Vocational Classes Will Be Reopened

The vocational classes are to be reopened on Monday and will be continued so long as the finances of the vocational committee will permit. A resolution to this effect was passed at a meeting of the committee yesterday afternoon at which there were present: Dr. A. F. Emery, chairman; Mrs. R. O'Brien, Mrs. W. Edmund Raymond, Alexander Wilson, G. P. Hennessey, Thomas Nagle, Mrs. Milligan, superintendent of women's classes; W. C. Lawson, director; and A. Gordon Leavitt, secretary.

Mr. Nagle said that it was the general impression that vocational training had the backing of the citizens and that support would be forthcoming from the city council. He understood that, when the year returned, there was to be a conference of members of the citizens committee, Rotary Club, Board of Trade, school board, vocational committee and city council and it was hoped that definite arrangements would then be made for the financing of vocational training.

Mr. Hennessey brought to the attention of the meeting the fact that Odd Fellows Hall had changed owners. He as told that the committee had received notice that its lease would expire May 1, but that, in the unsettled state of the committee's finances, it had been impossible to look for other quarters or to consider the matter of the expense of moving the equipment owned by the committee.

On motion of Mrs. Raymond, Mrs. O'Brien and Mrs. Milligan were appointed a committee to confer with Dr. ridges regarding the use of the domestic science rooms in Waterloo street. Mrs. Milligan and Mr. Lawson, with the members of the sub-committee on staff, were authorized to make appointments for the opening of the classes.

PREDICTS GOOD CROP IN WEST NEXT YEAR

Winnipeg, Feb. 24.—"To date conditions for a splendid crop in 1921 have been ideal," Hon. G. H. Macdonald, minister of agriculture for Manitoba, declares. "The enormous fall plowing will enable farmers to get their crops in during spring under better conditions than for many years. Approximately 2,700,000 acres were prepared for crop by fall plowing in Manitoba. The crop acreage should be larger than usual this year."

"The winter, too, has been unusually favorable for stock," stated Mr. Macdonald. "Reports received by my department fail to indicate a single complaint regarding the wintering of stock. The dairy industry," continued the minister, "should be in admirable shape this spring. There is every indication of an early growth of grass, which is most favorable, and the splendid condition of livestock is a splendid indication of a remarkable year in dairying."

ACCUSED MINISTER DEFENDS HIMSELF IN WITNESS BOX

Windsor, Ont., Feb. 23.—The climax in the Spracklin manslaughter case was reached here tonight, when the accused pastor-inspector took the stand in his own defence. The defence's evidence began this afternoon was mainly perfunctory. The only points brought out were the statement that Trumble had made to a revolver and was in the habit of carrying it. The three sensations in the day's proceedings were the sudden death of Ernest Deslappé, one of the crown's star witnesses this morning; the declaration of Jack Bannon, who was in the house at the time of the shooting, that he saw Mrs. Trumble with a revolver in her hand immediately after the fatality; and the statement of Mark Hes-

Explosion Mines by Rifle Fire

Leading Stoker T. WILLIAMS, H.M.S. care G.P.O. London.

"Allow me to thank you for a wonderful cure of nervous breakdown. The use of Phosferine for a month made a new man of me. I was in the submarine service for nearly four years. One of my shocks was, being rammed by one of H.M. Ships about 20 feet below water. I am now mine sweeping and we are getting up about 400 to 500 mines a day off Norway. Many of my shipmates have sent home for your Phosferine, as they have found out since taking Phosferine Tablets that they can enjoy their meals and sleep well, although they have been shaken up through so many mines going off."

This leading naval stoker says it is quite certain his restored health is due to Phosferine. Phosferine alone aroused his numbed nerve centres into providing his system with the vital force to resist the ill-effects of his perilous experiences.
