More Speed

More Speed SPEED UP! Speed up! This is the slogan everywhere. In factory and warehouse, in office and store, at work and at play, it is more speed, more speed.

There are orders to be filled, and the goods must be turned out. Help is scarce, so those who are on the job must be speed-

The men at the head are working, yes, and worrying, strenuously. And so it is among the men and women all down the line. They must make more money, and so there are long hours of overtime.

It is this continuous strain that is breaking so many men and women, both mentally and physically. The hours for sleep and recreation are cut short, and so there is little chance for the restoration of the depleted nerve cells. Nerve force is necessary for the healthful working of the heart, the lungs, the stomach and other digestive and eliminating organs of the body. If the nerve force is consumed in mental and physical work, in worry and anxiety and continuous nervous strain, the action of these vital organs must surely lag.

And so it is that you begin to lose appetite and relish for food. The stomach fails to digest the food because the nerve force is lacking that should control the flow of gastric juices. The liver, the kidneys, the bowels lack vigor and strength to perform their necessary functions.

You are driving the human machine too hard. Energy is being consumed more rapidly than it can be replaced. Physical bankruptcy is certain.
