WILL INVESTIGATE STORY

Crown-Attorney Orders Inquiry Into Disposal of Stolen Wheels.

Crown Attorney J. B. McKillop yesterday ordered an investigation into the story told by James Mitchell, the lad who recently developed a mania for stealing bicycles.

Mitchell stated in court that of the eight wheels he stole four of them were sold to the one man for a comparatively paltry sum. Mr. McKillop was of the opinion that a man who conducted such a business should be asked to explain what he knew about the bicycles and why he bought them.

The seven stolen wheels now at the police station will be returned to their former owners.

Indorse Provisions of New Workmen's Compensation Act

Trades and Labor Council Discuss New Bill—James Hussey Is President.

Believing that while Sir William Meredith's workmen's compensation act, which comes up at the next session of the Ontario Legislature, is not exactly what organized labor wants, it is nevertheless in line with the most modern conception of workmen's compensation, the Trades and Labor Council of this city, at a largely-attended meeting Wednesday night unanimously indorsed its provisions.

A copy of the resolution will be sent to every member of the Legislature, including the cabinet ministers, by each of the local unions, as well as any individual members who care to do so.

Explains New Law.

Fred Bancroft, of Toronto, vice-president of the Trades and Labor Council of Canada, was present at the meeting, and explained the provisions of the act as drafted. "It wipes out contributory negligence as a defence in legal actions for compensation for injuries received by workmen in the performance of their duties," he said.

"It also wipes out the assumption of risk by the workingman, and the common law defences of the employer, and substitutes a collective system of insurance administered by crown commissioners for injuries received out of course of employment without litigation. It also provides pensions for widows and children automatically, when the husband and father is killed at his employment."

Assessment System.

"The compensation fund is built up," Mr. Bancroft continued, "by an assessment on the yearly wage roll of the employers, grouped into classes. The commissioner has extended the individual liability of employers, who do not come under the collective system, by wiping out the common law defences. It is in line with the best conception of workmen's compensation.

"The present law in Ontario, as employers' liability, is not workmen's compensation. During the investigation of the commissioners, no one attempted to defend the present inadequate and unjust law. Everyone conceded that it was time for a change, and the present recommendations are the outcome of one of the most complete investigations that has ever been made into the whole question.

"Labor men in Ontario are going to use every effort to have the draft act passed intact at the next session of the Legislature," Mr. Bancroft concluded.

Passed Resolution.

A resolution, passed at the meeting, urging the members of the board of control and the council to use every effort to prevent the Grobb bylaw being railroaded through, after being defeated by the people by however small a majority.

Election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows: President, James Hussey; vice-president, Walter Higgins; recording secretary, Joseph Hill; corresponding secretary, Ernest Ingles; financial secretary, Charles Hollins; treasurer, Walter Francisco; representatives on Western Fair board, J. C. Mottashed and Harry Bastla; manufacturers' committee, Charles Hodgins; organizer for American Federation of Labor, J. A. Jacobs.

FIRST LIBERAL EUCHRE

Club Plans to Make This Year a Record-Breaker.

Liberals, young and old, to the number of 100, attended the first euchre evening of 1914 of the Liberal Club Wednesday night in Hyman Hall.

Similar events in the past have met with success, but this year the club plan to provide events of unusual interest at each meeting, with the idea of obtaining an increased membership in the near future.

Arrangements have been completed for the commencement of the tournament on Wednesday, Jan. 21, when playing will be begun in earnest, and some exciting contests staged. The club possesses some of the most expert euchre players in London, and when these gentlemen meet there will undoubtedly be "some euchre." Entries already number over 80.

The prize last evening was won by A. E. Galbraith.

LOOK UP COINERS RECORD

CANADA TO BOYCOTT AMERICAN POTATOES

Government Decides To Forbid Importation—An Act of Retaliation.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Jan. 7.—An embargo is to be put upon American potatoes and their admission to Canada forbidden by the Government.

A few weeks ago the United States placed an embargo against Canadian potatoes on the ground that disease, particularly powdery scab, prevailed in New Brunswick potato fields. It is claimed that the real reason for the embargo is not to preserve the health of American fields but to restore to the potato growers of Maine the commercial protection which was taken from them when potatoes were put on the free list under the Wilson tariff.

The Canadian Government thinks that the Americans are treating our potatoes in the same way that Britain is treating Canadian cattle.

Two Reasons Given.

An embargo is to be put on American potatoes for two reasons. In the first place it will show Canada's resentment, as was the case when the German surtax was imposed. In the next place it will keep American potatoes out of Ontario, Quebec and the Middle West, where they have been going in large quantities this year, owing to the crop shortage.

Besides, it is thought that barring out American potatoes will improve the market for New Brunswick potatoes and enable the farmers of that province to dispose of the balance of their very large crop.

It is claimed that there is more potato disease on the American than on the Canadian side of the line, and this will be the official reason for the Canadian embargo.

INFLATED TIRES SAVED FOUR BOYS

But One Was Drowned When Trying to Skate Over Thin Ice.

[Canadian Press.]

Hartford, Conn., Jan. 8.—Five boys late yesterday on Park River came to a thin strip of ice and Charles Malloy, fourteen years of age, who was in the lead, called to the four others: "Come on, fellows. If we skate fast, we can get over."

The next instant the five boys were in the water. Their cries brought workmen from the plant of the Hartford Rubber Works. The workmen threw inflated automobile tires to the boys. Four of them seized tires and were saved. Malloy was drowned.

MYSTERY MARKS DEATH

"to call at 499 Ottaway avenue, at once. On arriving at the house I found the girl dead. Death had resulted some time previous, for the remains were cold.

"Being unable to determine the cause of death, I immediately 'phoned Coroner Ferguson.

Letter From "Bob."

"There were two letters in her pocket. They had been written to her from London, and were addressed to her in care of the postoffice in Middlemiss. One was from her landlady on Maple street, asking that she remove her trunk. The other was signed "Bob," and presumably from a sweetheart.

Dr. McWilliam declared the girl was probably a mulatto, although from information received at the house, he had learned that she called herself French.

Coroner Ferguson stated that he had been called to the house by Dr. McWilliam, and that he had found the girl had expired some time previously.

Ate Hearty Meal.

"From the meagre information I could gather yesterday, I learned that the girl had gone to the house at 499 Ottaway avenue about 10 o'clock in the morning. She had been requested to remain for dinner, and had eaten a hearty meal. Afterwards she had taken a glass of water. Soon after, it is alleged, she became ill, and swooned.

"In alarm, Mrs. McDermid called a neighbor, John C. Beattie, of 497 Ottaway avenue. The girl became steadily worse, and Dr. McWilliam was sent for. When he arrived death had resulted.

"I was told that she roomed in a house on Maple street, and later learned that she had been living with Mrs. E. Taber, of No. 109. It was also stated that her foster parents, Campbell by name, resided near Middlemiss, and that she had been visiting them during the Christmas holidays.

Employed at Perrin's.

"Previous to her vacation, she had been employed as a candy dipper in Perrin's. No person seems to be intimately acquainted with her, and details are very meagre. I would judge that she would be about 23 years of age. She was very dark, with straight, black hair. Her features were similar to those of an Indian, although she may have been a mulatto. She was well dressed."

Knew Little of Girl.

Mrs. E. Taber, of 109 Maple street, landlady of the rooming house where the girl roomed for five weeks under the name of Abela Weeks, stated to The Advertiser Wednesday night that she knew little of the girl.

"Ten weeks ago," she said, "the girl came here, and asked for a room. I gave her one, and she had her trunk sent a few days later. She stayed with me until a month ago, when she went home to spend the holidays with her parents in Middlemiss. The girl never had a young man call on her while at my place, but she received a couple of letters.

Movements Mysterious.

"She was very quiet, and when not working stayed in the house most of the time, but seemed to have something mysterious in connection with her movements. Tuesday night she came here, in response to a letter I sent, asking her to move her trunk as I had a party wishing the room. She stated Tuesday night that she had a position on Horton street, but would not say with whom."

Mrs. Taber said that from a letter she understood the girl's father was John Campbell, of Middlemiss, Ont.
