

CHAPTER 3BENEFITS UNDER THE LEGISLATION OF CYPRUSArticle XIII

1. (a) If a person is not entitled to an old age pension, invalidity pension, widow's pension or orphan's benefit solely on the basis of the creditable periods under the legislation of Cyprus, but is entitled to that benefit through the totalizing of creditable periods as provided in this Agreement, the competent institution of Cyprus shall calculate the amount of the supplementary benefit in conformity with the provisions of the legislation of Cyprus, exclusively on the basis of the periods creditable under that legislation.
- (b) The amount of basic benefit payable under the provisions of this Agreement shall, in this case, be determined as follows:
 - (i) the competent institution of Cyprus shall calculate the theoretical benefit that would be payable if the creditable periods completed under the legislation of both Parties, totalized as provided in Chapter 1 of this Part, had been completed under the legislation of Cyprus alone;
 - (ii) it shall then prorate the theoretical benefit so calculated by the fraction which represents the ratio of the periods creditable under the legislation of Cyprus in relation to the total of those periods and the periods creditable under the legislation of Canada.
