

a deliberative, the Commons have a deliberative, and the Privy Council have a deliberative.

5. The King hath a negative voice, the Lords a negative, the Commons a negative, and the Council a negative.

6. And yet there are not four deliberatives, or four negatives, but one deliberative, and one negative, frequently exercised against King, Lords, and Commons, by his Majesty's most honourable Privy Council.

7. Further, it is essential to the preservation of his present place, and to his future hopes of preferment, that he conceives just ideas of the origination of money-bills.

8. His interest, then, will ever oblige him to confess that all benevolences, or FREE GIFTS, from the people, constitutionally take their rise in an assembly, neither made or created by, or proceeding from the people.

9. This is the HIBERNIAN COURTIER'S political faith, which, whosoever inviolably adheres to, shall be rewarded with a masked pension for himself, and a fancied ball, without masks, for his wife and daughters.

10. And for all those, who reject the foregoing liberal explanation, there shall be protests, prorogations, partial sheriffs, packed juries, and influenced electors, even until their lives end.

11. As it was in the arbitrary reigns of the House of Stuart, so it shall continue, whilst venality.
