

B.

Compose two or more sentences upon each of the following subjects :

1. Cotton.

2. Dog.

3. Flowers.

Let these sentences be written on the blackboard, and be made the basis of class-criticism. Correct according to the following directions :

1. Draw a line under each misspelled word.
2. Draw a line through each small letter that should be a capital, or capital that should be small.
3. Mark a cross where a period is omitted.

NOTE TO TEACHERS.—The matter of subject and predicate should not be left until it is perfectly understood by every member of the class. Of course, at this stage no attempt is to be made to discriminate between grammatical and logical subject and predicate.

IV. A LESSON IN CRITICISING.

1. We are now to take a lesson in criticising sentences, which means pointing out their faults.
2. To show the pupil how this is done, we shall take a number of examples from the last exercise as written by a class of young scholars. [See the subjects in Exercise 1, page 5.]

Example 1.—THE DOG.

The dog runs fast. The dog got runed over by a cart. The dog got out of the pound.

You see that this exercise is not well done. True, each sentence begins with a capital, and ends with a period. But the writer says "the dog got runed over." There is no such word as runed. He meant that the dog was run over. Each sentence begins with the same words—"the dog : " this is not agreeable to the ear.
