HE Chicago traffic test has been beaten by the Canadian Chalmers. This time the run was made on high gear through the crowded traffic of Montreal. In 24 hours of steady driving, the low and intermediate gears removed, not a stop for the motor, the Chalmers ran up a of 590.7 This heats mileage of 590.7. This beats the famous Chicago test by 4 miles. In spite of the constant stopping at crossings and slowing down, the gasoline gave an average of over 20 miles to the gallon.

This car was a stock 5-passenger Chalmers, the comfortable Chalmers, so much admired for its luxurious finish and smart design.

Here is a further proof of the smooth-running of the Chalmers Motor, its wide flexibility, its vast reserves of power for hills and heavy roads.

In Detroit a slow-speed test was made. High gear again. Speed never exceeded 3 miles an hour. 71.7 miles were travelled in the 24 hours. 12 miles to the Imperial gallon.

In Grand Rapids a non-stop test was made on high gear, running up 603 miles in 24 hours.

conditions. They prove the cooling, the oiling, the economy.

But, in Minneapolis and St. Paul came the supreme test of the lubrication and and cooling. The Chalmers ran for 24 hours on LOW GEAR without Motor stop. 257 miles; using only 3 quarts of oil, 4 gallons of water; 8.8 miles to the gallon of gasoline.

This is the sort of car your Chalmers will prove for you. Test it yourself.
