LABOR DISPLAYED ITS STRENGTH AT HAMILTON

marching delegations. One fashioned to represent a stall carried a jersey own in finest condition, heralded as the "best milk-giver in the world."

The "Y.M.C.A. float exhibited" a young man attired in a leopard skin, who exhibited his wealth of muscle all along the route.

It required four horses to haul the stone-cutters' float, which bore an immense block of stone, which workmen fashioned as the parade passed along.

The stage employees contributed a model stage on wheels, with curtain and all complete, and showed tableaux both romantic and melodramatic, from time to time. The oldest printer in Hamilton was shown setting up type from a case, and the same float bore an antique press, on which the first issue of The Hamilton Times was printed half a century ago.

Motor-boats races took place in the afternoon at Hamilton Beach, and still another procession ensued when the Hamilton Problem State Choir, 120 strong, arrived by train at 3.30 and proceeded to the Germania Club preceded by the 4th Highlanders Band. The choir gave a concert this evening in the L.O.O.F. Temple.

Feeling for horn-blowing and "tickling" has not diminished in the least, also the percentage of women on the streets has fallen lower than at the first of the week. The night of abandon is expected tomorrow, when three hand concerts will be held simultaneously in the very heart of the city. No program has been announced for the closing evening, but it is probable that before King's Carnival abates there will be little left of his brave kingdom of bunting and gilt. A mighty scramble for souvenirs is certain, and the best souvenirs are always at the most inaccessible places. What is left of the decorations on Sunday morning will be nicely for kindling, but that will be the extent of its usefulness.

C. W. Cartwright of the Centennial Association presided at today's luncheon, when several of the visiting athletes from Boston and New York and tomorrow's athletic meet at the cricket grounds has attracted entries from the most famous clubs on the continent, and promises to be a most interesting affair.

When Friction Arose.

On arriving at the entrance to Britannia Park, the gatekeeper, acting on instructions to the effect that he was not to admit anyone to the grounds without paying, demanded an entrance fee of 10c from each of the union men in the parade, which they indignantly refused to pay. They assembled in Woodlands Park, where a committee was formed to discuss the matter, and it was decided that they should be admitted free after half an hour's debate. The proceedings opened with an address from James W. Watters, president of the Dominion Congress. He said that working men did not get sufficient amusement, but they were promoters of amusement, and they were not able to enjoy it themselves. He considered that Hamilton was a fine city, but he wanted to see more done in strengthening trade unionism and the initiation of more men.

A Labor Stronghold.

In congratulating them on the magnificent parade, he said that trade unions were stronger in Hamilton than in other cities of its population in the province. He was pleased to find that unionism was also in the political field, inasmuch as they had returned to parliament a labor man in the person of Allan Studholme. Labor was relatively to the background once upon a time, unless they recognized the interests of the working class.

Representatives to both parliament and legislature were on hand to insist on the right of the few who are continually endeavoring to monopolize capital, was the earnest appeal of the speaker.

86 Pages of Personal Advice Free to Any Man

MY DEAR READER:

In the handsomely printed little book or private pocket companion for men (containing 8,000 words and 40 half-tone photo-reproductions), which I publish below, I have included certain parts that contain some very important advice or suggestions of a strictly personal nature which, I believe, cannot be found in any of the Private Hygiene books for men that are now sold at high prices all over the country. It will thus be seen I have endeavored to make a really useful and valuable book, to give my readers absolutely free of cost really MORE, in some respects, than others offer and make a large charge for. All you have to do to get this free book of mine is to use the coupon below, or if in my neighborhood, I extend an invitation to you to call at my office. Please remember that this free offer involves absolutely no obligation on your part, and there is nothing whatsoever for you to pay, and nothing to be gained by buying in any way, unless you should decide to buy a book. I have included in this free book of mine a million of these little free books have now been sent to men who have used them, as I want you to do, and who live in all quarters of the globe. I publish this free book in English, Swedish, Danish, Finnish, German, French, and Polish, and always in the English edition, of course, unless otherwise instructed. Kindly fill in the coupon.

SANDEN, AUTHOR.

In reference to manly strength, I believe it is now more generally acknowledged than ever before that the manly mind stands back all that makes for progress, development and achievement in the world, a truth which any of us can easily verify if we but look about us with impartial eyes.

As a matter of fact, the man who is debilitated, unstrung and enervated cannot, for personal or other reasons, expect to approach those real and masterful attainments which seem but a natural and easy accomplishment for him whose nerve force, brain power and manly strength are perfectly normal. Hence, while we acknowledge the debilitated, weakened man to be handicapped in every walk of life where real manhood counts, yet it would indeed be cruel of me to here so state the fact in public print were I not of the honest opinion that there is every hope for the manly man to restore himself to a state of health and vigor, if he but clear his mind of abnormal fear, and then make a fair, square effort to redeem himself. There are two specimens of humanity for which I have no earthly use. One is the man who, though now strong and vital, yet plunges into dissipation and excess with the certain knowledge of his unmanly fate. The other is the man who, though knowingly debilitated and enervated, makes no effort to get away from his life of dissipation and wrong practices. As a matter of fact, there is no hope for either of these unfortunate men, for him who acknowledges his error, who may come to me and say, "I have put myself in my past follies, but I am THROUGH with my life of dissipation, and I am going to make a manly effort to restore myself," to such a man, I care not what his physical condition may be, I can say in all truthfulness, "You, my friend, are on the right road to new strength and new manhood," for he really is, and there is no doubt about it. I make a little appliance that I call a VITALIZER, which I designed to aid for sale, but merely suggest that you reader, take the opportunity to learn all about what this little appliance is doing today everywhere throughout the world, then, if in the future you want to use only yourself and will so write me, I will gladly make some liberal proposition whereby you may have one to try. The VITALIZER is fully described in one section of the free book which the coupon below will entitle you to.

The VITALIZER is made up in a very light form, weighing only several ounces, and you wear it on your body all night. It generates a great, soft, pleasant force which I call VIGOR, and which flows in a continuous stream into your nerves, organs, blood and muscles while you sleep. I am satisfied in my own mind that I have added to a great POWER in this little VITALIZER which in the future will be more and more relied upon all over the world in the treatment of debilities and nerve weaknesses. With special attachments which carry the FORCE of the VITALIZER to any part of the body, it may be used by women as well as men for the treatment of rheumatism, kidney, liver, stomach, bladder disorders, nervousness, lack of energy, etc. Therefore, please send for the book today, or if you happen to live in or near this city, I should be very glad to see you in person. Office hours, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

WHAT THE FREE BOOK TEACHES YOU.

The little free illustrated book of special private information, referred to above, is meant really to be a self guide for all men through the years before and after marriage and onward to a ripe old age. It is written in perfectly plain language, entirely free from technical terms so that any one may easily grasp the full power of its good advice from two or three careful readings. It attempts to point out a safe road to new manhood or new manly strength, and as such is dedicated to mankind generally. One part of this book fully describes my little VITALIZER referred to above.
