Failure to Pacify Lower House Means His Finish-Cabinet in Rebellion.

St. Petersburg, June 8.-According to reliable reports from Peterhof, Emperor Nicholas has about decided to retire Premier Goremykin. From the first it was apparent to outsiders that M. Goremykin did not possess force, capacity or skill necessary to steer the ship of state in the present crisis, and his majesty, who is extremely interested with the premier's sorry dissatisfied with the premier's sorry failure to make any headway toward a rapprochement with the lower house of parliament, is now ready to sacriof parliament, is now ready to sacrifice him. But the emperor seems to be torn by conflicting counsels. A few of his advisers are urging him to make a trank surrender and accede to parliament's demands for a ministry from the opposition majority. These light liament's demands for a ministry from the opposition majority. These influences are hardly likely to prevail against the party headed by General Trepoff, which believes that no further concessions should be made. The cabinet itself is in open rebellion, and with the support they are receiving from court rebels they are confident of being able to unhorse Goremykin.

87 bill as being a sign that bad influences are gaining the upper hand at Peterhof, but the paper comments upon the visdom of the Constitutional Democrats in refraining from making an issue of the question, in the meantime insisting on the suspension of rules. Despatches from the interior continue gloomy, and show that the gradual tension of the agrarian disorders and partial strikes now affects orders and partial strikes now affects twelve provinces. The latest disturb-ances reported are at Kieff and Tver. Numerous collisions between peasants and rural guards have taken place, but nothing in the nature of a mass movement has yet occurred. Killed Innocent Men.

A sensation has been caused by the disclosures of M. Vladimiroff, a correspondent of The Twentieth Century, formerly The Russ, who investigated the case of Mile. Spiridonova, and who is now in the Baltic provinces investigating the repressions there. He declares that six out of the eight men executed at Riga were innocent, and adds that they were forced to confess by tortures which put the Spanish inquisition to shame.

Altho the social revolutionists have proclaimed a temporary cessation of the terrorist campaign, there is little abatement in the murders of police abatement in the murders of police officials in the interior.

Mounted gendarmes yesterday charged a crowd of workmen at the government cartridge factory at Vassili-Ostrov, who emerged from a meeting singing the Marseillaise. The gendarmes used their whips and sabres, injuring many and wounding two men seriously.

The storm produced by over-night developments broke as soon as the lower house of parliament opened to-day, exposing the split between the radical and more moderate elements of the opposition, and proving that the leaders of the social democrats will be unable much longer to hold their extreme allies of the peasant workmen group, who openly favor parliament shaking off all governmental extreme allies of the peasant workmen group, who openly favor parlament shaking off all governmental control and proceeding independently.
The firmer attitude of the government as foreshadowed by yesterday's "ecision to demand a month's time for consideration of the law providing for the abrogation of the death ory privilege, was further emphasized by Premier Goremykin's reply to an interpellation on the subject of the Black Hundred publications, which was communicated in writing. It practically amounted to a flat refusal to make any explanation, basing his to make any explanation, basing his refusal on the ground that lower house was exceeding its right and is only entitled to explanations upon matters submitted directly for its examiltation.

After reading this communication President Mourimhoff announced that the had officially written a letter to the premier insisting upon a reply, on the ground that the publications directly affected the dignity of the house as a body, and upon a motion of M. Petrunkevitch the president's action was unanimously approved. When the government's decision to insist on delay with the death penalty bill, contained in the form of a communication from ministers of war, the navy ton from ministers of war, the navy and the interior, was communicated to the house, M. Naboukoff in behalf of the Constitutional Democrats offered a resolution accepting the government's decision, but in the meantime demanding the suspension of all death demanding the suspension of all death sentences, contending the government sentences.

This was the signal for violent protests from the socialists and peasant workment group-M, Yakobson and Alladinef successively mounted the rostrum insisting that it was useless to parley with the enemy, adding that acts and not words were necessary. The bill abolishing the death penalty should immediately

Several times President Mourimhoff was compelled to call M. Alladinef to order, as the latter continued his deorder, as the latter continued his denunciation of the government. M. Siplaguine of Sebastopol, 2 nephew of the late minister of the interior of that name, offered a way out of the imbroglio by proposing a resolution instructing President Mourimhoff to go to Peterhof in the name of the house and request the emperor to house and request the emperor to suspend all death sentences. Rejected.

After an exciting debate the house rejected M. Sipiaguine's proposition and passed the Constitutional Democratic resolution offered by M. Nabou-
