Successful Suits in Our Ready-to-wear Section

The results of even the best efforts of the custom tailor are always in doubt. If you give him explicit directions you perhaps find them too literally carried out. If you give him none your taste is not shown in the cut and hang of your suit.

In the Ready-to-Wear Department you can select the suit that pleases you, and see that it is correct to your taste as to your measure. Length, fullness, etc., are always those proper for the season, and you will at once recognize their perfect taste and handsome lines.
