undings, and the name only goes to show e attachment of the early settlers to the see of their nativity. It is surrounded by a se agricultural and fruit country, among ped. The village dates back to the building of the G.W railway in 1854. Ever sino- its of the G.W ralway in 1854. Ever since its growth has been gradual, but substantial, until there is now a population, according to the assessment roll, of 1021 and a total assessment of $204,250. The village is mostly built of a cream-colored brick, and has a prepossessing appearance. The registry office for West Middlesex is located brick. Among the local institutions are an organized fire company and fire engine, the band of the 26th Bart, the buildings and grounds of SECOND REWARDS.

building of 4 rooms, 2 stretes high and surmounted by a bell tower. It is well designed, and has the Smead-Dowd system of heating and yentilating. It opened in January with 72 pupils and the pr sent attendance is 104. A young and energetic staff of 3 teachers all specialists, is employed. Such phenomenal success must be very gratifying, and other boards might take a lesson. In addition to a fine building and the best teachers, a laboratory has been supplied, a model in every way, tully equipped for the study of chemistry, biology and physics, with simple room and apparatus for students to perform their own experiments. On this and reference library $600 have already seen spent. The library contains the Encyclopes dia Britannica and many other choice books of a ference. The school is doing as much senior work as many Collegiate Institutes, and has jumped to the first-rank among the three-master schools. G. D. Wilson B.A., hence graduate of Toronto University, is head-master, taking classics and English. A. McLutvre, First B., taked mathematics and science, and Miss L., Cloney, honor undergraduate of Toronto University, modern languages. The beard of trustees is composed of the following: Rev. D. Currie, B.A., B.D., chairman; Geo. M. Harrison secretary; W. G. Lamley, M.D. S. G. Walker, Alex. Struats, and Eigha Adams.

The Public School is also a 4 roomed handsome white brick building, with 3 teachers and one to be addded. The average attendance is 180. It is one of the factors in the brilliant success of the High School. Ed. Hinde is head-master. The churches are three in number and consist of the Presbyterian is a splendid building recently erected at a cost of $12,000. Rev. D. Currie, B.A., B.D., is pastor. Rev. Mr. Lowe is pastor of the English Church and Rev. Mr. Butt of the Methodist. The history of Presbyterianism dates back to 1830, when some families, principally from Argyleshue, Scotland, settled in the township. The press haits representative, in The Transcript, a neatly printed 8 page area of five agri ed, but at a point backed by such a large area of fine agricultural country there are others which would doubtless flurish if established. In this connection it might be intaked that there is a fine large 2 story brick building, built and equipped for a foundry, vacast, and which the village is interested in seeing occupied. Satisfactory arrangements bould no doubt be made with any widing to start seriously in it. Full particulars can be obtained by addressing the Reeve, Lasac Bathburn.
