STEAMER MYLES IS SAFE.

Sought shelter in Portage Entry Canal During Storm.

Detroit, Nov. 2.—A dispatch says the Canadian steamer, which was wrecked last Saturday, passed up the Portage Entry Canal (Lake Superior) to-day, having been in the lake for several days. The vessel was in the lake for a good deal of time before she was lost.

Another Kaliyuga Victim.

Port Egin, Nov. 2.—The body of a man, from the wrecked schooner Kaliyuga was found on the breaker here to-day.
The man would be about 40 years of age, 5 feet 7 inches tall, with a dark moustache, and had in his pocket a five-dollar bill and silver dollar, both American money. It was evident death was caused by exposure and not drowning.

Accidents in Canal.

Port Huron, Nov. 2.—All of the sheltered downed boats got away early this morning. Some were detained for over twenty hours in the canal. The steamer Plummer, which broke the tips of two of her blades of her wheel. When passing by the strait, the steamer, which was entering lock 3, struck the gate and broke one of the adjusting screws, which dented her several hours.

An Unlucky Date.

Ottawa, Nov. 2.—The supreme court, after hearing appeals on the Quebec list, will adjourn until Nov.
10, when the Ontario list will be taken up.

Two Room Addition May Be Made—Teachers Who Drive on Side-

Toronto Junction, Nov. 2.—Commencement exercises in connection with Toronto Junction Collegiate Institute will be held on Friday evening, Nov. 17. It is the policy of the board of trustees, led by Mr. J. C. McCormack, chairman of the board, and the speaker of the evening will be the Hon. J. W. St. John.

The regular monthly meeting of the executive committee of the town council will be held to-night, Councilor Armstrong, chairman, presiding. Mayor Smith and Councillor Anderson were appointed to attend the meeting of the railway commissioners at Toronto on Sunday next.

The application of the Toronto and Hamilton Railway Company for an order to the crossing under the G.T.R. Co.'s main line, and the C.P.R., Toronto, Grey and Bruce district, north of St. Clair-avenue, Toronto Junction. The Laidlaw Watson Shoe Co. of Aylmer, in a letter to Councilor Ellis, expressed a desire to locate in Toronto Junction, providing a suitable site can be secured. The Laidlaw Shoe Co. asked for an extension of their tax exemption for another three years on the same basis as the last seven years, and the seventy-five per cent exemption from taxes for a further period of seven years. The new income tax brought out a large deputation of P.E.P. men, who wished to know if individual citizens could not be exempted as well as manufacturers.
Councillor Anderson said that the town had no option in the matter.

Mrs. Carman delivered an address on missionary work during the annual meeting of the quarterly meeting of the W.M.S. of Amnestreet Methodist Church this afternoon.

The annual supper of L.O.L.'s 802 and 900 will be held in St. James' Hall on Monday evening. Among the speakers will be H. C. Wood, Rev. Wm.
Walsh, sovereign grand chaplain, and Harry Lovelock.

In connection with the census of the town to be taken next Monday the authorities are anxious that householders should do everything possible to ensure accuracy. The census will include all who sleep in Toronto Junction on Monday night.

The funeral of the late Jacob Young took place at Prospect Cemetery this afternoon, Rev. Dr. J. W. St. John, of Amnestreet Methodist Church, officiating.

The brethren of Stanley Lodge, A. F. and M. will meet in their lodge room in the Kilburn Hall at 1.30 p.m. tomorrow (Friday) in connection with the funeral of the late Wm. Bro. John Colvin.

Weston, Nov. 2.—Many ratepayers of Weston are not satisfied with the counting of the following reductions, until the entire is closed out, Norfolk knitted jackets, cardinal, navy, black,

AYLESWORTH CAN'T STAND

Willson, and to a defence of the autonomy bills. He declared that when Alberta and Saskatchewan spoke in favor of the school settlement in a few days it would be an answer to those who are agitating against the settlement.

The Candidate.
The candidate, Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, acknowledged the honor that had been paid him by offering him the nomination in the riding, and in view of the statement that had been made in North York and throughout the Dominion that he had been fostered upon as a candidate he wished to say that neither directly nor indirectly had any communication passed between himself and any other person with reference to the nomination. He felt greatly honored that the nomination had come to him the way it did.

Mr. Aylesworth regretted the retirement of Sir Wm. Mulock. For some time he had felt that when the day would come for him (Aylesworth) to enter public life it would be as a follower of Sir Wm. Mulock as the leader of the party in Ontario.

Non-Residence Cry.
He had selected a few of the bouquets thrown at him by some of the papers. First it had been said that he ought to be rejected on the ground that he certainly did not want to be considered in that light. It was true that he had not his residence among the people of North York, but that was a matter that could be remedied. He would, however, like to know to what country he did belong. He was born in the County of York. It was here that Louis Lafontaine lived. He was a settler when his own people elected him and it was North York, too, that accepted those great Canadians, Robert Baldwin and Adam Wilson. The place of residence was to be enforced if it would be impossible for any Liberal of the City of Toronto to enter public life and this country would have lacked forever the services of Hon. Edward Blake.

He had been attacked by one of the papers as a corporation lawyer who ought to be rejected as a public enemy.
It was true he was a lawyer, but that had not always been true, for the early part of his life he had worked out his living by the sweat of his brow on his father's farm. He had been attacked as a corporation lawyer, and if there was any special infamy in it, the term "corporation" was usually applied to municipalities, and if it was an infamy to do business for a municipality he very last night he took part in an effort to take up public life with an effort to support against the railway corporations the "order" government bridge.

It was an oath that lawyers took that they reject no man's cause that seems to be well founded. Mr. Aylesworth wondered that if a corporation advertisement were offered to the newspaper that talks about the corporation lawyer would it be rejected.

"Indeed," said the P.M.G., "it may be said that the 'order' government was by a corporation." This was a clinger and everybody laughed.

Mr. Aylesworth said as Sir William Mulock's mantle had fallen on him he would take up the work where it was left off. He had been a member of the advocate of the Bell Telephone Co. because he represented the company before the telephone committee at Ottawa. A more ridiculous idea had never entered the mind of any person. As soon as he became a member of the government one of the first things he did was to put an end to his connection with the company. The employment in regard to the telephone committee ended when the session was at Ottawa on Sunday.

The annual banquet of the Weston Bowling Club was held at the Eagle House to-night.

Mr. J. Russell House has been summoned to appear before Magistrate Kills on Tuesday afternoon in connection with the alleged sale of liquor during prohibited hours.

The Postoffice Department, cordially invites you to call and see the good values you can get in notepaper, envelopes and other stationery. Also in soap, scents and other toilet necessities. Family requisites carefully compounded by a qualified pharmacist.

Railway and Water Main.
The Toronto and Hamilton Railway met the Etobicoke Township council yesterday for permission to get a water main from New Toronto to the township. A bill was passed granting the permission in exchange for three hydrants for fire protection on the Lake shore road.

Woodbridge.
John Nattress, a resident of Woodbridge for many years, and who filed a petition for the township of Woodbridge last night, was present at the meeting on Wednesday evening. Previous to his coming here, he was a school teacher for twenty years. He leaves a widow and large family.

North Toronto.
The works committee of the town council met in the town hall last night for the purpose of considering the report of the committee on the petition of the residents of North Toronto, who are in the way in Petrolia.
