DICKENS NEW WORK .- We have received this week from the Office of the New York he year 1-42, said Reat E-tate being in the running. New World. Dicken's 'American Notes Parish of Grand Manan, for General circulation,' a work for the publication of which a good deal of anxiety has prevailed on both sides of the Atlantic. Dickens as an author is too well known to but we have a word to say upon the American republication of his work. After the appearance of the Book in New York, only a presence of the Book in New York, only a presence of the Book in New York, only a presence of the Book in New York, only a presence of the Book in New York, only a presence of the Book, and that we consider the size of the Book, and that two hours and a nalf were enemployed on account of an accident, we cannot avoid feeling surprised at the tacility with which the SIDNEY BANCROFT.

Thousands of copies were sold before an edition of the work, appeared from any other Office. But what particularly recommends this publication, and indeed all others from the same Press, is cheapness. The price of a Number containing forty-six closely printed octavo pages is 7 1-2d the first cost in England of the same work, would be from five to seven dollars.

We need say nothing further as an induce ment to patronize the New World. The fact, that through this medium we can procure twenty five books for the price of one, is in itself a volume .- (See Advertisements.)
