PRESENT ORGANIZATION.

In treating of the constitution of the University and University College under the latest of the legislative enactments which have modified the Royal Charter, it will be convenient to take up separately the various bodies entrusted with the management of the finances of the University and its internal administration. These are the Crown, the Board of Trustees, the Senate, Convocation, the University Council, and the Council of University College.

I. THE CROWN.

The supreme authority in all matters continues to be the Crown, from whom emanated the Charter that created the University, and by whose bounty the lands destined to support the University were originally provided. Section 4 of the University Federation Act (R. S. O. 1887, c. 130), states this general authority :

"The Lieutenant-Governor shall be the Visitor of the University on behalf of the Crown, and his visitorial powers may be exercised by commission under the Great Seal ; and the proceedings of any commission, having been first confirmed by the Lieutenant-Governor, shall be binding on the University and its members, and on all persons whomsoever." A similar section (69) applies to University College.

A more tangible mark of the supremacy of the Crown is supplied by section 5, where it is stated that " the president,
