CHATS WITH YOUNG MEN

SACREDNESS OF AN OATH

SACREDNESS OF AN OATH

Should the day ever come when the solemn oath calling upon God to witness the truth of what we say or promise will be lightly regarded by the generality of men, it will be the day that sounds the death-knell of all human faith and trust, says the Baltimore Sun. The oath is the highest tribunal of conscience—its court of last appeal. For the man who realizes thoroughly what it means, and really believes in a God, it is something supremely awe-inspiring; and nothing short of duty, or direct need, or at least the most justifiable utility, could induce him to take it. He uses it not as an ordinary, every-day confirmation of his good faith, but only as a last resort. If his oath won't suffice to hold him to the truth, assuredly nothing else will. His case is truly hopeless; no confidence can be placed in him.

The oath is, in truth, nothing less than deprayed could have the hardihood to attempt such trickery with his Maker.

The oath, then, is the strongest and last surviving safeguard of human truth last surviving safeguard of human nature, if we strive earnestly to put them from us.

How plain and how helpful in this teaching! Let us conclude with a very gimple further leason:

How plain and how helpful in this teaching! Let us conclude with a very gimple further leason:

How plain and how helpful in this teaching! Let us conclude with a very gimple further leason:

It was conclude with a very gimple further leason:

It was conclude with a very gimple further leason:

It was conclude with a very gimple further leason:

It was conclude with a very gimple further leason:

It was conclude with a very gimple further leason:

It was conclude with a very gimple further leason:

It was conclude with a very gimple further leason:

It was conclude with a very gimple further leason:

It was conclude with a very gimple further leason:

It was conclude with a very gimple further leason:

It was conclude with a very gimple further leason:

It was conclude with a very gimple further leason:

It was conclude with a very gimple further leason:

It was conclude with a very gimple further leason:

It was conclude with a very gimple further leason:

It was conclude with a very gimple further leason:

It was conclude with a very gimple further leason:

It was conclude with a very gimple further leason:

It was conclude with a very gimple further leason:

It was conclude with a very gimple further leason:

It was conclude with a very gimple further leason:

It was conclude with a very gimple further leason:

It was conclud

where things have come to such as as this. Few words—none, in fact re needed to show the groundlessness pass as this. Few words—none, in fact —are needed to show the groundlessness and the nonsense of such excuses; and we can't help wondering if these who urge them really take them seriously.
An oath freely (even though reluctantly), taken or justly exacted is strictly binding; and neither self-interest, nor friendship, nor sweet charity itself can ever make it otherwise. To treat it as a mere empty form is a mockery of the Almighty. God does not lend himself to empty forms. If quibbling and equivocation are unpardonable in ordinary intercourse between man and man, they are still more inexcusable when confirmed by a solemn oath. The only coneivable explanation of this frivolous disregard of sworn obligations by people professing belief in God and His justice is thoughtlessness or a failure to realize ing; and neither self-interest, nor friendship, nor sweet charity itself can ever make it otherwise. To treat it as a mere empty form is a mockery of the Almighty. God does not lend himself to empty forms. If quibbling and equivocation are unpardonable in ordinary intercourse between man and man, they are still more inexcusable when confirmed by a solemn oath. The only conceivable explanation of this frivolous disregard of sworn obligations by people professing belief in God and His justice is thoughtlessness or a failure to realize the nature of the act by which they call the Almighty God to witness the sincerity of their plighted word.

It is high time to awaken to a sense of its serious and sacred character, for our present looseness in the matter is gradually weakening and allowing to slip from he can to thwart it by expressions of under us this strongest foundation for civic integrity among men.

FORGIVING INJURIES

In regard to the oft-felt difficulty, namely, that we do not feel as kindly as we would to our unkindly neighbor, let us remember that we must not lay too much stress upon mere feeling or sentiment. We are not required to give the same degree of love to our enemies that we give to our tender parents er to our treasured and sincere friends. No, the love that we ought to give to our enemies, the charity that we ought to show to them, is a supernatural love and charity, founded on the fact that Christ himself so loved them that He died for them, and we are all of one family in that redeeming love. Father Schuyler says:

him to take it. He uses it not as an ignordinary, every-day confirmation of his good faith, but only as a last resort. If his oath won't suffice to hold him to the truth, assuredly nothing else will. His case is truly hopeless; no confidence can be placed in him.

The oath is, in truth, nothing less than summoning the Omnipotent God into court to serve as a pledge or security for our good faith. It is a bold enough venture even when we feel that we have justice and right on our side, and how can we fittingly characterize the act of one who dares to call on the name of the Almighty to sanction an injustice or to witness a lie? To make an equal—sfellow man—a party to such an infamous proceeding would be justly considered one of the most grievous wrongs we could inflict upon him; to treat a friend thus is one of the meanest and foulest acts of treachery, and it is well-nigh impossible to conceive how even the most depraved could have the hardihood to attempt such trickery with his Maker.

The oath, then, is the strongest and lest suvivive agformard of human truth that redeeming love. Father Schuyler that redeeming love. Father Schuyler says:

An injury often leaves a gaping wound in the heart and through the opening of this wound * * * * there come rushing in at times resentment and bitterness and even the suggestion of revenge. Yet so long as the mind does not brood consent to them, we may feel sure that we are really pardoning the offense that cannot to the sender that the come in the heart and through the oppeaing of this wound * * * * there come rushing in at times resentment and bitterness and even the suggestion of revenge. Yet so long as the mind does not brood consent to them, we may feel sure that we are really pardoning the offense that cannot to them, we may feel sure that the harding in at times resentment and bitterness and even the suggestion of revenge. Yet so long as the mind does not brood consent to them, we may feel sure that the hard them in the heart and through the oppeaing of this wound * *

THE PESSIMIST

The pessimist is one who is in the habit of taking a gloomy and despondent view of things. He is narrow-minded, and by countenance looks as though he were inhaling a bad odor. Although shunned by many, he is constantly poking his nose in other persons' business, and endeavors to cast gloom and sadness in every circle in which he moves. An eminent writer, in speaking of a pessimist, says:

"The pessimist, when summed up, has an enormous surplus of pain over pleasure, and that man in particular recogan enormous surplus of pain over pleasure, and that man in particular recognizes this fact." When we run across this fellow he will tell us that the times doubt as to its feasibility. We never read of any great deed being done by a pessimist, nor of a niche in fame that was filled by him. He is never found with the "whoop-er-up" boys, who believe the goal of success is won by trying, but will always be found among those whose motto is, "I told you so."

MOST PERFECT MADE MAKES LIGHT WHOLESOME BREAD. WILLIAM COMPANY LIMI REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

Some men move through life as a band of music moves down the street, flying out pleasure on every side through the air to everyone, far and near, that can listen. Some men fill the air with their presence and sweetness, as orohards in October days fill the air with perfume of size fruits. Some women clims to their presence and sweetness, as orchards in October days fill the air with perfume of ripe fruits. Some women cling to their own houses, like the honeysuckle over the door, yet, like it, sweeten all the region with the subtle fragrance of their goodness. There are trees of righteousness which are ever dropping precious fruit around them. There are lives that shine like starbeams or charm the heart like songs sung upon a hely day.

How great a bounty and blessing it is to hold the royal gifts of the soul, so that they shall be music to some and fragrance to others, and life to all. It would be no unworthy thing to live for, to make the poor which we have within us the breath of other men's joys; to scatter sunshine where only clouds and shadows reign; to fill the atmosphere where life's weary tollers must stand, with a brightness which they cannot create for themselves, and which they long for, enjoy and appreciate.

OUR BOYS AND GIRLS

GOOD LANGUAGE

Purity of speech means something more than the omission of valgar phases that ought not to be used by any self-respecting person. A young girl should carefully avoid falling into slangy or careless modes of speech. You can shut your eyes and tell whether the worms next to you is a lady (or You can shut your eyes and tell whether the woman next to you is a lady (or, should I say a gentleman?) by listening to her conversation. There has been in recent years a reaction against the word "lady," because it has often been misapplied. There is really no reason why we should not use it in describing an attractive, polite and agreeable woman.

A charming writer has given the definition of a lady as woman in a high state of civilization.

I am sure you prefer to be considered highly civilized to being thought savage and barbarian.

"When a girl says, "Gee whiz," "It was something fierce," or "You're up against it," you need nothing more to convince you that she may be goodhearted and well-meaning, but—

Nobody wants to be stamped as common. To say to any one that she is kind-hearted, good-natured, willing to serve a friend, and that she honestly pays her way, is to say that she is a respectable member of society; but to add to this that she is common and ordinary is to indicate a fatal defect.

Parity of speech requires the omission of slang and stilly superfluous phrases. The latter, while perhaps not profane, are often not refined, and show that one's associations have been with ill-bred persons.

To think before you speak is an excellent rule.
You should make up your mind once for all to use only grammatical words and phrases to represent the thing you mean to say. Never say "hadn't ought" or "ain't," or use a singular verb with a plural noun.

Most girls have gone through the grammar school, if not further, and they have been taught what is right and what is wrong in framing sentences in English.

Vocabulary is another matter.

Vocabulary is another matter.

We acquire a good stock of words for daily use, a working vocabulary; that is partly by our own pains and care, and partly by listening to others who use good language, and partly by every day reading a few pages in a book that is worth attention.

No matter how busy one is, she should try to keep one good book on hand and read it through, page by page, although to do so may occupy several weeks. More than most people think, they enrich their vocabulary by regularly attending church services. The habit of listening to sermons does more for you than its first object, which is to lift the mind into an atmosphere of devotion. It adds little by little to your treasury of beautiful and well-chosen words.— New York Evening Telegram.

GRANDMOTHER'S ADVICE

GRANDMOTHER'S ADVICE GRANDMOTHER'S ADVICE Grandmother always knew just the proper thing for a boy to do, and sometimes she would get her grandsons together, and peering over t e tops of her glasses severely, would say to them:
"Boys, if you want to be known as little gentlemen remember that the following things should be done:
"Hat lifted in 'aying 'Good-bye' or
'How do you do?"

'How do you do?"
"Hat lifted when offering a seat in a car or in acknowledging a favor.
"Keep step with anyone you walk with.

"Always precede a lady upstairs and ask her if you may precede her in passing through a crowd or public place.

"Hat off the moment you enter a street door and when you step into a private hall or office.

"Let a lady pass first always, unless she asks you to precede her.

"In the parlor, stand until every lady in the room is seated, also older people.

"Rise if a lady comes in after you are seated and stand until she takes a seat.

"Look people straight in the face when speaking or being spoken to.

"Let ladies pass through a door first, standing aside for them.

"In the dining-room take your seat after ladies and elders.

"Never play with knife, fork or spoon.

"Do not take your napkin in a bunch in your hand.

in your hand.
"Eat as fast or as slow as others and "Est as fast or as slow as others and finish the course when they do.
"Rise when ladies leave the reom and stand till they are out. If all go out together gentlemen stand by the door till ladies pass.
"Special rules for the mouth are not all noise in esting and smacking of the lips should be avoided.
"Cover the mouth with hand or napkin when obliged to remove anything from it.

from it.
"Use your handkerchief unobtrusive ly always.

" Always knock at any private room

HAVE YOU EVER NOTICED?

"There is one peculiar thing about dogs," remarked a well-known fancier and huntsman, " and that is you never saw one pant and wag his tail at the same time. A dog is not capable of a double emotion. He can't growl and wag his tail at the same time, for it is impossible for him to be mad at one impossible for him to be mad at one end and glad at the other.

" If a dog is glad to see his master he will bark and wag his tail. If he wants to get into the house he will paw at the door, whine and wag his tail, but they are all symptoms of one and the same emotion. In order to get a man's temper one must watch his eyes, but for a dog's you have to watch his tail. The dog is likewise incapable of deceit, and heuse he is nothing of a politician. He deceives no one, not even his master.

hence he is nothing of a politician. He deceives no one, not even his master. If he is overjoyed, every emotion is indication of that fact, and his whole make up gives ample testimony to it. If he is displeased or angered it is the same way. "His oneness and fidelity under all circumstances simply makes him utterly incapable of baseness and loyalty simultaneously in appearance. If he loves you he loves you, and everything about him indicates it; but if he hates you he shows it from the headto the tail."

HE GOT HIS RAISE

A few years ago a manufacturer hired a boy. For months there was nothing noticeable about the boy except that he never took his eyes off the machine he was running. A few weeks ago the manufacturer looked up from his work to see the boy standing beside his desk.
"What do you want?" he asked.

"Want me pay raised."
"What are you getting?"
"Three dollars."

Well, how much do you think you are worth?"
"Five dollars."

"You think so, do you ?"

"Yessir, an' I ve been t'inkin' so for t'ree weeks, but I've been so blamed busy I ain't had time to speak to you about it. The boy got the raise.

He is the truest knight of Catholic He is the truest knight of Catholic truth whose sword is not left to rust in its scabbard—who is not so much challenging vociferously as meeting courageously the dangerous tenets that are riding abroad. Catholic truth is all powerful in every sphere of action, but to do its work it must be heralded into The alleluias, the Easter alleluias, are ringing in our ears as we pass the joyful paschal days—and find fitting echo in our May songs, for with loving hearts we greet our heavenly Mother, and hail her Queen of May. Let us bring the lilies white and roses red, and twine them with laurel leaves and violets and awest forcet me nots, a fitting the lists and meet the enemy in the open. Dr. Thomas O'Hagan.

Dick is here.
You and Will come over for Tea.
Lonesomeness is banished, when you and your friends are made "next door neighbors" by the Independent Telephone.
It keeps the boys and girls happy and contented at home—even when "snowed in "during the winter and when the thaw comes in the spring.
They can always talk with friends. So can you in the evenings after supper—get all the news of the neighborhood—keep in touch with the markets—do business over the phone and make money by hearing of buyers and sellers who would not, or could not, come out to your farm.

ST ROMBERG-CARLSON

The bright days of May lift up the heart and send our thoughts heavenwards, and the Christian soul is made glad during its sunny hours by the thoughts of her to whom its beauty and sunshine are consecrated. How we glow with pride when we think of Mary, Queen of May! Her virginal purity dazzles us with its glory, while her motherly love charms us with its tenderness. Suffice to know that she is the Mother of our Lord and Saviour, to know something of her worth and her work. The Son of God would not and could not have a mother unworthy of Him. She must be by nature all that nature could be, while by grace she is made all that God would have her. Therefore was she fair and comely as the lily, and as sweet and graceful as the rose in mien and in person, while her soul was resplendent with a light and glory that threw a sheen of brightness over her face and form, which made her more of spirit than of flesh, more of heaven than of earth, and most worthy to be the mother of the Son of God, because the most worthy of all His creatures.

Let us, then, crown her in our May days, with the brightest and the best of most worthy of all His creatures.

Let us, then, crown her in our May days, with the brightest and the best of all earth's flowers, while we give the love of our hearts which these offerings typify. She is our May Queen. Her pure virginal life leads us to strive for the highest virtues. Thoughts of her

A CHAPLET OF FLOWERS

Dear, set the casement open,
The evening breezes blow
weet perfumes from the flowers
I cannot see below.

I can but catch the waving Of chestnut boughs that pass, Their shadow must have covered

so go and bring the flowers

I love best to my room, My failing strength no longer Can bear me where they blo

You know I used to love them, But ah! they come too late,— For see, my hands are trembling Beneath their dewy weight.

First, take those crimson roses. How red their petals glow! Red as the blood of Jesus, Which heals our sin and woe.

See in each heart of crimson A deeper crimson shine: So in the foldings of our hearts Should glow a love divine.

Next place those tender violets, Look how they still regret The cell where they were hidden The tears are on them yet.

How many souls—His loved ones— Dwell lonely and apart, Hiding from all but One above The fragrance of their heart.

Yet crowned with purer radiance
And deeper love they claim,
Because their queen-like whitener
Is linked with Mary's name.

And now this spray of ivy:
You know its gradual clasp
Uproots strong trees, and towers
Fall crumbling in its grasp.

So God's dear grace around us
With secret patience clings,
And slow, sure power, that loosens
Strong holds on human things.

Then heliotrope, that turneth
Towards her lord the sun,—
Would that our thoughts as fondly
Sought our beloved One.

Nay, if that branch be fading Cast not one blossom by,
Its little task is ended
And it does well to die.

And let some field flowers even

Be wreathed among the rest, I think the infant Jesus Would love such ones the best.

These flowers are all too brilliant,

So place calm heart's ease there, God's last and sacred treasure For all who wait and bear.

Then lemon leaves, whose sweetn

So take it now-nay, heed not

And place it on the altar,
Where oft in days long flown,
I knelt by His dear Mother,
And knew she was my own.

The bells ring out her praises,
The evening shades grow dim;
Go there and say a prayer for me,
And sing Our Lady's hymn.

While I lay here, and ask her help In that last, longed-for day—lets and sweet forget me nots, a fitting chaplet for our Lady's statue, while with glowing hearts we tell her of our love, our hopes, and fears, as Queen of Heaven, she sits by the throne of her Divine Son, fairest of earth's mortals, asking graces and blessings for us as her chosen chil-

The bright days of May lift up the

Will call my soul away.

My tears that on it fall;
I thank Him for the flowers,

As I can do for all.

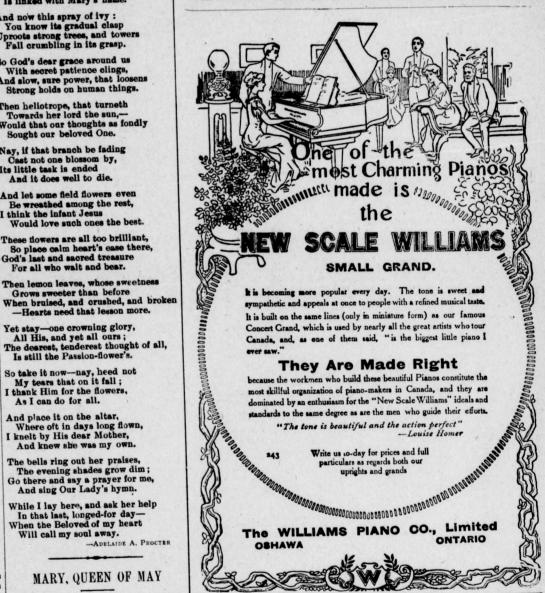

Then take that virgin lily, How holily she stands!
You know the gentle angels
Bear lilies in their hands.

So I will watch you weaving A chaplet for me, dear, Of all my favorite flowers, As I could do last year.

react upon ourselves, and make us glow with the love of all that is pure and refined in nature, and all that is holv and elevating by grace. Lovely May Queen, pray that thy children may be worthy that thy children may be worthy to the Blessed Sacrament is an act of prayer and adoration.

RENNIE'S SEEDS HAVE GOT TO GROW IF YOU GIVE THEM BUT A SHOW THE FINEST IN THE LAND WM. RENNIE CO. LIMITED, TORONTO, MONTREAL. WINNIPEG, VANCOUVER

Raise The Crop That Never Fails

Just sit down and write us for full particulars of the best busi-Just sit down and write us for full particulars of the Dest Dustiness proposition you are likely to hear this year. Let us tell you, in plain words, how very little money will start you in the profitable business of poultry-raising The Peerless Way. Let us show you why it will pay you well to adopt the Peerless methods, to make use of the advice and aid of the Peerless Board of Experts—pay you well, and profit you speedily.

Scores and hundreds—twenty thousand people in fact,—all thousand people in fact,

Scores and hundreds—twenty thousand people in fact.—all over Canada, are following The Peerless Way to their profit. More than eleven million dolint's worth of eggs were sold in Canada last year. Yet with all this output prices stay high for every sort of good poultry and eggs. The market is far biger than the present product—and it grows bigger day by day. Poultry-raising is the best business for any farmer, any farmer's child. Pays better for the time and money invested. Profit is surer. Isn't overcrowded—and never will be.

Poultry ought to be a side-line on

The poultry-crop is the one crop that never fails. Every farmer certainly ought to make poultry a side line, at least—it is a certain profit for him. no matter how bad a year he may have with his other crops. And the Pereless customer need feel no worry about finding a market for all he wants to sell in the wants to sell in the wants to sell in the want for him. We find after that for him. We find after that for him. We find a hid to have who pays the best market prices in spot cash. every farm -

Your credit with us makes it very easy to start -Your credit is perfectly good with us. You can equip your-self fully for successful poultry-raising, and you don't need ready money to do it. We trust you; and we will make the terms so easy for you that you will never feel the outlay. In fact a Peerless Outfit pays for itself and quickly, too,

Let us ship you this. We will trust you with it. show you how to succeed, and give you a 10-year guarantee.

Market PR. 184

out con

Within a month or so from this very day, you could have a poultry-for-profit business well under way.
Write and ask us to prove to you that success with poultry, The Peerless Way, is possible for anybody of good sense in any part of Canada. Get thefacts about it. They are facts that will probably be new to you. Send for them—it's for your own benefit we suggest that you send for them at once, without another day's delay. Just use a post card, if you haven't e stamp handy—put your name and address on it—say Show me'—that's all that's accessary.

LEE Manufacturing Co., Ltd.

Interesting offer and very valuable information.
You will know why The Peceless Way is the way to get profit from poultry, once you have pook you want you to ask for. With the book will come an offer to outfly you for poultry profit on terms that will meet your wishes and it. The work of the want you want yo ve stamp handy—put your name and address on it—say 'Show me'—that's all that's necessary.

LEE Manufacturing Co., Ltd.
PEMPROKE ONTARIO.
CAMADA 39, will receive prompt attention.

Besides finding a buyer for our customers' poultry-products, (which we do free of any cost to you) our Board of Experts stands ready always to advise, counsel, help with practical suggestions free,—entirely so, to Peerless users. These practical men have developed the greatest poultry business in Canada—The Poultry Yards of Canada, Limited, Long experimenting in the hatcheries of this great plant brought the Peerless to perfection, and proved it as the one successful incubator for use in every section of the Dominion.

More than 20,000

PEERLESS users are successful

are successful pourty-raising with the difficulties taken out of it—that is the reason why The Pecrless Way has proved prolitable for the pourty-raising with the pourty-raising way and you won't need to depend much on plain farming, either.

Send right away for interesting offer and

