

mer resorts at Jackson Point.
Wishing you all success
Yours friend
J. S. Goulds.

39432
it makes one more interested about him than just reading about them out of the papers.

We are sure there will be a wonderful gathering of people at the Capital to-morrow to pay their last tributes to their Friend and Leader.

Am I asking too much of you to secure for me a programme of the Service or a paper which would value very much -

I had the pleasure of taking Mrs. Simms, one of your particular friends, for a drive in my car. She was holidaying at one of the sum-