AGAIN REPORTED.
Thomas J. Dean, of Wall street, has been reported for conducting a fresh meat business without a license. He was reported about a week ago, but the matter was not then dealt with, as the report was made by ex-policeman Belyea, who a short time later severed his connection with the force. This new report is made by policeman Sullivan.

MISSED THE SCHOONER.
Hurrying breathlessly down the South Market wharf, a little after 10 o'clock this morning, Herbert Richardson of Deer Island, Maine, a member of the crew of the schooner Little Annie, was just in time to see his vessel going down the harbor. Captain Fred Richardson, who commands the little trader, is a brother of the young man. Whether he discerned his brother or not, he did not put about, and as the dingy was pulled toward the wharf, he saw the last faint hope lift away.

BLOOD POISON IN ARM.
Friends of John Gosline, of Chesley street, son of policeman Jas. H. Gosline, will regret to hear that he has been painfully ill during the past few days with blood poison which set in his arm. Early this week, Mr. Gosline cut his elbow on a piece of iron, and neglecting to attend to it, the injured member soon became inflamed and swollen, so that he is now under the care of a physician. He is somewhat improved today.

MAYERS NOT IN COURT.
On Wednesday morning last Alexander Diggs laid information in the police court against one Mayers, who, he claimed, had assaulted him while the two were at work on the Weldon lot. This morning Diggs came to court to state his grievances in Mayers' presence, but, fortunately or unfortunately, Mayers was not in court. When he found the case was not to be dealt with, Alexander, with a disgruntled air, hustled back to his work.

WELCOME VIRGINIAN MEN.

Archdeacon Raymond, of St. Mary's, assisted by his choir, will conduct the service on Sunday evening at 8.30. Miss Frances Travers has been arranging a very attractive programme for Monday evening. Hon. R. J. Ritchie will give a bright, instructive talk to the men.

BURGERS TRY TO BREAK INTO MONGTON HOTEL
Brunswick Clerk Gives Them a Surprise But They Get Clear—Boy Scouts Enrolled

Moncton, N. B., Nov. 18.—(Special)—The clerk in the Hotel Brunswick this morning detected two men breaking into the rear of the house. They had broken out a window in the kitchen and were entering as the clerk appeared on the scene. The police were notified but the house-breakers got away.

Last night the Moncton Civilian Rifle Association held their annual dinner and presentation of prizes. Capt. A. E. Barton, president. Among those taking part were: Hon. C. W. Robinson, Hon. F. J. Sweeney, Mayor Rely, Major N. B. Anderson and Capt. McKee. The year was one of the most successful in the association's history.

The boy scouts movement in Moncton took definite shape last night when between sixty and seventy boys gathered at the 10th Field Battery headquarters and enrolled. The boy scouts, are being organized by the Daughters of the Empire with Major Anderson, Capt. McKee and Lieut. Kennedy instructors.

SAD NEWS FOR CAPT. BRITT HERE

Brother Lost at Sea on Voyage Down From Boston

FELL OVERBOARD

Schooner Nellie Eaton Arrives With Flag at Half Mast—Capt. Britt, Seeing Signal, Goes to Inquire and Finds Brother was Drowned

With her flag flying at half mast, the American schooner Nellie Eaton, arrived in port this morning and reported the loss of a member of her crew, Charles Britt, of Calais, Me. The schooner left Boston on Wednesday morning for this port, with a cargo of fertilizer. When off Boone Island, about sixty miles from Boston on Wednesday afternoon, Britt was washed overboard, or fell overboard.

Captain Hutton, of the Nellie Eaton, interviewed after the arrival of the schooner at Lower Cove slip, said there was a very heavy northwesterly gale at the time, and the sails had been reefed down. The vessel was running free and Britt with two other men was on the longprit reefing the sails fast. One of the men told Britt to go in and they would finish the work. Whether he started to go in or whether he lost his footing, the men do not know. They saw him fall and cried out.

The captain, who was at the wheel, saw the body flash by in the sea and put the wheel down hard to bring the schooner about. An attempt was made to lower the boat from the stern but it was quickly realized that it was no use.

The accident happened about 3.30 o'clock as the vessel was bearing west, nowest, about ten miles off Boone Island.

This was the first occasion in his forty-nine years experience on which Captain Hutton saw a man drown from a vessel on which he was serving, and he feels very badly over the occurrence. He said he had not slept since the accident. The vessel suffered the loss of about half of her main boom in the gale.

A deeply pathetic circumstance in connection with the affair is that a brother of the drowned man is now in St. John. He is Captain E. L. Britt, of the schooner Orcazambo, lying at Sleson & Cutler's wharf, at Indiantown. Captain Britt came over to the business district this morning and was reading a letter from his home, when he noticed a schooner coming in from the east. He saw the flag at half mast. Curious to know what catastrophe had occurred, he walked down to the wharf where the Nellie Eaton was docking and was greatly shocked to learn that it was his own brother for whom the signal was being given.

To a Times reporter, he said: "Charles Britt was the youngest boy of the family, and they had tried to persuade him not to go to sea, knowing the dangers as they were. He was determined, however, and had gone with another brother on the schooner Flyaway, now in Boston. He left the Flyaway with the intention of coming to St. John on the Nellie Eaton and going from here to his home in Calais. The family did not know of his departure, and he undoubtedly believed him to be still with his brother in Boston. Captain Britt wired them this morning of the occurrence. The young man was about twenty-two years of age, and was a fine, manly fellow."

THREW MATCH AND SET FIRE TO SISTER'S HAIR

Young Cobham Admits it in Court Today—Three Women and a Dog in Police Court

On a charge of setting fire to his little sister's hair, Victor Cobham, a 12-year-old boy, appeared before Judge Ritchie this morning in the police court, after admitting his guilt, was remanded. He was arrested last night on information laid by his mother, who said that she is unable to deal with the youngster, who is said to be very unruly.

Young Cobham this morning did not seem at all abashed, but freely admitted that he threw a lighted match at his sister, and that her tresses caught fire from the source. He and his brother were arrested about a fortnight ago in connection with the snatching of a purse from a young woman in Garden street, and were then allowed to go, on condition that they reform.

Three women and a dog figured in the police court today, but as far as could be learned the canine was "in wrong." The women were charged with drunkenness, but there was no charge against the dog. He just happened to belong to Margaret Sullivan, one of the trio, and for companionship had gone with her when she was arrested last night by Sergt. Campbell and Policeman Sullivan on a charge of keeping a disorderly house, being drunk and using obscene and profane language in Sheffield street. She pleaded guilty today to the latter two charges but denied keeping a disorderly house.

Another of the women, Miss Elizabeth Norman, admitted having been an inmate of the place, and agreed that it was disorderly.

Maria Ferry was found in an alley off Union street yesterday afternoon, and as she was intoxicated she was taken to central station. She pleaded guilty also.

A German, Edward Russeman, was told to leave the city at once. He had been arrested twice this week on charges of drunkenness.

Have You Tried STOVE INK?

Stove ink is not a polish, stove ink is for making the red covers and centers of your stove black. Stove ink will not always keep your covers black no more than black-lead will always keep your covers polished, but by using stove ink on your covers or on any part of your stove, that has heat enough to make the iron red or burn off the black-lead. Stove ink will keep that iron black for four or five weeks at a time, and will make your stove polish much brighter, and easier than when you are trying to polish red iron that as soon as you light the fire the polish is gone. Stove ink is put up in bottles and can be applied with a rag, and sells for 25c. a bottle. Use it once and you won't be without it. Besides keeping stove ink we keep the best lines of polish on the market.
