LOCAL NEWS.

There were sixty-two cases on the civil docket today.

The ship Trojan was towed to sea this afternoon bound for Cork, Ireland.

Wallace Betts, of Salmon River, N. B., had his foot crushed so badly while attempting to board a train at Woodstock on Tuesday that part of the foot had to be amputated.

The presence of Messrs. Schriber, Pottinger, Russell, Tiffin, and half a dozen other I. C. R. officials at Halifax has given rise to a rumor that $100,000 is to be spent on I. C. R. terminals in that city.

A raft of lumber containing 1,000,000 feet, and drawing 7 feet of water, was taken to P. E. Island from Pugwash. This is probably the largest amount of timber ever brought to the island at once.

The Pearl & Dennett real estate agency has leased for Mrs. Emma F. Hopkins the house at State and Pine streets, to Daniel P. Young, who will move here from Nova Scotia—Bangor Commercial.

Rev. Dr. T. F. Fotheringham and Catechist W. Burton Morgan went to Sussex today to attend the induction of Rev. Frank Baird, who has lately returned from Scotland.

The people of McDonald's Corner are getting a new organ for their church. It will be used for the first time on Sunday, when the North End Razer Quartette will assist at the singing.

M. J. Silney, of the firm of Silney & Mitchell, galvanised iron manufacturer, Union street, returned home from Bathurst this afternoon, after completing the galvanised iron work on the new Bathurst court house. A large crew of men was employed.

George E. Hughes, of Charlottetown, came to the city yesterday and returned today accompanied by Miss Hughes, who was a delegate to the King's Daughters' convention and who has since been the guest of Mrs. W. E. Stavert, at Westfield Beach.

The steam yacht Dream, while lying at Hilyard's blocks during Monday's storm, became so stained by the flying dirt that she has had to be repainted. She will go to Carter's Point on Saturday to meet the yachts of the R. K. Y. C. on their return journey.

The picnic of St. Rose's church, Fairville, to be held on the church grounds on July 24th, promises to be a more than usually good one. Special arrangements will be made with and with the Pleasant Point ferry for the transfer of city visitors.

The decorating of the market ceiling is now almost finished and gives the building a much improved appearance. If the remainder of the building were as clean and neat looking as the ceiling now is, patrons would be more satisfied with it.

Michael Guthro has been reported by the police for keeping a disorderly house on Pond street on the night of July 18th and on other dates. The witnesses to the complaint are George E. DeLong and Albert Warner. The case will probably come before the court tomorrow.

Jimmy Cavanagh, who complained yesterday in court about the ill-treatment received by him in Porto Rico at the hands of Mate Ward of the brig Clio, was examined by Dr. Berryman. He was found to be suffering from rheumatism and the effects of some old sores and was sent to the hospital for treatment.

This fall will witness the celebration of the marriage of Miss Edwards, daughter of Mr. Edwards of Leaman & Co., and Mr. Cordes of the steamer Mackay-Bennett. — Halifax Herald.

Miss Edwards is the only daughter of Robert H. Edwards, a former Frederictonian and a niece of John A. Edwards of the Queen Hotel, Fredericton.]

The executive committee of the Polymorphous Club met at eight o'clock this evening at R. J. Wilkins' store on King street. The business before the committee will include arranging for a meeting of the club which will probably take place in one of the rooms and outlining a programme for the summer.

The work of preparing the court house in honor of the visit of the governor general has commenced. This morning all the furniture is being removed from the council chamber, old city court room, halls and ante-rooms, and the place cleaned up. The wooden partition inside the entrance to the building will be torn down, leaving the main hall perfectly empty. Mr. Skinner will probably commence the decorating this afternoon.

AT THE INSTITUTE.

The performance of Reddy, the Mail Girl, by the Gypsy Dramatic Co., at the New Mechanics' Institute last evening was heartily applauded by the audience, as were the clever specialties between the acts. The play is a wild western drama, with shining pistols and much villainy, ending in the triumph of innocence and virtue. The leading characters were admirably portrayed by Harry Markham, Miss Donaldson and Billy Lawrence. The latter's impersonation of the Hebrew saviour keeper was very laughable. To-night the company play Saved, or A Wife's Peril.

STANDARDS COMING TONIGHT.

After naming Saturday and Monday for their games here, a telegram was received this morning from the Halifax Standards stating they would leave Halifax tonight and play in St. John Friday and Saturday. The Standards were informed by wire that the first game was advertised for Saturday, but rather than have the visit of the Halifaxians fall through the Alerts will play the first game tomorrow if the Standards insist.

A late message from the Standards stated they could only play Friday and Saturday, so the first game will be played tomorrow. Woodworth and Webber will be the pitchers.

POLICE COURT.

A Sad Awakening—A Grey Haired Victim.

The police court business this morning consisted of the disposal of two drunks. In one of these cases the affair was very simple. Harry Lovitt got out of jail on Saturday last and celebrated his freedom by a few drinks. He gradually faded away and when the final collapse came was on King Square. This was nearly midnight, and Officer Marshall, seeing him there, approached the recumbent form with the intention of rendering assistance. An exchange of courtesies took place, and in return for the officer's kind advice to Harry to go home was advised by him to go to warmer quarters. This Marshall declined to do, but took Harry to the central station. He was this morning given eight dollars or twenty days and the warning that upon his next appearance he would go to jail for six months as a common vagrant.

An old grey haired woman, who in spite of her years seems naturally bad, was picked up on Brussels street last night by Officer White. Her name is Kate O'Connell, and besides being very drunk was using obscene and profane language. She had nothing to say in court this morning and was remanded for a time.

Officer White made another arrest—a woman. She is Agnes Hurley, and is supposed to be insane. Some few months ago she was discharged from the asylum on trial and since then has shown symptoms of insanity, loitering around the streets with men—which, if it be a true symptom, shows that the town is full of insanity—and lurking in hallways on Brussels street. Agnes is a young woman, about twenty years of age, and will probably be sent back to the asylum.

QUEER PLACE TO DISROBE.

Last night about 6.30 as some young ladies and children were walking along the beach, Ernest Point they were shocked by the appearance of a man at the "Sliding Rock" in a perfectly nude state. Their screams attracted some young men who were sitting on an elevation above the beach. These three stood at the edge of the rocks, gathered up his clothes and ran along the railway track. The man was not bathing, as the tide was out at that time.

This and other cases which have recently happened in this vicinity shows the necessity of more police in this special locality.

NEW BAND STAND.

The first band concert on the new band stand, built at the foot of Jeffries' Hill by No. 4 Engine Company, will be given this evening by the City Cornet band. The new position is more favorable in every respect than the old location on Douglas avenue, and the entertainment will undoubtedly draw an extra large crowd. The programme will be:

LOSS OF THE ROLAND.

As stated in yesterday's Star, the steamer Pawnee ran down and sank the coal laden schooner Roland from Parraboro. The collision occurred shortly after noon yesterday, about three miles off Partridge Island. Capt. Roberts, of the Roland, is in the hospital, quite seriously injured, and his crew are at the Seaman's Mission.

Capt. Roberts says he was sounding the schooner's fog horn, and discovered the steamer when she was 400 or 500 yards away, bearing straight down on them. The steamer struck the schooner bow on, between forward and main rigging on starboard side, and but for the fact that her rigging got tangled the schooner would have sunk even quicker than she did. The captain's injuries were received from falling tackle.

Capt. Cartwright, of the Pawnee, and Pilot Richard Cline say the steamer had very thick fog all the way from New York. They were running slowly and did not see the schooner until right on top of her. They heard the schooner's fog horn.

Capt. Roberts, who owned the Roland, will bring an action against the Pawnee for damages. He says his vessel, which was built at Parraboro about 13 years ago, was 93 tons register. She was rebuilt a year ago and was very little insurance on the hull and none on the freight. The cargo was insured with Vroom & Arnold.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Between eight and nine o'clock this morning Sergt. Campbell and Officer Naper were requested by Mrs. Annie Doherty, who lives on the corner of Germain and Britain streets, to assist her in repelling the attacks of her husband, who was beating her. Some days ago she made the same request, and this morning, as on the other occasion, there seemed to be no need of the officers' assistance. Sergt. Campbell went into the house and found Edward, the husband, sober. He also found Rose Miller, wife of James Miller, drunk. Mrs. D. stated that a few minutes before she had given Mrs. Hector (colored) from Bugtown, fifty cents to go out for whiskey, and that the liquor was not to be seen. The officers went on the warpath and in a few minutes discovered Mrs. Hector approaching. They searched her and took a flask of liquor, thirty-three cents in change, and Mrs. Doherty's hat, which latter was returned to its owner. Mrs. H. was making her way to Ler Cove with the intention of appropriating the articles to her own use, and was much grieved when they were taken from her.

AMBULANCE CALLS.

The ambulance was called out twice yesterday, the first call being for Capt. Roberts of the schooner Roland, who was injured in the collision, and the second for Peter Mahine, the sailor on the Monte Moro, who fell down the hatchway. Capt. Roberts is today reported as not being so seriously injured as was at first supposed, and is able to move about. Mahine is also rapidly improving. Both are in the public hospital. Among others who have recently been taken to the hospital Garrett Hennessey is getting along nicely, and Charles Wilson, who was found on Rodney street a few days ago, by Officer Lee, evidently suffering from paralysis, is reported to be in about the same condition as when taken to the hospital.

TWO WEDDINGS.

Miss Minnie M. Clark, adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hamilton, of Fredericton, was married yesterday to Joseph Godwin, of Boston. Rev. Dr. McLeod officiated. Miss Lizzie Ebbett attended the bride and Frank Sadler was groomsmen. Mr. and Mrs. Godwin will spend a few days at the Cedars, and return to Fredericton before going to their future home in Boston.

On Tuesday morning, at the residence of Johnson Trueman, Pt. de Bute, Evelyn Marjorie, daughter of Dr. R. H. Carr, of Port Elgin, was married to Herbert F. son of J. H. Goodwin, of Pt. de Bute. Rev. Thomas Marshall was the officiating clergyman. Among the gifts to the bride was a silver tea service from Judge Trueman, of St. John.

ABOUT THE POLICE.

The following communication was received to-day for yesterday's issue of the star:

"Is that the Chief's instructions to the Police force in the article in your paper Tuesday night. There is not a more brutal set of men on British soil than the St. John Lamp Posts."
