

CONTENTS.

	Page.
CHAPTER I. —The Sovereignty of Newfoundland	3
CHAPTER II. —The earlier attitude of English statesmen was on the whole adverse to permanent colonization....	10
CHAPTER III. —The former policy being opposed to colo- nization accounts for the ease with which France ac- quired Treaty Rights	16
CHAPTER IV. —The French Bounty System led to the Bait Act of 1887.....	38
CHAPTER V. —The Bait Act influenced French statesmen to encourage lobster-packing and this proved the source of many disputes.....	46
CHAPTER VI. —A settlement of the disputes connected with the Lobster Factories was attempted by the Modus Vivendi	66
CHAPTER VII. —It was intended the " Modus Vivendi " should continue only till the difficulties might be settled by Arbitration.....	76
CHAPTER VIII. —The condition of affairs on the Treaty Shore which resulted from these complicated influ- ences.	91
CHAPTER IX. —Attempts at Settlement.....	110