SHAVING.

Washington Expert Attacks it on Health Grounds.

Shaving, apparently, is the latest habit to threaten the existence of man, says Tit-Bits.

The habit is attacked on health grounds by Dr. Arthur MacDonald of Washington, who declares that it is responsible for all sorts of evils—neuralgia and face troubles—and that such a habit tends to lessen the chances of life.

The right persons to see on such a delicate subject are the physician and the barber. But the doctor was rather sceptic.

"Of course, skin troubles are often the result of unclean shaving," said he, "but as long as one shaves with his own razor there is no danger whatever."

"As for the danger of neuralgia, it may possibly apply to a few particularly delicate persons, but surely we can afford to have our faces clean-shaven after so many generations of clean-shaven ancestors."

"Use and habit are the basis of these things. All through the winter Scotchmen and Tyrolans expose the knees. Dutch women turn their arms up to the shoulders, and Swiss peasant women their necks in a sort of round décolleté."

"Why should the practice of exposing the face skin be more harmful than that?"

But a west end barber was most enthusiastic over the suggestion that lives should be saved by beard-growing.

"It would be a blessing to us," he said. "The great majority of men now shave themselves and just drop in for an occasional haircut. But a beard has to be tended to regularly of look smart. Our few bearded customers spend at the barber's shop twice as much time as the clean-shaven ones."

He did not, however, think London's smart young men would be at all keen on growing anything but a diminutive moustache.

"Girls won't have it, you know," he explained.

And as long as girls won't have it, Dr. MacDonald will have little support.

DR. J. H. BARTON IS

Barton, vice-commodore, George Lake; rear commodore, Edward Brown; secretary, Robert J. Adams, re-elected; treasurer, George W. Palmer, re-elected; executive, Frank Pilgson, Fred. Roberts, William Edgett, and George Rogers. The sailing and racing committees and fleet captain, being appointed officers, will be selected by the new commodore later. The scrutineers were C. T. Green, C. E. Cowan, M. Akerley, Holly Lingley, and James Izzard. The retiring officers thanked the club for past favors, and the incoming officers tendered thanks to the members for their election.

TRIBUTE TO BABE RUTH IS ASKED BY CARDINAL

Calls of K. of C. to Help Raise $2,000 Fund to Rebuild Industrial School.

(N. Y. Times.)

From his sick bed in Baltimore, Cardinal Gibbons has appealed to the Supreme Board of the Knights of Columbus, which held its first meeting of the year at the Waldorf-Astoria, asking that the council of the Knights outside Maryland join in a national testimonial to Babe Ruth in the shape of a rehabilitated St. Mary's Industrial School, Baltimore, where George "Babe" Ruth was a pupil for eleven years.

The school recently was destroyed by fire, and Cardinal Gibbons heads a committee of Baltimore citizens in charge of a movement to raise $2,000,000 to rebuild the institution. Brother Paul, head of the school, who had personal charge of Babe Ruth's education from the latter's eighth to his nineteenth year, appeared before the supreme board, saying he had come direct from Cardinal Gibbons. He presented a letter in which the Cardinal made his plea for aid.

St. Mary's is a non-sectarian institution conducted by the Bavarian Brothers. Besides ordinary schooling, the course includes manual training for delinquent and dependent boys. In his reply to Brother Paul, James A. Flaherty, Supreme Knight, said that if every knight who saw "Babe" Ruth knock a home run during the last season would subscribe to the fund the school would be assured.

"The unparalleled work which the Knights of Columbus accomplished in war days," wrote Cardinal Gibbons, "and which will go down in American church history as its brightest page, probably makes it a target for many money schemes of every description. I do not presume to ask the Knights of Columbus to adopt St. Mary's, but I do ask that you approve a general appeal to your members to join in a national testimonial to Babe Ruth."

The miserable convict sat in his cell, listless and depondent.

"I tell you I ain't done nuffin," he protested to the prison chaplain. "I ain't hurt aify."

"Come, come!" said the chaplain. "People are not put in prison for nothing. What was the charge against you?"

"I couldn't make out," responded the prisoner. "S'far as I could learn they put me in here for fagancy!"

At a meeting of the Trinity church branch of the Women's Auxiliary, yesterday, Mrs. Heber Vroom read an interesting paper on the work of the churches in the mission field of Honan, China, which now has Bishop White, a Canadian, at its head. Mrs. L. R. Harrison presided.

Six Men Given Stiff Sentences for Burglaries and Hold-ups.

(Toronto Globe.)

Judging by the sentences handed out in the police court yesterday, Col. Denison is out to put a stop to the crime wave that is sweeping the city. Andrew Sullivan, John Sullivan and Harold Doyle were committed to Kingston Penitentiary, the first for ten years, and the other two for eight years each.

They were convicted on four different charges of housebreaking and receiving. Doyle and one of the Sullivans were caught at their room on Annette street. They had a plumber's "blower" and a crucible for melting down all the gold and silver they could lay their hands on. Revolvers, masks and all the other paraphernalia associated with the burglar's "profession" were found by the detectives.

It was urged in the favor of Doyle that he could not have taken part in any of the exploits previous to December 15, because he was in Montreal.

"This sort of thing has got to stop. There is a very great deal of it," said Col. Denison in passing sentence.

Admitting that they were "hold-up" men, and apparently proud of it, George Eastman, Frank Edridge and John Smith appeared before the Magistrate three times the first two admitted having attempted to rob citizens, their last robbery being that of an old man of seventy years, whom they hit over the head with a revolver. The Colonel handed out five years in the penitentiary as a fit sentence for each of them.

Within the past fortnight, including the six sentenced yesterday, Col. Denison has imposed thirteen stiff sentences, as follows:

Lloyd Groh, shopbreaking and theft, five years.
Henry Morgan, shopbreaking and theft, five years.
John Small, shopbreaking and theft, five years.

Frank McCarthy, shopbreaking and theft, five years.
John Carrigan, shopbreaking and theft, five years.

P. Maurice Manacavitz, shopbreaking and theft, five years.
Sam Abbott, housebreaking and theft, five years.

George Eastman, attempted robbery with violence, five years.
Harold Doyle, receiving, eight years.

John Sullivan, alias Brown, receiving, eight years.
Andrew Sullivan, receiving, ten years.

SYNOPSIS

THREE lives, one a path of roses, another of rocks and a third full of mud travel along together. Sometimes they almost meet and then diverge. Again they cross and thru the road of mud ends in darkness. The path of rocks becomes one of primroses and the road of flowers fills with thorns. It is a beautiful story, staged as only Tom Terriss can direct a production, in a manner that brings out all the subtle splendor and beauties. It is a picture of contrasts—high lights and deep shadows. The wild debauch in the Tower studio, with wine, woman and song, stands out against the simplicity of the life on Trumpet Island, where Richard goes to redeem himself. Valinsky's love is the opposite of Eve's gorgeous home. Then there are the big spectacular thrills, such as the electrical storm, which wrecks the airplane in which Eve and Caron commence their honeymoon, and the sensational fall of the players—one into the ocean, a thousand feet below, and Eve into the trees on Trumpet Island. From this point the story soars to new heights and touches spots never before shown in motion pictures. "Trumpet Island" is different. It is new. It is an artistic production and one that will start you thinking.
