SLAYER CAPELLI SOUGHT TO DIE

He Swallowed Cigars and Match Heads Before Learning of Reprieve.

Toronto, Nov. 12.-Handcuffed and confronted with long years of imprisonment in the penitentiary at Kingston, but light-hearted and elated at having by the narrowest margin missed the hangman's rope, Frank Capelli, the Parry Sound murderer, was brought to Toronto yesterday. He arrived in the custody of Deputy Sheriff J. E. Armstrong, of Parry Sound, and a constable at 3 o'clock, and was driven to the Court street police station. There he spent the night, and at 9 o'clock this morning was taken on to Kingston,

Capelli used to live in Toronto. He worked here for three months a couple of years ago, being employed as a laborer by various contractors, and then went away to the railroad construction camps. He came back to the city yesterday on his way to the penitentiary in the good spirits of a man en route to a festival. It because he was so near the gal-

Capelli Is a Little Man.

Capelli, convicted and condemned or murder, is a little bit of a man, a pigmy, and he is only 25 years old. He has a shock of jet-black hair which curls away from a pink-andbrown face adorned with a little twisted mustache, of which he is obviously proud, and which he caresses. He doesn't believe himself guilty of murder, and he has written ome to his mother, whom he left seven years ago in Italy. His father is dead. He has two brothers up in Port Arthur, and it was the brothers who furnished much of the money for Able To Laugh.

When Capelli found himself in the ourt street station one friend was there waiting for him. This one friend was Michael Basso, interpreter, he man to whom all his expatriated countrymen go with their trouble, When Capelli saw Mr. Basso he hailed im joyfully and lifted up his manacled hands. The officers unlocked he handcuffs and took them off. Basso and Capelli shook hands. Basso, be it said, believes in the innocence of Capelli.

The New Scale Williams are masterpieces of architectural beauty. They are ornaments to every home. They lend an elegance, a refinement, that nothing else can fill. They are made in all woods and colors to harmonize with the drawing-room, parlor, den and hall.

The veneers for the New Scale Williams Pianos are of every fine kind of wood-principally MAHOGANY from Spain, Brazil and the West Indies-WALNUT, from France and the Circassus-QUARTERED

OAK AND SATINWOODS from the southlands. There are four veneers on the case—two inside and two outside. They are cross banded—that is, the grain of each veneer runs in a different direction from the one next to it—thus adding strength.

The New Scale Williams Piano is made of five thicknesses of hardwood. All woods used in the New Scale Williams in case as well as action are seasoned for three years after reaching Oshawa. Then they are perfectly dry-can never swell or shrink-and wear like iron. Every New Scale Williams receives seven coats of varnish. Each is allowed to sink in the wood and dry, before the next is put on. This gives the brilliant, lasting finish that is so admired. The sympathetic touch—the magnificent toue—the sweetness and volume of the New Scale Williams are fully in keeping with its exquisite
