently is never realized—its action is of the future. "I have judgment as such to those people who know me Best!" What a pregnant message to the world! Did one ever read such advertisement of poll-parrot prattle? What do you mean—tell us, man, quick? The gods pity those who know you best.

Before entering upon the second act, let me tell you "Peejakay," in all sincerity I don't know who you are. In all my time I have never seen you. I don't know what size hat you wear (presumably a No. 6) nor can I guess the number of your shoes. I hear you NO personal grudge. My only "prejudice to satisfy" (as you miscall it) is to prick the airy soap bubbles of your epistolary efforts in the field of nonsense ere the sanity of the community is endangered.

Cheaper Than Gasoline

The first boat on the Chesapeake Bay to have a gas producer is the "Mary A. Sharp," which has had her equipment installed by the Page Engineering Co., at Baltimore.

The "Sharp" is 65 feet long, 14 feet beam and 5 feet depth. She will be used in the passenger and cargo business on the Rappahannock River. The forward cabin of the boat is for passengers, and cargo will be carried in the hold of the midship section, while the after house will contain the motive power. Of this power, which is similar to the power on the non-magnetic survey yacht "Carnegie," the "Sharp" has a 75-horsepower engine which will be operated by gas that will be produced from pea coal. It is claimed that it will be possible to operate the boat at a cost of 15 cents per hour, which is cheaper than it would be by either steam or gasoline. As this boat will be the first of its kind on the Chesapeake, it will be watched with a great deal of interest. She is owned by Mr. E. Sharp, of Sharps, Va., by whom she was built.—Shipping Illustrated.

WINARD'S LINIMENT CURES COLDS, ETC.

Placentia Notes.

Master M. Bonia has taken the position of clerk in the Anglo office, Jersey Side, in place of T. Delaney, resigned. He took up his duties on Monday. We wish Mike every success in the future.

Messrs. R. and J. Wyse and crews left town by Monday's train for the city to bring up their boats which they left there last fall. Messrs. Wyse will again prosecute the cod-fishery at Cape St. Mary's, and if pluck and energy will succeed they will be high liners.

Mr. P. Croke is at present painting the gasoline boat. He is painting her green. She appears to be a pretty model.

Rev. Fr. St. John was up from Argenta on a visit to Rev. Mgr. Reardon on Tuesday.

The different schools opened on Tuesday and all the school children were once more delighted to be back to school.

Mr. L. Brennan narrowly escaped losing his hand on Monday. Mr. Brennan while cutting wood accidentally slipped, and as he did the axe came across the thumb on his left hand, almost severing it. He lost no time (but a great quantity of blood) in getting back to his house and having it dressed. It is now healing and in a few weeks will be as well as ever.

LAY FOR WEEKS AT DEATH'S DOOR

But Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Mrs. Thompson's Dropsy.

It Started With Backache and grew worse till the doctor said she must die.

Holt, Ont., April 8.—(Special).—All the countryside here is ringing with the wonderful cure of Mrs. Samuel Thompson, who lay at the point of death for weeks, swollen with Dropsy so that the doctor five different times decided to tap her but desisted because, as her husband said, "It might be better to let her die in peace." After the doctor had given her up Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her. Mrs. Thompson's terrible trouble started with pain in the back. She grew worse and the doctor treated her for jaundice for eight weeks. Then her feet and legs began to swell, and it was realized that Dropsy was the trouble. For seven months she suffered. The doctor said there was no hope; she must die.

As a last resort Dodd's Kidney Pills were tried. The improvement was slow, but gradually her strength came back. To-day Mrs. Thompson is a well woman. She says, and the countryside knows, she owes her life to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

If the disease is of the Kidneys, or from the Kidneys, Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it.

P. S. A.—Mr. A. J. W. McNelly will address the Pleasant Sunday Afternoon Class from 3 to 4 to-morrow afternoon, on "The Poetry of the Old Testament." Males of all ages are cordially invited.

Mr. Edgar J. Franklin, of London, representing Messrs. E. & T. Pink, is now in St. John's. Mr. Franklin has been calling on his firm's customers in Canada and the United States. This is his first visit to Newfoundland and he is impressed and delighted with the country and its possibilities, and bespeaks for Newfoundland a bright future.

Miss Frances Morry, who graduated so creditably from the General Hospital, last week, having completed her three years training, is now spending a well deserved vacation amongst her many friends. Nurse Morry intends in the autumn to take up another branch of her profession, either in an hospital in Canada or the United States.

McMurdo's Store News

SATURDAY, April 9, 1910.
During this damp, muggy weather you are very liable to take cold in the head or throat. Why not, then, protect yourself with a box of Pine Tree Lozenges. They are a real and pleasant preventive of colds if used occasionally. Price, 25c. a box.

When you step into our store to-day for a glass of soda, you will find Rademaker's Hopjes immediately before you. This sweetmeat is bound to be the fashion very soon, and you are losing pleasure every day you neglect to try them. Packages, 10, 20 and 30c.

One comfort is—the present damp weather will help to prepare your ground for sowing. The next move then is to put in Sutton's Seeds—which you can obtain from us, Sole Agents for Newfoundland.—adv't.

The Senate Committee on Pensions at Washington have reported favourably on bills granting to Mrs. Cleveland, widow of President Grover Cleveland, and Mary Lloyd Harrison, $3,000 a year each. They ought to be able to keep "the wolf from the door" on such a nice allowance as the above.
