According to de-spatches from the war correspondent, Bill has promised to be good this sea-son. That settles it. With Phyle giv-ing his best to the team he will not be supplanted by Cockman or any other third sacker in the Eastern League. Bill has one of the best wings in the business, fields his position well and is always there in the pinch. But it will be his hitting-those long drives over first-that entitles him to the po-sition. Let's see, isn't the right field at the island this year to be only 252 feet from the home plate. Better jot down home runs now for Bill Phyle. Inside information has it that Phyle will go to short and Cockman to third, putting Frick on the bench. Phyle

As yet there has been no interfer-ence with the bookmakers on the part of the district authorities at Bennings.

John Willie, the heavyweight fighter, thru his manager, who is at Hot Springs, failed to cover a $500 wager to meet Marvin Hart. The conditions were that the winner take all and the receipts to go to charity if the fight resulted in a technical decision, as It did when they met St. Patrick's Day. The battle may take place later in Milwaukee or in Calumet, Mich. But Willie evidently did not like the conditions which were necessary to bring them together at the Springs, which would have forced each to go for the money and the loser get nothing. Hart stated that he would con-tinue taking the baths and preparing himself to meet Tommy Burns again when the latter returns from Europe.

Hart, having a victory to his credit over Jack Johnson, might claim the right to first chance at Burns if he
