The most liberal accident and sickness policies are issued by which has McGill University as its centre. "This locality is far from any fire station, and long delays are caused in reaching it on account of the steep grades the horses have to climb." He considers that a fire station ought to be established somewhere on Pine Avenue.

The district served by station No. 21, McGill Street, is developing rapidly, and the temporary building serving as a fire station is insufficient. A new station is essential to protect this manufacturing section. The annexation of Villerey, of Rosemount, and part of Sault au Recollet has increased the area of territory to be protected. The city should provide these new districts with the necessary means of fire protection. Berthelet Street station will need next month a new pump and a new aerial ladder. And, finally, a high-pressure water main ought immediately to be laid on St. Catherine Street, between Guy and Bleury Streets.
