

POOR DOCUMENT

10 C 2 0 3 5

THE EVENING TIMES-STAR, ST. JOHN, N. B., MONDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1923

U.S. COLT TRIMS PAPYRUS BY SIX LENGTHS; TOTAL WINNINGS $254,936

English Thoroughbred is Bothered by Heavy Belmont Track.

New York, Oct. 22.—Getting away to a bad start, Zev, the United States entry in the great international race at Belmont Park on Saturday, pulled up on Papyrus, the English Derby winner, before the first quarter pole had been reached, and finished six lengths behind the home stretch. He covered the mile and one-half course in 2:28 2-5, considered exceptionally good on account of the condition of the track, which had been watered for the benefit of the 60,000 people who witnessed the race, which netted Zev's owners $254,936 of the $100,000 purse for which the classic was fought.

Over a track that was heavy and boggy from several days of rain, Zev answered pre-race fears that he was not in the best of condition by galloping to convincing, impressive victory over Papyrus. After a rather bad start Zev overtook his rival before the first quarter pole had been reached and thereafter was never headed, despite the game and gallant efforts of the English champion.

Straitening out his mount for the finishing drive, Earl Sande gave Zev his head and the colt responded with a terrific burst of speed. Papyrus fell behind rapidly, apparently tired and "all out" under this withering pace. Zev galloped under the wire fully six lengths in the lead, amid a thunderous ovation from the throng that had watched the struggle in pulse-grIPPING suspense.

"Papyrus was not at home in the going," declared Steve Donoghue, the great English jockey, who rode the invader, afterwards and this opinion was confirmed by Basil Jax, the American trainer, but neither put this forward as an alibi for defeat. The time of the race 2 minutes 28 2-5 seconds, was not remarkable, but it was good in the face of existing track conditions. The fractional times showed that Zev displayed his greatest speed over the first five furlongs of the race but by comparison with Papyrus, the Rancocas colt seemed to travel swiftly in the final stages of the encounter. Zev, however, maintaining a steady, smooth, even pace over the whole route, always keeping enough in reserve to withstand the invader's challenges.

Zev Favorite.

Before the horses went to the post Zev was the favorite in betting circles at four to five with Papyrus at even money. Zev, by conquering Papyrus, placed himself at the top of the American list of winning horses of all time. Previous to Saturday Zev had won a total of $174,936, which, with the $80,000 he put in the Rancocas Stables offer, as his share of the international purse, brings his total earnings up to $254,936. This eclipses by $5,471, in round figures, the winnings of Man o' War before his great middle colt, which held the previous American record was retired to the stud.

SPEAKS ON WORLD BOYS' WORK MEET

Rev. I. A. Buckley, one of the two Canadian delegates to the world conference on boys' work, which was held in Austria in May, was the preacher in two of the local churches yesterday and gave interesting accounts of what transpired at the world conference. He spoke in the Central Baptist church in the morning and in the evening was the preacher in the Portland Methodist church. Rev. Mr. Buckley is now the boys' work secretary for the National Council of the Y. M. C. A. and was formerly Maritime boys' work secretary. His enthusiasm in the work is well known and he aroused much interest in it by his able addresses. In describing the conference he explained that it had been attended by representatives of fifty-four nations. There was no better work in which men might be engaged, he declared, than in work for boys.

SUNDAY SCHOOL RALLY DAY HELD

Rally day was observed in St. Andrew's Sunday school yesterday and the members of the congregation were present for the open session, which was held in the Sunday school, with the superintendent, J. H. Murphy, presiding. Mrs. W. G. Stratton was the soloist in the exercises followed along the lines of the programme prepared by the Board of Sabbath Schools of the Protestant Churches. Recitations were given by Jean Robertson, Marjorie Hart, Walter Stuart and Stuart Sims; selections by the school orchestra, Miss Megarty, vocal solo by Miss Barbara Kelly. The address on "Growth" was given by the minister, Rev. J. S. Bonnell. Certificates were presented by Hon. J. G. Forbes to Jean Dowling, now in Sydney, N.S., and Muriel Jones. These certificates were awarded for correct recitations of Carter's primary catechism. Muriel Jones also received a diploma for memorizing 147 verses of Holy Scripture.

WILLS MATCHED.

Newark, N. J., Oct. 21.—Harry Wills, negro heavyweight, has been matched to box Jack Thompson, of Joplin, Mo. here Nov. 5. It was announced tonight by the National Sportsmen's Association. They will box twelve rounds, no decision.

Harold Peck, a former native of Hopewell Hill, Albert County, was accidentally killed recently by the discharge of a gun at his home in Abbotsford, B. C. He was a brother of Col. Cyrus Peck, V. C.

My Debt of Gratitude.

"Ulcers the Size of Man's Hand."

Our portrait of M. G. M. THOMPSON, of 4, Portland Ave., Edward Rd., Baiton Heath, Birmingham, England, who writes: "In July last I happened to get a scratch on my leg. It was so slight I took no notice of it till a fortnight elapsed, when I found it could not go to work. It gradually grew worse when it turned septic; from this period it got from bad to worse till at length the sepsis turned into ulcers. I had at that particular time ulcers the size of a man's hand covering my leg. After I had tried nearly everything I read decided to take it; it was then in the month of October, and after the second bottle, I found relief. I continued until the seventh bottle when I found myself completely rid of the trouble. I can make use of this statement and I will be only too pleased to answer any enquiries because it is something else but Clark's Blood Mixture that I owe my debt of gratitude."

Clark's Blood Mixture

"Everybody's Blood Purifier."

Clark's Blood Mixture

Clark's Blood Mixture

Clark's Blood Mixture

Clark's Blood Mixture

Clark's Blood Mixture

Clark's Blood Mixture

A REAL MOVIE ROMANCE—UNFILMED

Hollywood, Oct. 22.—Not all the movie romances are screened.

Not all the residents of Hollywood are villains and vamps.

For instance: Frida grew to girlhood in St. Louis. Of course, she knew her way in the best movie circles, but her acquaintanceship with the stars and starlets was limited—and she had to pay the cashier every time.

Being a most natural dame, given to admiring the other sex, Frida read everything in newspapers, magazines and other sources, about her idols. She liked this or that leading man, she loved so-and-so and she just worshipped whoever he or she might be at this particular time.

Then a few years passed, as the subtitles say, and Frida heard opportunity knocking. The movie bug had bitten her. She came to Hollywood.

Bob was born without the proverbial silver spoon. Like a true boy he was curious about freight cars. His curiosity in that direction ended at the age of six—an accident happened. The surgeons thought he would die, but he was saved, after both legs had been amputated.

Here was a handicap. Bob knew it. He worked hard and studied hard in the intervening years, finally leaving his home town, Chicago, to be a scenario writer on the staff of the Universal Film Co.

"Amid the arid wastes and craggy hills of romantic Old Mexico, on the desert fringes of grim battlefields, where strong men blazed the trail for the civilization of their pampered brethren" was Robert J. Horner, director of the productions bearing that name. Mr. Horner, alias Bob, had brought his faithful troupe to this spot to shoot scenes for a current celluloid thriller.

Members of the company were aware that a pretty girl had accompanied them across the border although not east. Frida A. Bohan was her name, not that it mattered.

After filming the last scene, Horner went into conference with his stars, Eva Novak and George Chesebro. When they got through it was announced that Miss Bohan had been given a lifetime contract as general manager of the youthful director.

With his players as witnesses, the marriage ceremonies were performed at Tia Juana, the same place, incidentally, where Rudolph Valentino got married.

Horner's rise to director-producer has been phenomenal. Today he is said to be the youngest movie magnate on the west coast. And Frida, the movie-stricken girl from the middle west, is his boss.

road detectives notified the Sheepshead Bay station and were instructed to ask the applicant to give his name and address and to tell him that a check would be mailed for the amount of the ticket.

Therlaunt said to make the check out to "Joe Slater" and send it to the South Eighth street address. Therlaunt appeared last night and was arrested.

Included among the two suitcases full of alleged stolen property recovered was a gold shield belonging to a foreman of the Department of Parks in the Bronx. Mrs. Svasek last night identified articles she said had been taken from her house. Therlaunt said that most of his burglaries were one man jobs but that he had a companion others whose name he refused to give.

The arrest, which was made by Detectives Arthur Wallot and John McGinnis of the Sheepshead Bay precinct, followed a seventy-two hour vigil at the rooming house in the Coney Island district where Therlaunt was trying to cash in a stolen railroad ticket at the Grand Central Terminal.

On the way to the Sheepshead Bay station, where Therlaunt was taken for arraignment in the Coney Island court this morning, the detective said he told them that he and another man had taken Therlaunt and held up three men in the park. Later they held up a saloon, Therlaunt told his captors.

Therlaunt's capture was the result of the robbery of the home of Mrs. Emma Svasek of 1624 East Twelfth Street, Brooklyn, July 26, last. About $10,000 worth of jewelry was taken, with a pocketbook containing a ticket to Columbus, Ohio, over the New York Central Railroad. The railroad officials issued a "stop order" on the ticket.

Tuesday night Therlaunt appeared at the Grand Central. Approaching one of the windows, he asked that his ticket be redeemed, saying his sister had bought it and later found it impossible to make the trip. The railroad officials refused to cash the ticket.

Therlaunt's capture was the result of the robbery of the home of Mrs. Emma Svasek of 1624 East Twelfth Street, Brooklyn, July 26, last. About $10,000 worth of jewelry was taken, with a pocketbook containing a ticket to Columbus, Ohio, over the New York Central Railroad. The railroad officials issued a "stop order" on the ticket.

Tuesday night Therlaunt appeared at the Grand Central. Approaching one of the windows, he asked that his ticket be redeemed, saying his sister had bought it and later found it impossible to make the trip. The railroad officials refused to cash the ticket.

Therlaunt's capture was the result of the robbery of the home of Mrs. Emma Svasek of 1624 East Twelfth Street, Brooklyn, July 26, last. About $10,000 worth of jewelry was taken, with a pocketbook containing a ticket to Columbus, Ohio, over the New York Central Railroad. The railroad officials issued a "stop order" on the ticket.

Tuesday night Therlaunt appeared at the Grand Central. Approaching one of the windows, he asked that his ticket be redeemed, saying his sister had bought it and later found it impossible to make the trip. The railroad officials refused to cash the ticket.

Therlaunt's capture was the result of the robbery of the home of Mrs. Emma Svasek of 1624 East Twelfth Street, Brooklyn, July 26, last. About $10,000 worth of jewelry was taken, with a pocketbook containing a ticket to Columbus, Ohio, over the New York Central Railroad. The railroad officials issued a "stop order" on the ticket.

Tuesday night Therlaunt appeared at the Grand Central. Approaching one of the windows, he asked that his ticket be redeemed, saying his sister had bought it and later found it impossible to make the trip. The railroad officials refused to cash the ticket.

Therlaunt's capture was the result of the robbery of the home of Mrs. Emma Svasek of 1624 East Twelfth Street, Brooklyn, July 26, last. About $10,000 worth of jewelry was taken, with a pocketbook containing a ticket to Columbus, Ohio, over the New York Central Railroad. The railroad officials issued a "stop order" on the ticket.

Tuesday night Therlaunt appeared at the Grand Central. Approaching one of the windows, he asked that his ticket be redeemed, saying his sister had bought it and later found it impossible to make the trip. The railroad officials refused to cash the ticket.

Therlaunt's capture was the result of the robbery of the home of Mrs. Emma Svasek of 1624 East Twelfth Street, Brooklyn, July 26, last. About $10,000 worth of jewelry was taken, with a pocketbook containing a ticket to Columbus, Ohio, over the New York Central Railroad. The railroad officials issued a "stop order" on the ticket.

Tuesday night Therlaunt appeared at the Grand Central. Approaching one of the windows, he asked that his ticket be redeemed, saying his sister had bought it and later found it impossible to make the trip. The railroad officials refused to cash the ticket.

Therlaunt's capture was the result of the robbery of the home of Mrs. Emma Svasek of 1624 East Twelfth Street, Brooklyn, July 26, last. About $10,000 worth of jewelry was taken, with a pocketbook containing a ticket to Columbus, Ohio, over the New York Central Railroad. The railroad officials issued a "stop order" on the ticket.

Tuesday night Therlaunt appeared at the Grand Central. Approaching one of the windows, he asked that his ticket be redeemed, saying his sister had bought it and later found it impossible to make the trip. The railroad officials refused to cash the ticket.

Therlaunt's capture was the result of the robbery of the home of Mrs. Emma Svasek of 1624 East Twelfth Street, Brooklyn, July 26, last. About $10,000 worth of jewelry was taken, with a pocketbook containing a ticket to Columbus, Ohio, over the New York Central Railroad. The railroad officials issued a "stop order" on the ticket.

Tuesday night Therlaunt appeared at the Grand Central. Approaching one of the windows, he asked that his ticket be redeemed, saying his sister had bought it and later found it impossible to make the trip. The railroad officials refused to cash the ticket.

Therlaunt's capture was the result of the robbery of the home of Mrs. Emma Svasek of 1624 East Twelfth Street, Brooklyn, July 26, last. About $10,000 worth of jewelry was taken, with a pocketbook containing a ticket to Columbus, Ohio, over the New York Central Railroad. The railroad officials issued a "stop order" on the ticket.

Tuesday night Therlaunt appeared at the Grand Central. Approaching one of the windows, he asked that his ticket be redeemed, saying his sister had bought it and later found it impossible to make the trip. The railroad officials refused to cash the ticket.

Therlaunt's capture was the result of the robbery of the home of Mrs. Emma Svasek of 1624 East Twelfth Street, Brooklyn, July 26, last. About $10,000 worth of jewelry was taken, with a pocketbook containing a ticket to Columbus, Ohio, over the New York Central Railroad. The railroad officials issued a "stop order" on the ticket.

Tuesday night Therlaunt appeared at the Grand Central. Approaching one of the windows, he asked that his ticket be redeemed, saying his sister had bought it and later found it impossible to make the trip. The railroad officials refused to cash the ticket.

Therlaunt's capture was the result of the robbery of the home of Mrs. Emma Svasek of 1624 East Twelfth Street, Brooklyn, July 26, last. About $10,000 worth of jewelry was taken, with a pocketbook containing a ticket to Columbus, Ohio, over the New York Central Railroad. The railroad officials issued a "stop order" on the ticket.

Tuesday night Therlaunt appeared at the Grand Central. Approaching one of the windows, he asked that his ticket be redeemed, saying his sister had bought it and later found it impossible to make the trip. The railroad officials refused to cash the ticket.

Therlaunt's capture was the result of the robbery of the home of Mrs. Emma Svasek of 1624 East Twelfth Street, Brooklyn, July 26, last. About $10,000 worth of jewelry was taken, with a pocketbook containing a ticket to Columbus, Ohio, over the New York Central Railroad. The railroad officials issued a "stop order" on the ticket.

RAIL TICKET TRAPS $100,000 BURGLAR

Therlaunt is Caught Trying to Redeem Stolen Pastboard at Station.

New York, Oct. 22.—More than twenty-five burglaries in Brooklyn and the Bronx, and four holds-up in New York, are cleared up, the police say, by the arrest of Joseph Therlaunt, 26, in the Williamsburg section of Brooklyn. The detectives say Therlaunt has confessed to stealing about $100,000 worth of jewelry and other goods in the last two months.

On the way to the Sheepshead Bay station, where Therlaunt was taken for arraignment in the Coney Island court this morning, the detective said he told them that he and another man had taken Therlaunt and held up three men in the park. Later they held up a saloon, Therlaunt told his captors.

Therlaunt's capture was the result of the robbery of the home of Mrs. Emma Svasek of 1624 East Twelfth Street, Brooklyn, July 26, last. About $10,000 worth of jewelry was taken, with a pocketbook containing a ticket to Columbus, Ohio, over the New York Central Railroad. The railroad officials issued a "stop order" on the ticket.

Tuesday night Therlaunt appeared at the Grand Central. Approaching one of the windows, he asked that his ticket be redeemed, saying his sister had bought it and later found it impossible to make the trip. The railroad officials refused to cash the ticket.

Therlaunt's capture was the result of the robbery of the home of Mrs. Emma Svasek of 1624 East Twelfth Street, Brooklyn, July 26, last. About $10,000 worth of jewelry was taken, with a pocketbook containing a ticket to Columbus, Ohio, over the New York Central Railroad. The railroad officials issued a "stop order" on the ticket.

Tuesday night Therlaunt appeared at the Grand Central. Approaching one of the windows, he asked that his ticket be redeemed, saying his sister had bought it and later found it impossible to make the trip. The railroad officials refused to cash the ticket.

Therlaunt's capture was the result of the robbery of the home of Mrs. Emma Svasek of 1624 East Twelfth Street, Brooklyn, July 26, last. About $10,000 worth of jewelry was taken, with a pocketbook containing a ticket to Columbus, Ohio, over the New York Central Railroad. The railroad officials issued a "stop order" on the ticket.

Tuesday night Therlaunt appeared at the Grand Central. Approaching one of the windows, he asked that his ticket be redeemed, saying his sister had bought it and later found it impossible to make the trip. The railroad officials refused to cash the ticket.

Therlaunt's capture was the result of the robbery of the home of Mrs. Emma Svasek of 1624 East Twelfth Street, Brooklyn, July 26, last. About $10,000 worth of jewelry was taken, with a pocketbook containing a ticket to Columbus, Ohio, over the New York Central Railroad. The railroad officials issued a "stop order" on the ticket.

Tuesday night Therlaunt appeared at the Grand Central. Approaching one of the windows, he asked that his ticket be redeemed, saying his sister had bought it and later found it impossible to make the trip. The railroad officials refused to cash the ticket.

Therlaunt's capture was the result of the robbery of the home of Mrs. Emma Svasek of 1624 East Twelfth Street, Brooklyn, July 26, last. About $10,000 worth of jewelry was taken, with a pocketbook containing a ticket to Columbus, Ohio, over the New York Central Railroad. The railroad officials issued a "stop order" on the ticket.

Tuesday night Therlaunt appeared at the Grand Central. Approaching one of the windows, he asked that his ticket be redeemed, saying his sister had bought it and later found it impossible to make the trip. The railroad officials refused to cash the ticket.

Therlaunt's capture was the result of the robbery of the home of Mrs. Emma Svasek of 1624 East Twelfth Street, Brooklyn, July 26, last. About $10,000 worth of jewelry was taken, with a pocketbook containing a ticket to Columbus, Ohio, over the New York Central Railroad. The railroad officials issued a "stop order" on the ticket.

Tuesday night Therlaunt appeared at the Grand Central. Approaching one of the windows, he asked that his ticket be redeemed, saying his sister had bought it and later found it impossible to make the trip. The railroad officials refused to cash the ticket.

Therlaunt's capture was the result of the robbery of the home of Mrs. Emma Svasek of 1624 East Twelfth Street, Brooklyn, July 26, last. About $10,000 worth of jewelry was taken, with a pocketbook containing a ticket to Columbus, Ohio, over the New York Central Railroad. The railroad officials issued a "stop order" on the ticket.

Tuesday night Therlaunt appeared at the Grand Central. Approaching one of the windows, he asked that his ticket be redeemed, saying his sister had bought it and later found it impossible to make the trip. The railroad officials refused to cash the ticket.

Therlaunt's capture was the result of the robbery of the home of Mrs. Emma Svasek of 1624 East Twelfth Street, Brooklyn, July 26, last. About $10,000 worth of jewelry was taken, with a pocketbook containing a ticket to Columbus, Ohio, over the New York Central Railroad. The railroad officials issued a "stop order" on the ticket.

Tuesday night Therlaunt appeared at the Grand Central. Approaching one of the windows, he asked that his ticket be redeemed, saying his sister had bought it and later found it impossible to make the trip. The railroad officials refused to cash the ticket.

Therlaunt's capture was the result of the robbery of the home of Mrs. Emma Svasek of 1624 East Twelfth Street, Brooklyn, July 26, last. About $10,000 worth of jewelry was taken, with a pocketbook containing a ticket to Columbus, Ohio, over the New York Central Railroad. The railroad officials issued a "stop order" on the ticket.

Tuesday night Therlaunt appeared at the Grand Central. Approaching one of the windows, he asked that his ticket be redeemed, saying his sister had bought it and later found it impossible to make the trip. The railroad officials refused to cash the ticket.

Therlaunt's capture was the result of the robbery of the home of Mrs. Emma Svasek of 1624 East Twelfth Street, Brooklyn, July 26, last. About $10,000 worth of jewelry was taken, with a pocketbook containing a ticket to Columbus, Ohio, over the New York Central Railroad. The railroad officials issued a "stop order" on the ticket.

Tuesday night Therlaunt appeared at the Grand Central. Approaching one of the windows, he asked that his ticket be redeemed, saying his sister had bought it and later found it impossible to make the trip. The railroad officials refused to cash the ticket.

Therlaunt's capture was the result of the robbery of the home of Mrs. Emma Svasek of 1624 East Twelfth Street, Brooklyn, July 26, last. About $10,000 worth of jewelry was taken, with a pocketbook containing a ticket to Columbus, Ohio, over the New York Central Railroad. The railroad officials issued a "stop order" on the ticket.

Tuesday night Therlaunt appeared at the Grand Central. Approaching one of the windows, he asked that his ticket be redeemed, saying his sister had bought it and later found it impossible to make the trip. The railroad officials refused to cash the ticket.

Therlaunt's capture was the result of the robbery of the home of Mrs. Emma Svasek of 1624 East Twelfth Street, Brooklyn, July 26, last. About $10,000 worth of jewelry was taken, with a pocketbook containing a ticket to Columbus, Ohio, over the New York Central Railroad. The railroad officials issued a "stop order" on the ticket.

Tuesday night Therlaunt appeared at the Grand Central. Approaching one of the windows, he asked that his ticket be redeemed, saying his sister had bought it and later found it impossible to make the trip. The railroad officials refused to cash the ticket.

Therlaunt's capture was the result of the robbery of the home of Mrs. Emma Svasek of 1624 East Twelfth Street, Brooklyn, July 26, last. About $10,000 worth of jewelry was taken, with a pocketbook containing a ticket to Columbus, Ohio, over the New York Central Railroad. The railroad officials issued a "stop order" on the ticket.

Tuesday night Therlaunt appeared at the Grand Central. Approaching one of the windows, he asked that his ticket be redeemed, saying his sister had bought it and later found it impossible to make the trip. The railroad officials refused to cash the ticket.

Therlaunt's capture was the result of the robbery of the home of Mrs. Emma Svasek of 1624 East Twelfth Street, Brooklyn, July 26, last. About $10,000 worth of jewelry was taken, with a pocketbook containing a ticket to Columbus, Ohio, over the New York Central Railroad. The railroad officials issued a "stop order" on the ticket.

Tuesday night Therlaunt appeared at the Grand Central. Approaching one of the windows, he asked that his ticket be redeemed, saying his sister had bought it and later found it impossible to make the trip. The railroad officials refused to cash the ticket.

Therlaunt's capture was the result of the robbery of the home of Mrs. Emma Svasek of 1624 East Twelfth Street, Brooklyn, July 26, last. About $10,000 worth of jewelry was taken, with a pocketbook containing a ticket to Columbus, Ohio, over the New York Central Railroad. The railroad officials issued a "stop order" on the ticket.

Tuesday night Therlaunt appeared at the Grand Central. Approaching one of the windows, he asked that his ticket be redeemed, saying his sister had bought it and later found it impossible to make the trip. The railroad officials refused to cash the ticket.

Therlaunt's capture was the result of the robbery of the home of Mrs. Emma Svasek of 1624 East Twelfth Street, Brooklyn, July 26, last. About $10,000 worth of jewelry was taken, with a pocketbook containing a ticket to Columbus, Ohio, over the New York Central Railroad. The railroad officials issued a "stop order" on the ticket.

Tuesday night Therlaunt appeared at the Grand Central. Approaching one of the windows, he asked that his ticket be redeemed, saying his sister had bought it and later found it impossible to make the trip. The railroad officials refused to cash the ticket.

Therlaunt's capture was the result of the robbery of the home of Mrs. Emma Svasek of 1624 East Twelfth Street, Brooklyn, July 26, last. About $10,000 worth of jewelry was taken, with a pocketbook containing a ticket to Columbus, Ohio, over the New York Central Railroad. The railroad officials issued a "stop order" on the ticket.

Tuesday night Therlaunt appeared at the Grand Central. Approaching one of the windows, he asked that his ticket be redeemed, saying his sister had bought it and later found it impossible to make the trip. The railroad officials refused to cash the ticket.

Therlaunt's capture was the result of the robbery of the home of Mrs. Emma Svasek of 1624 East Twelfth Street, Brooklyn, July 26, last. About $10,000 worth of jewelry was taken, with a pocketbook containing a ticket to Columbus, Ohio, over the New York Central Railroad. The railroad officials issued a "stop order" on the ticket.

Tuesday night Therlaunt appeared at the Grand Central. Approaching one of the windows, he asked that his ticket be redeemed, saying his sister had bought it and later found it impossible to make the trip. The railroad officials refused to cash the ticket.

Therlaunt's capture was the result of the robbery of the home of Mrs. Emma Svasek of 1624 East Twelfth Street, Brooklyn, July 26, last. About $10,000 worth of jewelry was taken, with a pocketbook containing a ticket to Columbus, Ohio, over the New York Central Railroad. The railroad officials issued a "stop order" on the ticket.

HAVE KIDNEYS EXAMINED BY YOUR DOCTOR

Take Salts to Wash Kidneys if Back Pains You or Bladder Bothers.

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weak; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids, to help cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of 2nd Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

2nd Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

road detectives notified the Sheepshead Bay station and were instructed to ask the applicant to give his name and address and to tell him that a check would be mailed for the amount of the ticket.

Therlaunt said to make the check out to "Joe Slater" and send it to the South Eighth street address. Therlaunt appeared last night and was arrested.

Included among the two suitcases full of alleged stolen property recovered was a gold shield belonging to a foreman of the Department of Parks in the Bronx. Mrs. Svasek last night identified articles she said had been taken from her house. Therlaunt said that most of his burglaries were one man jobs but that he had a companion others whose name he refused to give.

The arrest, which was made by Detectives Arthur Wallot and John McGinnis of the Sheepshead Bay precinct, followed a seventy-two hour vigil at the rooming house in the Coney Island district where Therlaunt was trying to cash in a stolen railroad ticket at the Grand Central Terminal.

On the way to the Sheepshead Bay station, where Therlaunt was taken for arraignment in the Coney Island court this morning, the detective said he told them that he and another man had taken Therlaunt and held up three men in the park. Later they held up a saloon, Therlaunt told his captors.

Therlaunt's capture was the result of the robbery of the home of Mrs. Emma Svasek of 1624 East Twelfth Street, Brooklyn, July 26, last. About $10,000 worth of jewelry was taken, with a pocketbook containing a ticket to Columbus, Ohio, over the New York Central Railroad. The railroad officials issued a "stop order" on the ticket.

Tuesday night Therlaunt appeared at the Grand Central. Approaching one of the windows, he asked that his ticket be redeemed, saying his sister had bought it and later found it impossible to make the trip. The railroad officials refused to cash the ticket.

Therlaunt's capture was the result of the robbery of the home of Mrs. Emma Svasek of 1624 East Twelfth Street, Brooklyn, July 26, last. About $10,000 worth of jewelry was taken, with a pocketbook containing a ticket to Columbus, Ohio, over the New York Central Railroad. The railroad officials issued a "stop order" on the ticket.

Tuesday night Therlaunt appeared at the Grand Central. Approaching one of the windows, he asked that his ticket be redeemed, saying his sister had bought it and later found it impossible to make the trip. The railroad officials refused to cash the ticket.

Therlaunt's capture was the result of the robbery of the home of Mrs. Emma Svasek of 1624 East Twelfth Street, Brooklyn, July 26, last. About $10,000 worth of jewelry was taken, with a pocketbook containing a ticket to Columbus, Ohio, over the New York Central Railroad. The railroad officials issued a "stop order" on the ticket.

Tuesday night Therlaunt appeared at the Grand Central. Approaching one of the windows, he asked that his ticket be redeemed, saying his sister had bought it and later found it impossible to make the trip. The railroad officials refused to cash the ticket.

Therlaunt's capture was the result of the robbery of the home of Mrs. Emma Svasek of 1624 East Twelfth Street, Brooklyn, July 26, last. About $10,000 worth of jewelry was taken, with a pocketbook containing a ticket to Columbus, Ohio, over the New York Central Railroad. The railroad officials issued a "stop order" on the ticket.

Tuesday night Therlaunt appeared at the Grand Central. Approaching one of the windows, he asked that his ticket be redeemed, saying his sister had bought it and later found it impossible to make the trip. The railroad officials refused to cash the ticket.

Therlaunt's capture was the result of the robbery of the home of Mrs. Emma Svasek of 1624 East Twelfth Street, Brooklyn, July 26, last. About $10,000 worth of jewelry was taken, with a pocketbook containing a ticket to Columbus, Ohio, over the New York Central Railroad. The railroad officials issued a "stop order" on the ticket.

Tuesday night Therlaunt appeared at the Grand Central. Approaching one of the windows, he asked that his ticket be redeemed, saying his sister had bought it and later found it impossible to make the trip. The railroad officials refused to cash the ticket.

Therlaunt's capture was the result of the robbery of the home of Mrs. Emma Svasek of 1624 East Twelfth Street, Brooklyn, July 26, last. About $10,000 worth of jewelry was taken, with a pocketbook containing a ticket to Columbus, Ohio, over the New York Central Railroad. The railroad officials issued a "stop order" on the ticket.

Tuesday night Therlaunt