Changing the Boy
to Save

That looks like a good way each my boy to save," said successful business man after bond salesman had explained the Partial Payment "And I am going to his lessons on the value dollar right now."

will start by buying him and on this plan, or rather helping him to buy one. I did open an account for him in his savings bank, but there enough individuality or rest—in both senses—to a savings account to teach him thing. I want him to learn his experience what is, and how and why it is interest through careful statement."

the father helped his son select a bond on the conventional terms of the Partial Payment Plan. The takes great delight in atting to the details of the statement and is thus learning valuable lessons of thrift economy.

NEWSPAPERS ON THE MARKET
SITUATION

(F. B. McCURDY & CO.)

New York, Sept. 10.—Journal of Commerce.—It is evident that traders have come to the conclusion that the crop report was a favorable one, considered from an all around viewpoint.

Commercial.—The outlook for business is still good and the railroads will have plenty of high grade freight traffic.

American.—There is an undertone of strength which some market observers interpret as a forerunner of higher prices.

Sun.—The market acts very much as though a restraining influence prevented appreciation in prices and more active dealings had been removed.

Herald.—The most encouraging factor in the general situation is a reviving demand for long term bonds.

Times.—The crop report may be said to be satisfactory in as much as it was, as a whole, as good, or a little better than had been expected.

CLOSING LETTER ON COTTON MARKET

(F. B. McCURDY & CO.)

New York, Sept. 10.—Market has been less active today. The opening was lower in response to weak cables, but market was steadied by the covering by recent sellers for a turn, and a renewal of support which reached the market just below the 13 cent level. There seemed to be a good deal of cotton for sale, but offerings were readily absorbed and active months sold 1 to 5 points higher during the middle of the day.

Bull support was not quite so aggressive as it has been in following previous setbacks. Further rains were reported in the western belt today, and we hear rather more favorable crop accounts from Arkansas, while people are beginning to talk a less bullish October bureau than was formerly considered probable, as it is supposed that the wet weather has checked the western belt deterioration. Sentiment would not be as reactionary as it now appears were there evidences of a better demand from spinners.

CLOSING LETTER ON MONTREAL
EXCHANGE

(F. B. McCURDY & CO.)

Montreal, Sept. 10.—The passage of the tariff bill through the American Senate was the chief feature of the overnight financial news and dominated the markets of the world.

Wall street enjoyed a strength and activity to which it has long been a stranger. The local market although inclined to be dispirited at the opening, recovered under the influence of New York and recorded a number of gains.

Dominion Steel continued to advance. Buying orders seem to determine the price of the stock right from the opening. The feeling on the street regarding iron was more optimistic than during the past few days, considerable attention being paid to the statement which had been made by President Plummer. The stock opened at 48 and on active buying advanced to 48 1-4 at the close.

Montreal Power has been active of late, and today sold up to 215.

The Rights were steady at 10. There seems to be comparatively little of this stock offering at present prices and a number of the larger houses have a good many buying orders at a price just a little below the market.

Detroit United was one of today's strong features, it sold steadily at 73 1-2, a half point up from yesterday's closing. The floating supply of this stock has been greatly reduced of late large blocks having been absorbed by investors.

Crown Reserve, which declined to 150 yesterday, recovered to 155 this afternoon on a statement from President Carson that two good ore bodies had been discovered, and that there have been no unfavorable developments of any sort. He also stated that a dividend on Porcupine Crown Mines will probably be declared before the end of the year. This mine is controlled by the Crown Reserve Mining Co.

R. & O., which was selling at 10 9-14 yesterday, declined at today's opening to 108. Later in the morning it sold down to 108, but recovered on the strength of a general improvement in the market closing at 109.

Brazilian, which declined to 93 yesterday, sold up today to 93 1-2. This is a little stronger than today's London market, and it is believed that Toronto and Montreal have been selling.

Cement Common was in good demand, selling at 34. Quebec Railway was steady at 13 1-2, and Cement Pfd., unchanged at 93.

Spanish River at 17 and McDonald 28 1-4 were steady. Dominion Textile was stronger today, opening at 85 1-4 and advancing to 85 1-2.

LAIDLAW & CO'S
CLOSING STOCK
LETTER

(J. C. MACKINTOSH & CO.)

New York, Sept. 10.—With such factors of uncertainty as the government crop report and the action of the senate on the tariff out of the way the market gave evidence of being in a position to respond to any further industrial developments. The opening found professional interests poised and ready to follow any initiative which appeared to come from important sources and when two or three of the leading stocks developed strength in the early session speculative interests followed the lead with alacrity. The result was a substantial rally in prices led by such stocks as U. P. Reading, C. P. R. and Steel. In connection with the strength of the first named issue the rumor was revived that stockholders would soon receive a substantial cash distribution. This as well as other rumors current was a rebash of old news, but this was only another illustration of the Wall Street adage that market news is largely made by the course of prices. Mr. Baer's optimistic interview was a stimulating effect on Reading while the firmness of C. P. R. was attributed to the prospect for the grain harvest. The Steel statement of unfilled tonnage showing only a nominal decrease for the month was favorably regarded and especially in view of the rumor that railroads have begun to place deferred orders for equipment. Despite today's strength, however, it is improbable, in view of the position of the banks, that the market can advance very far at present, though it would not be surprising if prices are well sustained around this level pending developments.

LAIDLAW & CO.

CLOSING STOCK
LETTER FROM RANDOLPH

(F. B. McCURDY & CO.)

New York, Sept. 10.—The tone was generally strong at the opening, with interest centering largely in Union Pacific. The quotation of this stock has been advanced over one point in a London story published in a morning paper that the directors would this week declare a large sized extra dividend out of the proceeds of the Southern Pacific stock, which has recently been sold. Outside of short covering and the buying induced in Union Pacific by the story, but little interest was taken in the market, but the tone remained strong throughout. No confirmation of the story could be obtained. In the last few minutes a fresh buying movement carried stocks up to the highest price of the day. Rails displayed a strong tone than for some time.

Total sales, 260,000; bonds $1,803,000.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PRODUCE
PRICES

(F. B. McCURDY & CO.)

Chicago, Sept. 10.—Wheat.—Despite the government report indicating the largest crop on record, the market has shown fair strength, prices at the low level being off only about half cent due mainly to the decline in corn.

Corn.—The government report while showing the smallest crop since 1903 was not as bullish as looked for. On the decline there was excellent buying.

Oats.—Easy with other grains. Government's statement less bullish than expected.

Provisions.—Lower on the increasing hog movement.
