which he returned to America.

The American the spring for the vote of the control of the contro

See that the same and the same

The More Dudes, the More Old Maids, Cats

and Humble Bees.

This is not so bad when you get through This is not so bad when you get through the preface. A professor at Ann Arbor, Mich., was discussing the process of fertilizing plants by means of insects carrying the pollen from one plant to another, and to amuse them, to'd how old maids were the ultimate cause of it all. The humble bees carry the pollen; the field mice eat the humble bees; therefore, the more field mice the fewer humble bees and the less pollen and variation of plants. But cats devour field mice and old maids protect cats. Therefore, the more old maids the more cats, the fewer field mice the more bees. Hence old maids are the cause of variety in plants.

Thereupon a sophomore, with a single sye-glass, an English umbrella, a box coat, with his trousers rolled up at the bottom, arose and asked:

"I sa-a-y, professah, what is the cause—

ottom, arose and asked:
"I sa-a-y, professah, what is the cause—
h—of old maids, don't you know?"
"Perhaps Miss Jones can tell you, suggested the professor.
"Dudes!" said Miss Jones sharply and without a moment's hesitation.—New York Tribune.

A Few Things That May Help to Fill it If you wear a fluffy bang you want your alcohol lamp.
If you wear laced shoes you want a dozen pairs of shoestrings.
If you varnish or polish your shoes you want a bottle of whatever blacking you may lancy.

ancy.

If you are inclined to sunburn, you want a pot of strawberry cream or some col-

"Thought just as much of him as if he and put up a monument fifty feet high with two angels on it?"

If you are fond of reading, you want your tavorite books.

If you ever use pins, you want a block of black ones and a paper of white ones.
If you are a good girl and mend your clothes, you want some spools of thread, your needles, your thimble and some buttons.—Ladies' Home Journal.

The Bairds of Cartaberric.

The Rev. P. Anton, in a Scotch newspaper, states that the present members of the Baird family own £2,000,000 worth of land in Scotland, and all acquired in the course of the last two generations. They employ about 10,000 men and boys; they have 42 blast furnaces, capable of producing 75t tons of iron per day; and their business not only extends throughout the west of Scotland, but they have also extensive mining interests in England, Spain and Sweden. "Immersed in the affairs of the world," says Mr. Auton, "they have never shut their ears, to the calls of religion. In this department their giving has been princely." Their ancestors were tenantramers in Lanarkshire; who in the national religious struggle took the Covenanting side; one of them, in 1883, was fined one hundred pounds for refusing to hear the curate of Cathcart, and James Baird, of Strathkave was a sufferer, whose name is recorded by Wodrow. The founder of the Garteherrie family was William Baird, born in 1765, one of the mest enterprising farmers in Lanarkshire; and it was in 1899 that he began the working of coal on his own account at Dalserf.

—M. Marey, by arranging his own apparatus, has succeeded in photographing the Frequently it costs a mean man a eat deal to be stingy.

10.5

"None whatever."

"None whatever."

"The tallest one in our burying-ground is only twenty-five feet, and I thought I'd beat it, but I've sort o'changed my mind since leaving home. Every extra foot costs like Sam Hill, and some of the neighbors might say I was just putting it all on to make a show. Ever lose any of your wives?"

"No."

"I's a sad thing. Everybody said I'd go insane over it, and I expect I had a close squeak. Curious how much a man can live through?"

"It is, indeed."

"It is, indeed."

"There are monuments twenty feet high, I presume?"

"Yes, and it was one of the best he ever wrote."

"It is, indeed."

"There are monuments twenty feet high, I presume?"

"Oh, yes."

"A husband wants to do the right thing, you know, but it isn't them as make the greatest show that feel the worst. One of the tallest monuments put up in our burying-ground was bought-by a man who was playing baseball a week after his wife died. I haven't even pitched a game of quois in two years. That shows the difference, don't it?"

"It certainly does."

"It is, indeed."

"Als, Ethel, it is too trate. He is a newspaper man and he has absent mindedly I put in the marks for the printer. Poor girl! Try as he might he couldn't conceal is identity."

Then the young girl cried "Horrible" and burst into tears and refused to be comforted.—Chicago Tribune.

Don't go out in the woods to fly a kite—only the birds fly there.

If a goose cries at you, do not cry yourself in turn. Only geese do that.

Don't try leap-frog over the cows in the pasture. The cows might object.

Don't waste your time in trying to catch two-inch fish with a ten-foot pole.

Don't try swimming in creeks where the wards if the head bought a taller one?"

"Alas, Ethel, it is too trate. He is a newspaper man and he has absent mindedly I put in the marks for the printer. Poor girl! Try as he might he couldn't conceal the identity."

Then the young girl cried "Horrible" and burst into toars and refused to be comforted.—Chicago Tribune.

If a goose cries at you, do not cry yourself turn. Only geese do that.

Don't try swimming in creeks where the wave your time in trying to catch two-inch fish with a ten-foot pole.

Don't try swimming in creeks where the wave your time in trying to catch two-inch fish with a ten-foot pole.

Don't try swimming in creeks where the wave your time in trying to catch two-inch fish with a ten-foot pole.

had."

"Couldn't no person say he was stingy any mean, could they?"

"Wall, I dunno. I never was no hand to overdot things. I'm not one of them kind to paint the barn red and the doors white and the cornice yeller to make people think a panorama is going on inside. You've seen monuments ten foot high, I spose?"

"Yes."

"Yes."

"Couldn't no person say he was stingy any mean, could they?"

Don't try swimming in creeks where the water is two feet deep and the mud six feet. It is always_well to remember the fact that sayage cows and fierce dogs can't climb trees.

It is always_well to remember the fact that sayage cows and fierce dogs can't climb trees.

If a strange dog smiles at you, it is policy to smile back, and if he runs at you, the best thing is to run back.

It is adding insult to injury to burn up the farmer's fence in trying to cook the corn people think a panorama is going on inside.

You've seen monuments ten foot high, I spose?"
"Yes."
"Did they look rich and solid and as if the husband was really sorry?"
"Yes"
"You didn't say to yourself that you'd bet two to one the husband was looking for a second wife?"
"No."
"Well, I've sorter thought ten feet was a purty fair monument, but I wanted to talk with some one about it. Folks in a country town are always full of gossip, you know, and I didn't want to set their tongues a-going. Ten feet is about up to that timetable, isn't it?"
"Just about."
"Well, I dunno. I want to do the fair thing, but I don't want any one to think I'm piling it on for effect. If I should make a great spread and then happen to get married again it might lead to talk, eh?"
"It possibly might."

oh?"
"It possibly might."
"That's what I was thinking of. You are knocking around burying grounds a good deal, ain't you?"
"Yes, quite a good deal."
"And, of course, you see more or less tombeter.

And, of course, you see more or ombstones—just common tombstones we st about $30?" "Yes."
"No lamb or top, or anything of tha

"uss rich and solid with a scroll around the 'Sacred to the Memory' of _____?"
"Yes."
"When you have noticed such a stone as that did it ever strike you that the husband was close-fisted and penurious?"
"No."

all put on 2." "Thought just as much of him as if he had put up a monument fifty feet high with two angels on it?"

—M. Marey, by arranging his own apparatus, has succeeded in photographing the flight of insects, the exposure of the plate being necessarily not over 1-25,000th part of a second.

The highest inhabited place in the world is the Buddhist monastery, Haine, in Thibet, Asia, 16,000 feet above the sea. Next to this comes Galena, a railway station in Peru, 15,635 feet. Leadville, Col., has an elevation of 10,200 feet.

Frequently it costs a mean man a eat of two months. Mr. Mayer will personally Madame Patti has decided to accept Marcus Mayer's offer for a series of concert tours, and she will visit America for a stay of two months. Mr. Mayer will personally conduct her tour.

"German

Syrup

Martinsville, N.J., Methodist Parsonage. "My acquaintance with your remedy, Boschee's German Syrup, was made about fourteen years ago, when I contracted a Cold which resulted in a Hoarseness and a Cough which disabled me from filling my pulpitt for. a number of Sabbaths. After trying a Physician, without obtaining relief—I cannot say now what remedy he prescribed—I saw the advertisement of your remedy and obtained a bottle. I received such quick and permanent help from it that whenever we have had Throat or Bronchial trouble results. I have never hesitated to report my experience of its use to others when I have found them troubled in like manner." Rev. W. H. HAGGARTY, of the Newark, New Jot who have the like in the word of the Newark, New A Safe Jersey, M.E. Conference, April 25, '9o. Remedy.

G. G. GREEN, Sole Man'fr, Woodbury, N.J.

THOSE MYSTERIOUS MARKS.

Sad Biscovery of a Young Girl Who Was in Lave.

"I' never saw such funny writing as George's is," said the beautiful young girl, as she held an envelope up for the inspection of her married friend.
"It is rather illegible," was the reply.

"O, I don't mean that," was the quick response. "He puts such funny marks in it. You know he's only written me three or four letters since we've been lengaged, it is response. "He puts such funny marks in it. You know he's only written me three or four letters since we've been negoged, it is a solution of her married friend.

"It is rather illegible," was the reply.

"O, I don't mean that," was the quick response. "He puts such funny marks in it. You know he's only written me three or four letters since we've been negoged, it is a contract that it now a transmit it. You know he's only written me three or four letters since we've been negoged, it is a contract the contract of th

Sad Discovery of a Young Girl Who Was in Love.

"I' never saw such funny writing as George's is," said the beautiful young girl, as she held an envelope up for the inspection of her married friend.
"It is rather illegible," was the reply.
"O, I don't mean that," was the quick response. "He puts such funny marks in it. You know he's only written me three or four letters since we've been engaged, because he's been in the city all the time, but when he does write one it looks so funny. It's all filled with marks like this "\" and then he makes character 'ands' like this, '\" and puts a ring around them. And at the end of all his sentences he puts a cross like this, 'x.' Then, when he makes a figure, he puts a ring around it and always draws two lines under his signature. And sometimes he draws a line down through capital letters, and once he crossed a word out and then drew a ring around it and marked it 'stet.' It's awful funny. I can't make anything out of it."

"My dear," said the married woman, as quietly as her excitement would allow, "have you no suspicions?"

"Suspicions!" exclaimed the beautiful young girl in alarm. "No, no. Of what?"

"Has he never confessed?" persisted the married woman with Spartan firmness.

"George, confess!" cried the fair maiden.

"Martha, you alarm me. Are they counterfeiters' marks?"

"Worse," was the solemn answer.

"Ethel, your husband will be out nights. He will come in at all hours. Most of his work will be done under cover of darkness. He will come in at all hours. Most of his work will be done under cover of darkness. He will come in at all hours. Most of his work will be done under cover of darkness. He will come in at all hours. Most of his work will be done under cover of darkness, he will come in at all hours. Most of his work will be done under cover of darkness, he will be done under cover of darkness, ended on to be at home at any certain time. Or to leave at any certain time. Cited the dark word beauty. "It will not believe it."

A barn roof is not meant as a toboggan slide, and shingles are rather hard on If you get tired doing nothing it is a good thing to sit under the barn and passthe time in waiting for the weather-cock to crow. A great many days may be employed in this

You may imagine that you help the hay-makers by jabbing the horses with the pitchtork and getting tangled up in the reins, but you do not, and they will probably tell you so.

tell you so.

Do not be angry if the roosters awaken you at daybreak. Remember that if you went to bed at sunset you would be willing to get up with the chickens, and roosters don't stop to consider such things.

The following letter to the Globe clears up a matter upon which there was much doubt and speculation:— To the Editor of the GLOBE: To the Editor of the Grore:

Sir, —As executors of the will of the late Right Honorable Sir John A. Macdonald, we think it proper, having regard to what has appeared within the last few days in The Grore and certain other newspapers about a clause in Sir John's will disposing of his Canadian Pacific Railway stock, to state as follows:—

(1) That Sir John A. Macdonald was at the time of his death the holder and owner of 122 shares of that stock.

(1) That Sir John A. Macdonald was at the time of his death the holder and owner of 122 shares of that stock.

(2) That he had purchased said shares in the open market as an investment and paid for them out of his own money.

(3) That he acquired the stock in the latter part of 1888.

(4) That these shares at their market value were included in and formed a part of the item "bank shares and other stock" contained in the schedule filed by us on applying for probate, and which schedule is published in The Glober of the 17th inst.

(5) That, except the 122 shares above mentioned, Sir John A. Macdonald was never at any time possessed of any Canadian Pacific Railway Stock, either in his own name or in that of any other person, in so far as we know or can ascertain.

(6) DEWDNEY,

HUGH J. MACDONALD,

JOSEPH POPE,

FRED, WHITE,

Executors of the will of the late Right

Honorable Sir John A. Macdonald.

Ottawa, July 20.

The Economy of the Egyptians. The Economy of the Egyptians.

A curious illustration of the domestic economy of the Egyptians has been met with in the unwinding of the bandages of the mummies. Although whole webs offine cloth have been most frequently used, in other cases the bandages are fragmentary, and have seams, darns and patches. Old napkins are used, old skirts, pieces of something that may have been a shirt; and once a piece of cloth was found with an armhole in it, with seam and güsset and band finely stitched by fingers themselves long since crumbled and their dust blown to the four winds.—Harper's Bazar.

Dillon and O'Brien will be restored to a sympathetic world next week, some two or three days before the expiration of their jail sentences. Then will begin a struggle between them and Parnell, no doubt, for the release of the funds locked up in a Paris bank.

bank.

A seamless steel boat made from one piece of metal by hydraulic pressure promises to be very desirable. It will last a great while and cannot leak. Mr. Parnell's mother was bitten while men who board with her. I don't think she would marry you, because Con Reagan, the track walker, is her style of man. Let us a month. It was nourished every few hours and remained in the box steadily for a month. It was nourished every few hours during the day. Every morning a pretty, motherly-looking nurse bathed the child in cod-liver oil from head to foot. It was feared that even pure water might injure the delicate skin.

PAPERS WITH SILK THREAD.

The MIII Where United States Note Paper is Manufactured.

Anybody who wishes can go into the big cane & Co's, factory at Dalton, Massachu setts, and see the workmen place the blue silk on the machine that makes the paper for all the United States notes. The silk comes in spools, and is made by Belding, of Northampton. It is sold here in Bangor. There is no more secret about it than there is about the water flowing over the dam above the toll bridge.

The real secret is in the composition of the paper. The silk thread is secured by patent, to be sure, but the making of paper, the compound of the ingredients, is safe in the head of J. Murray Crane, who received the art from his father, who made bonds for Salmon P. Chase, Lincoln's secretary of the teart from his father, who made bonds for Salmon P. Chase, Lincoln's secretary of the teart from his father, who made bonds for Salmon P. Chase, Lincoln's secretary of the teart from his father, who made bonds for Salmon P. Chase, Lincoln's secretary of the teart from his father, who made bonds for Salmon P. Chase, Lincoln's secretary of the teart from his father, who made bonds for Salmon P. Chase, Lincoln's secretary of the teart from his father, who made bonds for Salmon P. Chase, Lincoln's secretary of the eart from his father, who made bonds for Salmon P. Chase, Lincoln's secretary of the teart from his father, who made bonds for Salmon P. Chase, Lincoln's secretary of the teart from his father, who made bonds for Salmon P. Chase, Lincoln's secretary of the composition of the paper. The comes J. Murray Crane with a gr it.

They are closeted a half an hour. When They are closeted a half an hour. When they come out the pulp goes to the paper machine, and Mr. Crane and the grip go home. But the pulp is changed by that visit, and nobody has been able to penetrate the Crane secret. The company gets about fifty times as much for that paper as for other linen paper made in the same mill.—

Bangor News.

shire, has been entrusted to a local sculptor, Mr. Andrew Murdoch. His plan is Gothic in design; the monument will be 20 feet high, and is to be constructed of Aberdeen

The following Bible statistics are accurately copied from a slip of printed paper that is pasted on the fly-leaf of a copy of Haddock's Bible (Dublin, 1813), in King's Inn Library, Dublin:
"More than once have statistics of the ollowing character found their way into orint, to the delight of both old and young

 Books
 39
 27

 Chapters
 929
 260

 Verses
 33,214
 7,959

 Words
 593,403
 181,253

 Letters
 2,728,100
 838,380
 "Apocrypha—Books, 14: chapters, 183; verses, 6,031; words, 125,185; letters, 1,063,876."—Notes and Queries.

What We Work For. Printers' Album. To say that the newspaper is published for money is to say no harm of it. It has passed into a universal maxim that "The church lives by the altar"—by the contributions which the faithful lay upon the altar. And it is true, and it is not discreditable. The newspaper press is generally as high in morals and intelligence as the public conscience and mind, higher than that it can never be permanently, as the must be what society demands it shall be. As a matter of fact it frequently runs ahead, temporarily, of public morality; it often emporarily, of public morality; it often reates the public sentiment that destroys ublic wrongs; it often secures justice by roclaiming the injustice.

A Famous Clown. I have known in my life but one clown who was so naturally gifted as to justify the reputation that he gained both in this country and in Europe. That was Joe Blackburn, an uncle of the present member of Congress from Kentucky. He was an educated, cultivated man, possessing rare mother-wit, a fine singer and a natural orator. He came from a good Kentucky family, went to Europe in 1842 and played in London, where he became a conspicuous figure in the slub rooms, and, although a circus clown, was recognized by the aristocratic men of the day, who were glad to enjoy his society.—Dan Rice in the Epoch.

Robert Bonner has never raced a horse for money or won a dollar on a track in his life, yet there has not been a time in twenty-five years when he has not owned the best trotting stock in America. The one hundredth anniversary Mozart's death will be commemorated at native town, Salzburg, Austria, beginning August 15th, with a performance of the "Requiem."

An Ice Cracking Machine.

A newly invented machine for the cracking of ice is rapidly coming into use. This consists of a hopper, underneath which are two cast-iron plates covered with teeth, the plates being set at angles to each other, open at the bottom. Two perforated sheet-steel plates extend from opposite sides of the top of the hopper to nearly the bottom of the teeth, the perforated plates being parallel with the teeth plates. When the lever handle is pushed down the teeth are pressed togesher and the ice is crushed. One of the teeth plates is adjustable, and by it the size of the ice leaving the machine cracks ice rapidly, easily, uniformly and economically;

Scottish News Notes.

Another of the venerable fathers of the Free Church of Scotland has departed. The Rev. Dr. John James Bonar, of Free St. Andrew's Church, Greenock, Renfrewshire, died on the 7th inst., aged 89 years. The Marquis of Bute has carefully restored the pulpit in Falkland Palace, Frieshire, believed to have been occupied by John Knox.

A recent return shows that in Scotland (excluding Orkney and Shetland) there are 11,793 licensed houses, or 1 to every 340 of the population.

A proposal to confer the freedom of his native city upon Sir Daniel Wilson, of Toronto, was on the 8th inst. discussed in the Lord Provost's Committee of Edinburgh.

The Leith Dock Commission contemplates the construction of a reclamation wall, a deep water wet dock, a dry dock, and the deepening of the entrance channel, at an estimated cost of over 2340,000.

The late Mr. Joseph Garland, shipowner, Dundee, has left £100 to Dundee Orphan Institution; £100 to Dundee Carr Night. Refuge, and £100 for prizes to Forgan School. His personal estate amounted to over £22,000.

The Peden monument at Cunmock, Ayrshire, has been entrusted to a local sculptor, Mr. Andrew Murdoch. His plan is Gothic in design; the monument at Cumnock, Ayrshire, has been entrusted to a local sculptor, Mr. Andrew Murdoch. His plan is Gothic in design; the monument at Cumnock, Parise, has been entrusted to a local sculptor, Mr. Andrew Murdoch. His plan is Gothic in design; the monument at Cumnock, Ayrshire, has been entrusted to a local sculptor, Mr. Andrew Murdoch. His plan is Gothic in design; the monument with the leet and been and there dispusable, large or small lumps can be that day is adjustable, and by it the size of the ice leaving the monument and they are guilted. The machine cracks je or apidly, easily, uniformly and economically; the monument and they are regardly easily, uniformly and economically; the monument and they and it is adjustable, large in the the working part that the ice leaving the the had place. Fright the stand place. Fright the

One of the London stree

RHEUMATISM, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Backache, Headache,

Toothache, Sore Throat, Frost Bites, Sprains, Bruises, Burns, Etc.

Canadian Depot: Toronto, Ont. Out-classing all others for home treatment is our specific remedy called the QREAT SINGLISH PRESCRIPTION. I has extraordinary success in curing Spermatorner, Night

CONSUMPTION TO THE EDITOR:—Please inform your readers that I have a positive remedy over named disease. By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have been permanent; all be girld to send two bottles of my remedy FREE to any of your readers who n antion if they will send me their Express and Fost Office Address. Respectfully, 7: A. 35

GIVEN AWAY YEARLY. when return again. I MEAN A RADICAL CURE. I have medium return again. I MEAN A RADICAL CURE. I have made the disease a spileposy or Failling Stekness a life-long study. I warrant my remedy to the worst case. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Since for a treatise and a Pres Bettle of my invalidible Remedys Gire Experient Communication of the control of the co

FOR PAIN.

Sold by Druggists and Dealers everywhere. Fifty Cents a bottle. Directions in 11 Languages.
THE CHARLES A. VOGELER CO., Baltim

PISO'S CURE FOR TO BEST COUGH MEDICINE.
CONSUMPTION

THOUSANDS OF BOTTLE