ANOTHER AIR RAID ON ENGLAND —EIGHT KILLED; 25 INJURED.

LONDON, July 22. A squadron of enemy airplanes, 15 to 21, approached Felixstowe and Harwich at 8 this a.m. Some bombs were dropped, but heavy fire from anti-aircraft defense guns caused the enemy's formation to split up; part returning overseas and part proceeding south down the Essex coast and finally proceeded homeward without dropping more bombs. The raiders were pursued out to sea and heavily engaged by our airplanes but the visibility was low and difficulties of observation great. The casualties at Felixstowe and Harwich so far are 8 killed and 25 injured.

REPULSE GERMAN ATTACKS.

PARIS, July 21. In the course of violent fighting last night on the Aisne front, southeast of Cerny, the Germans twice penetrated French trenches and were driven back by counter attacks. The war office announces that several other attacks at different parts of the front were repulsed by the French who inflicted heavy losses on the Germans.

MANY AIR FLIGHTS.

LONDON, July 22. A hostile raiding party was repulsed last night east of Leveghat. Yesterday a thick haze interfered with air work until the evening, when many flights took place. Two German airplanes were brought down, and four others driven down out of control. One German observation balloon was brought down in flames. One of our airplanes is missing.

PATROL ENCOUNTERS.

LONDON, July 22. Patrol encounters resulted in our favor last night northwest of St. Quentin. South of Lens we advanced our line slightly. Southeast of Monchy Le Preux hostile artillery was active during the night, and in the neighborhood of Lens and Arras, the British were near the coast.

BRITISH RAIDS.

LONDON, July 21. Local successes were gained by the British last night at several points. It is announced officially. The statement follows: We raided the enemy trenches last night at Greenland Hill, north of Roux. The hostile garrison hurriedly withdrew on the approach of our troops. Successful raids were made by us southwest of LaBasse and south of Arras. German positions were entered on a wide front, a number of the enemy were killed and dugouts were bombarded. Hostile raiding parties were repulsed north of Arras and south of Arras.

FINLAND TROUBLESOME.

HELSINGFORS, July 21. A conflict with Russia is regarded as inevitable because of the action of the Finnish Diet in adopting a bill granting independence to Finland. The Socialist members of Parliament assert, however, that Petrograd has its hands too full with its own troubles to attempt repression. The Diet rejected by 104 against 87 a proposal by M. Tabas, member of the young Finnish party, that the law as prescribed by the constitution be submitted for Russia's approval. A final vote was taken on a resolution of M. Hemberg, member of the Swedish party, the import of which was that the Diet reserved the right to break the last bonds with Russia. The Hemberg resolution was defeated chiefly by the vote of the Socialists themselves, who stand for this policy, but object to following the initiative of the non-socialist party.

GERMAN ATTACKS.

PARIS, July 22. German attacks with fresh troops on Verdun and on the Aisne were broken by the French who inflicted heavy losses.

REPRISALS.

LONDON, July 22. Samuel, M.P. announced in Parliament yesterday that the British Government intends to adopt a policy of reprisal for German air raids.

REICHSTAG ADJOURNS.

COPENHAGEN, July 21. The Reichstag adjourned yesterday until September 26th, says a despatch from Berlin.

AUSTRIAN SUCCESS.

VIENNA, July 22. The Austrians claim another height at Nivica, and report that the Russians were driven across Lemnica. The advance to Lemnica-Tarnopol railway near Brzezany and Augustowa Czerwik and Nestova. Russians resisted fiercely.

BRITISH SEIZURE OF GERMAN SHIPS DENOUNCED.

COPENHAGEN, July 21. The British seizure of German ships was denounced as a brutal assault on defenceless merchantmen, and a profitable act by Dr. Kreege, Director of the Judicial Department of the German Foreign Office, in replying to a question in the Reichstag. Dr. Kreege added that Germany had urged Holland to demand an apology for this unheard of violation in Dutch waters and a precise assurance that it would not recur. Dr. Kreege said that Germany was entitled to and would expect immediate restoration of the captured ships and compensation for the cargo of those sunk, and also for the wounded seamen and their dependents. Holland, he said, had already expressed regret at the occurrence and declared it would demand the fullest satisfaction. Holland further promised that the Dutch fleet would do its utmost to prevent a repetition, and replying to German representations said it was prepared to employ the utmost energy to obtain satisfaction of the German demand. The German Government, Dr. Kreege said, was confident Holland would act accordingly.

KERENSKY'S CRITICISM.

PETROGRAD, July 21. The Cabinet meeting leading to the announced resignation of Premier Lvoff sat until dawn yesterday, and was somewhat stormy. Krensky criticized the Ministry and Military authorities for not rising to recent events and for not using their powers to suppress the mutiny. Krensky was particularly severe towards General Polovtsov, Governor of the Petrograd military district, whom he had proposed to remove from the Petrograd command, but reconsidered the decision after the Ministers had assumed the responsibility of changing the original orders of General Polovtsov, which they considered were fraught with danger. It was made clear that General Polovtsov's hands were tied.

SIAM AT WAR.

LONDON, July 22. Siam has declared that a state of war exists with Germany and Austria. Nine steamers with an aggregation of 19,000 tons, have been seized.

LYDD GEORGE PAYS TRIBUTE.

LONDON, July 22. Speaking at a Belgian Independence Day celebration, Premier Lloyd George paid a glowing tribute to the Belgian nation. The world will never forget, he said, the service rendered by Belgium to international rights. After referring to the concentrated fury of the Germans in Belgium he added: Three years even of agony are not long in the life of a nation, and the delivery of Belgium is assuredly coming. But when it comes that deliverance must be complete. France owes it, Britain owes it, all Europe owes it to Belgium that her deliverance will be complete when it comes. Dealing subsequently with the shipping problem the Premier said, This year we shall turn out four times as many ships as last year. In the last two months of this year we shall turn out as many ships as we did during the whole twelve months last year, and next year we shall turn out in comparison to last year six times as many.

At the Crescent.

The Crescent Picture Palace presents a three reel Broadway Star feature to-day entitled: "Anselo Lee," a touching story of gypsy life and love staged and acted in the best Vitagraph way. The favourite Mary Pickford is presented in a great Biograph-Pickford subject: "The Italian Barber," and G. M. Anderson features in a fine Panamay Comedy drama: "Too Much Turkey." Madame Olive Timmons sings a grand ballad: "Somebody loves you dear," and Professor McCarthy is playing a special musical programme for this great all-feature show; don't miss seeing it.

Your Boys and Girls.

One of the most important facts to remember when feeding infants, with cows milk is the very large proportion of water which is found in normal human milk. For it teaches us that it is a highly diluted food by which the best results can be obtained in infant feeding. It also explains to us how careful we should be not to overtax the comparatively slight power for absorbing a concentrated food which exists in the early months of life.

McMurdo's Store News

MONDAY, July 23, 1917.

We rarely give details of the remarkable results which people "with every evidence of veracity tell us which have been produced by Zylex in these daily notes of our wares. Some of them would sound exaggerated in a column in which we have always aimed at under rather than overstatement. But it is largely these stories which go round from one mouth to another which have contributed to make this ointment one of the largest sellers we have. In skin diseases we would say that no one need despair of a cure till after Zylex has been tried and failed. Price 50c. a box.

Bond the Only Man.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—Permit me to endorse the sentiments expressed by your correspondent "Freedom" in your issue of July 17th. If we as a people permit this nefarious arrangement between Messrs. Morris and Coaker to go unchallenged we are, unworthily the privilege we have so long enjoyed; that of governing ourselves. The Russian people have just broken the chains which so long have bound them, and if we read the signs correctly Russia will soon be enjoying the most advanced form of political freedom the world has yet known.

Are we to take up, and bind ourselves with, the discarded chains of the Russians? It seems strange that just as that people are about to enter on a new-found freedom, we, who have so long been boastful of our liberty, should permit ourselves to be robbed of that privilege by a set of political adventurers. As your able correspondent points out, if there were patriotic need for this so-called national ministry we should agree in grateful silence, even though it were on all other counts, most distasteful to us. But there is no need. Furthermore the coalition is plainly a dishonest and reprehensible arrangement between two dishonest parties whereby they agree to share the spoils of office rather than run the risk of losing all by fighting over them.

There is a menace, sinister in all its aspects in this political juggling, (it is nothing else), let us not be deceived about this, but be on our guard. When individuals like Messrs. Morris and Coaker agree to stable horses or hitch up together in double harness, the motive cannot be an honorable one. These men have nothing in common, they are intellectually as wide apart as the poles, the aspirations after power, are the only marks of similarity between them.

Mr. Coaker has lately found out what Sir Edward has known a long time, how easy it is to gull the crowd, but they have both to learn that "you cannot fool all the people all the time." The mass of the intelligence of this country when once aroused shall sweep both those knaves as with a tidal wave into oblivion.

We are heartily sick of Sir Edward, and as for Mr. Coaker, well he has always been a nauseating dose, anyway. A compounding of the two does not make matters any better. By doubling it they but increase the disgust the people feel.

One good thing, however, has been accomplished by the fusion of the two elements and for that let us be truly grateful. It has aroused the country from its lethargy as perhaps nothing else could. People see now with wide open eyes the characters of the men who have forced themselves upon their good nature. A storm of indignation is brewing that is to cause more than a flutter in this new-style political dove-cot.

There is now a clear-cut issue between the people and the set of political buccaneers, and who for a moment can doubt the verdict which the people shall soon demand a chance to render?

As your correspondent "Freedom" suggests, there is one man in whom the country has faith and in whom they see the one and only leader to take us out of this political slough—Sir Robert Bond.

The country is ready to acclaim him leader and to follow him to victory, such a victory too as this country has never witnessed.

Next After New York.

With reference to a story entitled "America Over All," which I recently published on this page, a reader sends me a companion anecdote of a Glasgow man in New York who was cracking up his native city as a model of municipal enterprise.

This fact, he maintained, was admitted generally by all other cities the world over; and in proof of his assertion he offered to bet that he would address a letter to a friend in Glasgow, simply putting on the envelope his friend's name and the street, with the addition of the words, "Greatest Municipality on Earth," and the letter would be duly delivered in Glasgow.

The wager was accepted, the letter was posted, and in due course it did actually reach its destination. But the New York Post Office officials had endorsed the envelope as follows: "Adresse not known in New York—Try Glasgow, Scotland."—Pearsons' Weekly.

Everyday Etiquette.

"What shall a man do when he receives an announcement card from a girl who has just been married?" asked Jimmie.

"He should call upon the bride within two weeks after receiving notice of the wedding. If she resides in a distant city, he should send her either a brief note of congratulation or send his visiting card on which is written the words, "Sincere Good Wishes," said his father.
