

WOMAN IN CASE ARRESTED EVIDENCE OF IRRITATION

Emma Goldman, Charged With Conspiracy to Assassinate President McKinley, Caught in Chicago.

DISCLAIMS KNOWLEDGE OF CRIME, BUT NO COMPLICATIONS CAN ARISE.

But Admits She Knew Coelgoos, Whom She Calls a Fool-Police Not Satisfied.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—Captain Coleman, chief of detectives, has sworn out a warrant charging Emma Goldman with conspiracy to assassinate President McKinley. Miss Goldman, who was arrested today, is being held at the Central Police Station in this city.

Her defense attorney, James J. McInerney, said she was held into the office of Chief of Police O'Neill, but she disclaimed all knowledge of Coelgoos and his crime, admitting only that she met him here July 12.

Never Advocated Violence. "Do you know that your words are what Coelgoos claims stirred him to shoot the President?" she was asked.

"I do not. I never advocated violence. I merely knew the man. I was leaving for Rochester via Buffalo when Coelgoos had a few words with me. He said he had heard me lecture at some memorial hall in Cleveland last May and that he wanted to know me. He said he knew I was in Chicago and looked me up. I scarcely remember anything about him, save that his complexion was light."

Read the Papers. "Then, how do you know that this man is the one who tried to kill the President?" "Oh," with a shrug of the shoulders, "I guessed that from what the newspapers say."

"What did you think when you heard that an attempt to kill the President had been made?" the woman was asked. With a wave of her hands and another shrug of the shoulders she answered dispassionately: "I thought, 'Oh, the fool!'"

Discussed on Anarchy. The prisoner's manner was growing more and more excited, and she made an evident effort to control herself. In this she eventually succeeded, and launched into a discourse of the teachings of Anarchy. She declared that Anarchy did not teach men to do the act which had made Coelgoos a convict and hated the world over.

"We work against the system, and education is our watchword," she said. "I was in New York in July when I came to Chicago to visit the 'Isaiah' family," she continued in answer to interrogations concerning her whereabouts recently.

First Saw Coelgoos. "On the night of July 12, Isaiahs was out of the house for some time, and I went to bed. The man who I learned through the newspapers was Coelgoos, stood there. He said he wanted to see me. I was about to catch the Nickel Plate train, as I said Mr. Isaiahs' daughter was about to go to Rochester, N.Y. He went to the Rock Island depot with us. But I was so busy talking leave of my friends that I scarcely noticed him. It was not a time when one would want to make new friends. At the depot I had the few words with him of which I have told. That was all there ever was between us."

Is She Anarchist? "I am an Anarchist—a student of socialism, but nothing in anything I ever said to Lena Coelgoos knowingly would have led him to do the act which started every Friday."

"Not even in your lectures?" He says your words set his brain on fire," asked the interrogator.

"Am I accountable because some crack-brained person put a wrong construction on my words? Lena Coelgoos, I am convinced, planned the deed unaided and entirely alone. There is no Anarchist ring which would help him. There may be thousands who would murder, but there are men in every walk of life who sometimes feel the impulse to kill."

Strange Inspiration. "I do not know surely, but I think Coelgoos was one of those down-trodden men who see all the misery which the rich inflict upon the poor who think of it, who brood over it, and then, in despair, resolve to strike a great blow, as you think for the good of their fellow men. But that is not Anarchy. Coelgoos (the woman pronounced the name with the greatest ease) may have been inspired by me, but if he was, he took the wrong way of showing it."

Denied Herself. Police officials are not entirely satisfied with Miss Goldman's story. Walter J. Schuetter and Detective Herds discovered her at the home of one Norris, at 303 Sherbourne, she denied her identity.

"Hello, Miss Goldman," said the captain as he entered the parlor. "Are you glad to see me? Miss Goldman, I'm a Swede."

THREE TRAINMEN MEET HORRIBLE DEATHS

G. T. R. REAR-END COLLISION NEAR PARIS

Conductor Harman of Toronto Literally Annihilated by Fire.

As a result of a rear-end collision on the Grand Trunk Railway at an early hour yesterday morning, between Princeton and Paris, three lives were crushed out and two persons were seriously injured, besides considerable loss being occasioned to rolling stock.

The accident occurred shortly before 1 o'clock, about two miles east of Princeton. Freight train No. 422, bound for London to Toronto, stopped about half way between Paris and Princeton in order to allow a hot-box to cool off. Shortly after the stop was made, a special train of five empty coaches was heard coming. This train was stopped in time, just behind the freight.

About this time the second section of the fast manifest train from Chicago to New York approached and crashed with terrific force into the empty passenger train, passing through nearly all the cars and throwing them in all directions.

The wreck took fire. The flames spread rapidly, being fed with the hay which three cars of the manifest train contained.

In the fire that Engineer Frederick Denne of Paris, Ontario, and Conductor James Harman of Toronto perished. The fireman, M. Renne of Paris, also was killed shortly after in Brantford hospital. Brakeman Peacock of Paris was badly bruised, and Brakeman Oliver of this city was killed. The injured men were removed to the hospital at Brantford.

It was not until late in the afternoon that portions of the remains of Denne and Harman were found. While clearing away the debris a portion of a human skull was uncovered, but it could not be identified.

CONDUCTOR JAMES HARMAN.

ENGINEER FREDERICK DENNE.

A little farther away another portion of a skull was picked up. From the hair, it was identified as that of the remains of Engineer Denne.

Physicians on the scene recognized several bones found as being those of fingers. Several collar buttons, a knife and a pocket picked up were recognized as belonging to Conductor Harman.

Superintendent Jones of the Middle Division of the Grand Trunk left for the scene of the wreck immediately on receipt of the news. He will not return until this morning. The main line was cleared of debris at 11 o'clock. The damage to rolling stock will amount to between $8000 and $10,000.

Conductor James Harman was born in Brantford about 40 years ago. When a boy he removed with his parents to Windsor, where at an early age he began railroad reading. He began as a brakeman and for the past 13 years had been a conductor. The debris a portion of a human skull was uncovered, but it could not be identified.

Brakeman Robert Oliver, who was seriously injured about the head, lives with his wife and little child at 86 Euclid-avenue, this city. He came here a little over a year ago from St. Thomas, Mrs. Oliver, on hearing of the accident to her husband, left at once for the hospital at Brantford, where her husband was removed.

HOW IT OCCURRED. Paris, Sept. 10.—Two men were roasted to death, one man fatally injured and two others less seriously, in a pitch on the Grand Trunk, here at 1 o'clock this morning.

A broken coupling caused a stoppage of a freight on the grade, and a train of five passenger coaches coming east for London Exhibition traffic was brought to a standstill by the trainmen of the stalled freight.

While standing a passenger freight, crashing into the rear of the passenger train, plied the coaches up like a haystack. The freight engine, with Engineer Denne and Conductor Harman, was underneath. The mass of wreckage quickly took fire. The bodies of these two were not recovered until the flames did their work at 11 this morning.

Brakeman W. Oliver cannot recover from his injuries, his skull being fractured. Fireman Peacock had a crushed leg amputated, and Brakeman Wryneck is also in the Brantford Hospital, but not dangerously injured.

The cause of the accident is unknown, but the night was unusually dark and the lantern in the hands of the man sent back by the passenger train was possibly not seen by Engineer Denne. Superintendent Jones of Princeton has ordered an enquiry.

ANOTHER STORY. Woodstock, Sept. 10.—The wreck which occurred on the main line of the G.T.R. shortly after midnight last night was attended by three fatalities and the loss of thousands of dollars' worth of property. The accident took place about a mile and a half east of Princeton Station. There

ATTEMPT TO SCUTTLE SHIP OF STATE FAILS

PRESIDENT MCKINLEY WILL LIVE

Julian Hawthorne Crystallizes Information and Opinion in His Inimitable Style—Recovery is Little Short of Miraculous—World Will Now Go on as It Did Prior to Buffalo's Blackest Friday.

(BY JULIAN HAWTHORNE)

Buffalo, Sept. 10.—(Special)—There is nothing but cheerfulness to write of today; the President has taken no backward step, and the officers of State are beginning to leave town. The people rejoice with manifest pleasure to the reports from the patient's room; they love to be told that he turns himself in his bed; that he is beginning to defy his doctors; that he makes such remarks; that he is impatient to resume the functions of his office. They learn with satisfaction that he has never believed that he would die; and they rejoice at the reported remark of Dr. McBurney, that in six weeks he will be at his desk in the White House.

HOPE AND CONFIDENCE. All the anxiety and concern of the past few weeks the aspect of a menacing cloud drifting to the horizon, and we are beginning to turn our thoughts to our own affairs, and to lay out plans of business or of pleasure without the stipulation "if the President gets well." We are satisfied that he will get well, and wherever we look into another's face, at the headlines of newspapers in the street, at the remarks of men sitting from the city buildings or into our own private conversations, we find nothing but hope and confidence.

MRS. MCKINLEY'S HEALTH. The condition of Mrs. McKinley's health has not been so punctually described by those attending her, but, with her sensitive organization, we have a right to believe that she will be as readily influenced for good as for harm by matters affecting her happiness. She would perhaps have died had her husband failed to recover; now that he is almost beyond improvement in her. The people always associate her in their minds in any thoughts they have of her husband, and the kindly feeling that they will have for either of them is multiplied by the conviction that the marriage that unites them is a true and a happy one.

UNREMITTING ATTENTIONS. Of course the wise and unremitting attentions of the doctors have played an important part in this extraordinary case; their skill has made deep scars, a very inconsiderable terror. I suppose that McKinley will never become a robust man; he will have to be careful of diet and hygiene for a long time to come, but he will be in health, good enough to enjoy the life that he takes pleasure in life and act the whole body of believers in violence that their methods are ineffective.

TWO COULDN'T BE FOUND. But, in fact, it is greatly to be doubted whether the assassin's assertion that he was alone in his crime is not the actual truth. It is almost incredible that two men could be found in this country who would comply to all such a man as McKinley, simply because two men could not agree that the killing of a man elected by a nation could have any practical effect in changing or overthrowing popular government.

CHOLERA was probably alone in his deed, because he acted not from philosophical conviction; but simply from personal perversity.

TRIAL IS OVER. Short are the annals of a happy people. There is nothing to be said about this situation that would not bear the aspect of a forced confession. If things go on as they are going and have gone, there will be no more "navy" to be told about Mr. McKinley than there was before he was shot. He, and we, have passed through a memorable experience; but the period has passed and we may look forward to all manner of good fortune to compensate us for this trying week.

THE LAST BULLETIN TUESDAY NIGHT CAUSED A SCARE.

Irritation Caused by the Fragment of Cloth in Skin Gave Rise to Suspicion That the Patient Had Taken a Turn for the Worse.

Milburn House, Buffalo, N.Y., Sept. 10.—Late tonight there was a slight scare at the Milburn residence, caused by the discovery of a small fragment of cloth in the patient's skin. This was removed, and a slight disturbance developed, which made necessary the opening of the wound. The doctors seek to allay all apprehension by the positive statement that this incident cannot give rise to other complications, and their frankness in giving the news to the public leaves no room to question the entire good faith. The further fact communicated in the bulletin that the President was well enough, taking nourishment in the mouth from a pure beef juice was of course gratifying, but to the laymen the mere mention of a complication, however slight, might be naturally created alarm. It seems like a little cloud on the horizon, which might grow and spread. But the most positive assurance were given that the only effect might be to slightly delay the healing of the wound. The irritation was not in any way the result of a suggestion of blood poisoning. The physicians declared over their own signatures that it could not result in complications. The opening of the wound was in no sense an operation. Several of the stitches were simply taken out and after a three or four washings of the inflamed tissue, the wound was again sewed up. No anesthetic was necessary. Considerable delay was caused by the fact that a certain dressing desired by the surgeons was not in the house, and it was necessary to send into the city for it. The first time the messenger returned he did not have what was wanted and he had to take another trip.

land, who had made 270. Major J. K. Miller and Thomas Caldwell, both of the United Life Association, died, with 278 each, as Miller had made the better score on the 1000 yard range, he secured 2770.

GATHERING OF ROYALTIES. Copenhagen, Sept. 10.—The King and Queen of Denmark, the King and Queen of Greece and 25 royal princes, all on one train, arrived here at noon today from Frederiksberg and were present at a farewell luncheon on board the Russian Imperial yacht Standart. Then all the party, with the exception of the King, went on to the Imperial yacht Pole Star to take leave of the United Life Association, held with 278 each, as Miller had made the better score on the 1000 yard range, he secured 2770.

FINAL CONTEST AT SEA GIRT. Frank Hyde of New York Won All Corners' Match. New York, Sept. 10.—After 11 days of actual work on the state camp ranges at Sea Girt, N.J., the international riflemen wound up the annual meeting of the National Rifle Association of America today. The final contest was an all-corners' match between Hyde and a Canadian. Hyde scored 800, 900, and 1000 yards. Thirty-three men entered for the contest, which began yesterday. The Irishmen and some of the Americans used match rifles and were allowed seven points each, while the Canadians used bolt-action rifles and were given 15 points each. Frank Hyde of New York, who used a Lee-Remington match rifle, won out, with an actual score of 275 points, and this, supplemented by an allowance of seven and one-half points for the distance of 1000 yards, gave him a total score of 282. The next best scorer was that of Dr. J. C. Sellers of Dundalk, Ireland, who had 274.

SAVED HIS LIFE. Buffalo, Sept. 10.—Dr. McBurney, the New York medical expert, stated that President McKinley's splendid condition is due largely to the conduct of three men at the time of his injury. These are George B. Cretzney, secretary to the President; H. W. Hanna, brother of Senator Hanna, and John Stetson of the Executive Committee of the Pan-American Exposition. When others desired to delay a surgical operation on the President, the arrival of Dr. Roswell Park from Niagara, who with a party arrived in the day had gone to see the Falls. These three insisted that he be taken to the Emergency Hospital at once and operated upon. Their will carried the day, and the result now known to the whole world. The conduct of the trio was little short of heroic.

EMMA'S ASSOCIATES. Chicago Police Have Gathered Up Anarchists' Co-Companions. Chicago, Sept. 10.—The warrant of arrest gives as her conspirators Abraham Isaacs, Maurice Isaacs, Clarence Prentzer, Hippolite Naval, Henry Travaglio, Alfred Schneider, Julia Mechnano, Marie Isaacs and Marcus Isaacs. All but Miss Goldman were arrested today, but the men were held without bail, and are now in jail. It is the opinion of several lawyers that Miss Goldman cannot be extradited for trial in New York unless she and Coelgoos are charged with an offense under the Federal statute. The suggestion that the would-be assassin might be tried under the State laws of New York for assault, with intent to kill, would, it is said, preclude the possibility of Miss Goldman's being extradited, as an accessory before the fact, as she is alleged in her diary statements to have been in New York, and she is not a fugitive from justice from that State. It is, however, thought that she and Coelgoos might be charged with an offense under section 558 of the Federal statute, which fixes a 10-year term of imprisonment and $5000 fine for two or more persons who conspire to injure any citizen in the exercise of any right secured to him by constitution and laws of the United States. The enforcement of this statute against Miss Goldman and Coelgoos would, it is said, permit of the former's extradition from any State. C. J. Norris, at whose home Miss Gold-was captured, was arrested later. Miss Goldman was taken from the home of her sister to the woman's annex of Harrison-street Station, where she will spend the night. She will, according to present plans, have a hearing to-morrow morning.

Speaking of the story told by Emma Goldman, Mayor Harrison said: "I believe she is exactly what she says she is—a rank Anarchist. She is a woman of decidedly great ability and even if she were connected with a deed of that sort I think she is too smart to be caught at it."
