STORY OF THE ACCIDENT

[Special to The Advertiser.]

TORONTO, July 7.—Plunging down the steep, curved electric statements from Rome, however, declare, running wild of all control, a Niagara Falls and Victoria Park Railway car, crowded with Sunday School picnickers from To- on the Carnic plateau, where the proronto, jumped the tracks just above the village of Queenston at stant." 7 o'clock tonight. The car swerved on the embankment, careened over on its side and plowed into the ground below. Fifteen of its passengers were killed outright or died of their injuries and Austrian submarine. Most of the crew over fifty were injured.

CAR PACKED WITH PEOPLE.

The tragic accident occurred upon the historic grounds of the battle of Queenston Heights. The car, which was literally packed with excursionists standing between the seats and even hanging on behind, swayed madly round two of the curves on the steep incline, swept past the switch and plunged from the tracks 100 feet from the base of the heights. The motorman, Sidney Boyd, lost control of the car through the brakes failing to respond a considerable distance above the village. The car immediately began to gain a terrible momentum. The screams and cries of the terri- Oats Go Up To $1.82 and fied passengers attracted the stupefied attention of those above and
