

If there is substantial acceptance of the recommendations of the Intergovernmental Committee of the World Food Programme on which our position is based and depending on the degree of financial support indicated by other member countries, Canada is prepared to provide up to 27.5 million U.S. dollars in commodities and cash for the three year period from 1966 to 1968. This is more than a four-fold increase over our initial contribution to the World Food Programme.