TELEPHONES AT YORKTON

How Thomas Paul Instituted a Service in the Progressive Town of Assiniboia.

Office Place in C.P.R. Station

J. A. Magee Tells of the Advance Made by the Citizens of the Town.

From many sources come the information that the Bell Telephone Co. is not the only party on the beach. The account of the doing of the good folk inhabiting the little town of Yorkton, Assiniboia, is of peculiar interest, in the light of recent happenings nearer home, and the history of their telephone service, as given to The World by Mr. J. A. Magee yesterday, should form a fitting parallel to the experiences of Locust Hill people, with, however, a different conclusion.

About five years ago one Thomas Paul, an Englishman, opened a jewelry store in Yorkton. This man, being something of an electrical genius, installed a telephone between his store and one or two other establishments in the village. This proved successful, but he was constrained to extend the service, especially as he had invested an improvement which greatly simplified the work of the central exchange, and very soon he had thirty subscribers. This village system, established without any capital, grew to such an extent that Paul set about extending it to the other end of the town. Ebenezer, distant from Yorkton about thirty miles. Last year a company was formed with capital of $20,000, all of which was subscribed in Yorkton.

There are now upwards of ninety miles completed in and around Yorkton, and the system is being rapidly extended. The company has found it practicable to give an excellent day and night service for $18 per year for business places and $12 for private dwellings. In addition to the ordinary service, the telephone company will, upon request, call up subscribers at 6 a.m. to enable them to get the early train from the depot.

Mr. Magee of Yorkton, who is staying at the Rossin House, was asked if the telephone had been installed in the depot.

"Yes, a phone was put in early in 1902, but was, for some reason or other, removed."

"Was it because of any action of the Bell company?"

"No, it was probably on account of the alleged annoyance of people calling up the depot in an improper manner, and asking unnecessary questions of the local agent."

"In the fall of 1902, Thomas Shaughnessy visited Yorkton, and the town people took the opportunity of requesting that the local phone might be re-installed at the depot. Mr. Shaughnessy agreed readily, and the phone is still in operation at the Yorkton terminus. The nearest point on the C.P.R. where the Company is Minnedosa, some 150 miles distant."

Speaking of the proposed new road, Mr. Magee said: "I do not think the people of Manitoba and Assiniboia would take kindly to any proposition for a road to receive government subsidy that did not, whilst opening up new districts, afford some relief to the settled sections. The proposed new Grand Trunk road will probably run some 100 miles north of Yorkton, thru an entirely unsettled portion of the country. This new district is certainly a very beautiful country, and just as rich, considered from an agricultural standpoint, as the parts already settled. But even now, with the railroads doing all they can, with the C.P.R. endeavoring to buy locomotives in Germany, Scotland, England and the States, there is great congestion, and it is constantly increasing. Every motor in our part of the country is full, and it is next to impossible to get a local freight service."

"Only last fall 2000 cattle were driven 110 miles to the nearest point on the Canadian Northern, and they shipped to Liverpool, because the C.P.R. could not handle them. These cattle went via Portland. It is probable that the C.P.R. will put in a branch from Wrentham, on the Calgary and Edmonton road, at an early date."

"Land values in Yorkton have greatly increased, some tracts that could be bought two years ago at $15 per foot, now being worth $40."

Morocco on a Holiday.

New York, Feb. 25.—J. Pierpont Morgan, accompanied by several members of his family and a party of friends, left town today on a southern trip, which will probably take them as far as Cuba. The trip will be one of recreation, and Mr. Morgan is expected back in this city the second week in March.

Fairweather's "Expansion Sale"

"Tri-Head" Wind-Up

End of the Week—End of the Month—End of Our Year.

This week breaks the back for selling for this season—but because it's late is no reason why you should not take advantage of the biggest kind of price reductions and buy for the future—we're keen to sell because we begin our new building operations almost right away and we want stocks crowded down to the very lowest point before we begin—we're taking stock and it's only good business to want to carry over as little as possible to another season—and then we need the money that's locked up—to-day an investment in furs means to you a "clean make" of from 25 to 50 per cent. and at that argument wouldn't be much inducement if you were buying for a season only—but to most folks buying furs it's buying for a lifetime—come to-day—see for yourself.
