and are taking a few prisoners with them.

The Germans are again in Augusto-wo forest, on the East Prussian herder, which has been the burial place of so many German and Russian soldiers. The Germans have brought up new guns, but of a lighter calibre, to bombard Ossowetz.

The battle on the roads from Ghoriele to Przasnysz, along which the Germans hope to reach and pierce the Russian fortress line, continues.

The weather having turned colder, the ground in north Poland has hardened, which will greatly facilitate the movement of troops. This is said to be the first time in history that the weather has favored an army attempting to invade Russia.

Mr. Engiehart is giving a small dinner on the 20th inst. for a few of the wives of the cabinet ministers, at the Queen's Hotel, taking them on to the French play in the Foresters' Hall afterwards, which is being given in aid of the Secours National.

E. Phillips Oppenheim, one of England's most prolific writers, has been turning out the best work of his successful career lately. An indication of this is "The Black Box," a dramatic story sure to hold the reader's attention till the last syllable. This story, which will run serially for several weeks, starts in next Sunday's World. You shouldn't miss a paragraph. It is so good that it has been enacted into moving pictures, contrary to the general rule, where the pictures are made first and the story written around them. There is life and action in every line.

Sunday Magazine Reading

HENRY FORD'S MAN FACTORY

At a recent investigation, Henry Ford said that he could take a prisoner out of a fail and make a man of him. The Sunday World, in a special story, tells just how he is doing this very thing, with an insight into his unusual methods of running a factory. It is by far the most interesting factory story ever written, and, if you are at all interested in factories or Henry Ford, you should read it.

STAMP STICKING-A WAR-TIME SPORT FOR PEACEFUL PEOPLE We'll presently be sticking stamps on all sorts of things. The subject of stamp sticking opens up an amazing range of possibilities. This story looks on the humorous side of it.

It's a long time since any Canadian paper ran such an all-round interesting series of tales as these "Abaft the Funnel" stories of Rudyard Kipling's. They cover a wide range of subjects, and are written in what many consider his best style. KIPLING TELLS TWO FINE TALES

SEEING THE RESURRECTED CHRIST

An article on a remarkable picture by a famous painter, and its bearing on a profoundly significant incident in the Christian tragedy. The Fashion Page which The Sunday World runs every week in its Magazine Section touches on the costume cycle provided by today's attractive modes.

A VARIED LIST OF SUNDAY STORIES

In the five reading-matter sections of The Sunday World will be found articles of widespread interest, touching on every phase of day-to-day activity. Albert Ernest Stafford, in "Crusts and interest, deals, as does Rodney Thomson in a remarkable page carteon-sermon, with "Habits." There is an article on "The Book in the Time of War," a story written by Lady Jellicoe on the Women's Volunteer Reserve Force, an article on the passing of the student fire-ranger, and a wonderful article on a bayonet charge, a most vivid bit of narrative. Altogether there are 200 columns of reading matter in The Sunday World every week, well chosen and well written.

Canadians in Action-Pictures

The big picture feature of The Sunday World this week is the full-page drawing of a thrilling incident in the work of the Canadians at the front—it illustrates how a party out cutting wire entanglements from in front of German trenches were suddenly revealed to the enemy by the fog lifting. Life in the trenches and on the field is profusely pictured in The Sunday World's two Illustrated Sections this coming week. Some of the many war subjects are: "Thirty-four Flying Machines in the Biggest Air Raid of the War," "The Harbor of Constantinople With the Turkish Warships Before They Left," "Australian Troops Marching Thru Crowded Sydney Streets on Their Way to War," "The Kind of Zeppelins Now Being Turned Out," "One of the Latest German Submarines Approaching a Merchantman," "Night Work of Royal Engineers in 'No Man's Land," "An Indian Encampment Along the Banks of the Suez Canal," "French Engineers Boring a Tunnel Under a House to Get at the Trenches Beyond," "Wounded Indians in a Canadian Ambulance," "A Splendid Portrait of Brigadier-General Mercer of Toronto in His New Uniform," "The New British Defence Device," and several other pictures of peculiarly local interest.

THE SUNDAY WORLD IS FOR SALE EVERYWHERE AT FIVE CENTS.
