

SAW SHIP'S GUNS
RIDDLE ICEBERGS

Ilderton Couple Also Saw German Spy Arrested in England.

HAD INTERESTING TRIP

C. P. R. Steamer Shoots Her Guns at Big Bergs Near Port.

Travelling for his health on his doctor's advice, Thomas Dodd, of Ilderton, arrived in Glasgow, Scotland, from New York, to learn that England and Germany had declared mutual war on that very day. Mr. Dodd, who was accompanied by his wife, visited a number of places in England, including London and Harrogate, the latter place being his native town.

Everywhere they journeyed in Great Britain, Mr. and Mrs. Dodd saw evidence of systematic preparation for the struggle. Open spaces in London were used as drill grounds, and recruiting was being carried on with a briskness that convinced the travellers that the British people were taking the situation seriously.

Saw Spy Arrested. Just outside Tynemouth, they witnessed the arrest of a German spy, a former employee of the Northumberland County Council, who was found to have plans in his possession showing the conditions between the coast and Newcastle-on-Tyne. After his arrest, the authorities, as a measure of precaution, cut down the trees and hedges on this section of the country and constructed barbed wire entanglements all along the coast.

Shot Up Icebergs. Mr. and Mrs. Dodd returned by way of Liverpool and Montreal on board the C. P. R. steamship Lake Manitoba. The ship, Mr. Dodd said, carried four 6-inch guns with a complement of blue-jackets to serve them as well as a good supply of rifles and revolvers. Nearing the Canadian coast two shots were fired from the 6-inch guns at an iceberg about two miles distant, each taking effect and throwing ice and water into the air to a considerable height.

CONVICTIONS INCREASE

279 More Recorded in Police Court This Year Than Last.

Police give the increase in the city's population as the cause of an increase of 279 convictions made in the police court for the year ending September 30 over the corresponding period last year.

Police court statistics show that 1,577 persons were given jail terms or paid fines for a variety of offences. Of this number 179 were indictable offences, an increase of 29 over last year's list.

Theft cases were by far the most numerous, numbering 122. There were two attempts at murder, two cases of abduction, and one man was convicted of an attempt to shoot with criminal intent.

Common assaults were only two in number. Valentine Phillips and John Sutherland, the two young men who were convicted of making and passing counterfeit 50-cent pieces in January, were each given two years and six months in Kingston penitentiary. This was the longest sentence which Magistrate Judd imposed during the year.

Roy Singer, who was given a large sum of money to change for a bartender in the Bank Hotel, was charged with vagrancy and was sentenced to a term of one year at Kingston.

No record is kept of non-indictable offenses by the authorities, but John Moule, the clerk, declares that drunks are probably three times more numerous in police court than are others charged with petty offenses.

Vagrancy comes next, then breaches of the Lord's Day act and cruelty to animals.

The statistics involve an immense amount of clerical work on the part of Mr. Moule and his stenographer. The records will be forwarded to Toronto this week, to be kept on file there.

FEDERAL SQUARE INQUIRY

Government Wants to Know What It Is to Get for $50,000.

First Government recognition for the city's request for the $50,000 federal appropriation for the federal square scheme came through today when a request was submitted to the board of control for information.

The public works department, Ottawa, wrote asking for a description of the property that is to be turned over to the Government for the said $50,000. The request was sent on to the city solicitor for reply.

CLARK—SELLERS.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Shambelan, at the Armories, on Wednesday evening, the marriage of Jennie Sellers, of this city, and Enoch Clark, of Walton, was solemnized by Rev. A. J. Thomas, of Dundas Centre Methodist Church. The ceremony was performed in the presence of the immediate relatives.

THINK HARD.

It Pays to Think About Food. The unthinking life some people lead often causes trouble and sickness, illustrated in the experience of this lady.

"About four years ago I suffered dreadfully from indigestion, always having eaten whatever I liked, not thinking of the digestible qualities. This indigestion caused palpitation of the heart so badly I could scarcely walk up a flight of stairs without stopping to regain breath and strength."

"I became alarmed and tried dieting, wore my clothes very loose, and used other remedies, but found no relief."

"Hearing of the virtues of Grape-Nuts and Postum, I commenced using them in place of my usual breakfast of coffee, cakes or hot biscuits, and in one week's time I was relieved of sour stomach and other ills attending indigestion. In a month's time my heart was performing its functions naturally, and I could climb stairs and hills and walk long distances."

"I gained ten pounds in this short time, and my skin became clear, and I completely regained my health and strength. I continue to use Grape-Nuts and Postum, for I feel that I owe my good health entirely to their use."

"I like the delicious flavor of Grape-Nuts, and by making Postum according to directions, it tastes similar to mild high-grade coffee." Name given by Canadian Postum Company, Windsor, Ont.

"The most perfect food in the world. Trial of Grape-Nuts and cream, ten days proves 'there's a Reason.' Look in packages for the little book, 'The Road to Wellville.'"

"Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest."

WAS CENTENARIAN AND PIONEER OF LONDON

Mrs. Margaret Murdoch, Who Died Today, Came to City in 1834.

One of London's pioneers, and a centenarian, Mrs. Margaret Murdoch, died in this city at 1:30 o'clock this morning. Mrs. Murdoch, who was well known in the city, was born in Aberdeen, Scotland, on June 29, 1814. She came to Canada in 1834, and lived with her sister, the late Mrs. J. Cruikshank, of this city, until her marriage to James Murdoch five years later, in the first Catholic chapel built in London. She was married by Father Mills.

After her marriage she moved to Ingersoll, where her husband died 23 years ago. After his death she continued to live on the family homestead with her daughter, Mrs. W. A. Woolson, until recently, when she moved to London, where she spent her early youth.

The only sacrifice of mass was first celebrated in Ingersoll in the Murdoch home some 75 years ago. Mrs. Murdoch has seen six generations of her husband's family.

Since her return to London she had resided with her daughter, Miss Helen Murdoch, 717 Waterloo street, where her death took place. Of her family of eight children, five are still living, together with nineteen grandchildren, and sixteen great-grandchildren.

The surviving children are, the Misses Sarah and Helen, of this city; Mrs. M. McCarthy, Grand Rapids; Mrs. W. A. Woolson, Ingersoll, and John, of Bothwell. Mrs. J. F. Nolan, of this city, is a grand-daughter.

The remains of Mrs. Murdoch will be forwarded to Ingersoll at Sunday noon, the funeral taking place from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Woolson, on Monday morning. Requiem high mass will be celebrated in the Church of the Sacred Heart at 8:30. Interment will be made in the Catholic Cemetery, Ingersoll.

WHAT'S WHAT IN MILITARY CIRCLES

FIELD AMBULANCE STRENGTHENING

The Fifteenth Field Ambulance of the Army Medical Corps is rapidly recruiting up to war strength in preparation for the second contingent. Drills are held every Wednesday at the Armories at 8 p.m. The drill is followed by lectures at the A. M. C. headquarters, 235 King street.

RIVALRY FOR PLACES.

The keenest rivalry for places on the A. M. C. detachment, called for duty with the first contingent, was exhibited at the A. M. C. headquarters last night. The task of Major E. G. Davis in making the selection was a hard one.

LETTERS FROM FRANCE.

City Engineer W. N. Ashplant, who has friends in the Coldstream Guards, now fighting in France, received letters today from them, in which they place great emphasis on the fine care and attention the British soldiers get in France. They say that Britishers everywhere are accorded the greatest respect and attention at the hands of the Belgians and French populace, and even the French forces of the allies, other than British, give them the greatest reverence.

Mr. Ashplant, who is a lieutenant with the Seventh Fusiliers, has sent in his name to the headquarters to become a pupil in the practical school in which officers are shortly to receive instruction.

CONGRATULATING MARKSMEN.

Color-Sergeant Holmes, who won the highest score in the Thanksgiving Day shooting matches, is receiving the congratulations of numerous friends outside the city. Color-Sergeant Lee, who walked off with the Rumball cup for the highest score in the grand aggregate, is also being commended.

WHAT THEY WON.

Capt. McLean issued a statement today, showing the prize-winners of the different companies of the Seventh, and what they won. The statement shows that A Company, with nine men, won $47.25, an average of $5.25 for each man; G Company, with eleven men, won $48.50, or an average of $4.41 for each man; D Company, with eight men, won $34.25, or an average of $4.28 for each man; the staff men, with five entered, won $18.75, or an average of $3.75 for each man; C Company, one man, grabbed off one prize of $3; B Company, with three men, won $7.75, or an average of $2.58 for each man; F Company, with seven men, won $12.50, or $1.79 for each man; E Company, with six men, won $10, or $1.66 for each man; and H Company, with three men, won $4.50, or $1.50 for each man. This table will stand as the results of Thanksgiving Day shooting on the ranges.

More Reservists Arrested.

Militia headquarters received word today that eight German and Austrian reservists were taken into custody at Toronto, and will be sent to Kingston tomorrow. They were about to sneak over the border when Canadian officials arrested them. Sarnia, about twice as large as London, has been able to intercept these reservists, who are on their way to the States to try and book passage to Europe.

Militia headquarters announced today that Levi Harding has commenced his duties as caretaker of the Wingham armories, taking up the work on Thursday. Staff-Sergeant McDonnell, of the ordnance corps, have been transferred to Ottawa for temporary duty.

Officers Unworried.

Military officers have been receiving numerous inquiries of late as to the reports that large bodies of men were drilling in Buffalo, Cleveland and Detroit. While there does not seem to be the slightest ground for such rumors to get about, there are a considerable number of people, especially women, who believe them to be true. Officially there is no concern over what these civilians may do in the States, and as one officer put it today: "It costs money to make war, and invaders need supplies and feed and ammunition, and more than anything else they need someone with brains for a leader, all of which does not seem to be connected with these stories one hears from the other side."

E. T. White, Speaking at the Teachers' Convention, Says It Should Be Citizenship Preparation.

East Middlesex teachers had another successful meeting this morning, the county council chambers being crowded. A large sum of money was voted to the national patriotic fund.

The first address was given by E. T. White on "The Teaching of History." Mr. White declared that history should be taught as a preparation for citizenship. He believed that it should be put on the entrance exams, and that the teachers should endeavor to make the subject as interesting as possible.

"History appeals to the emotions as well as to the intellect," said Mr. White. "It inspires the children to take more interest in their country and what it has accomplished in the past."

Mr. White advised the teachers to picture in teaching the subject, wherever possible, to read more biographies and study exhaustively the critical periods in our country's history. "Improvement of School Grounds" and "The Ideal School" were discussed by Miss Agnes Bannerman, who declared that in the ideal school the teacher should be a leader in the play of the pupils and that the ventilation should be well looked after. The children should be taught to think for themselves and that no partially should be shown to any scholar.

Miss Nellie Auckland spoke briefly on "The Teaching of Literature," stating that fairy stories should be told to the younger children and historical tales to the older pupils.

The afternoon session ended the session for this year. Miss Florence Wilson spoke on "The Teaching of Composition to the Elementary Grades," and Gilbert Windsor on "Teaching Advanced Grades."
