

A New Woman!

That's what any woman is after a hot cup of FRAGRANT

TEA. It chases away that old tired feeling and fills her with new life. SO DELICIOUS, TOO. ONLY ONE BEST TEA. BLUE RIBBON'S IT.

The Unknown Bridegroom.

"During the voyage Mr. Merrill showed himself quite an adept in arranging living pictures," Mr. Leighton continued, with a scornful curl of his lips...

and in another minute the officer had passed them to the lawyer. "Now, my friends, I believe our story is all told," said Mr. Seaver...

"Now, ladies and gentlemen," Mr. Leighton observed, with a sweeping glance that included his whole audience...

Two hours afterward nearly every guest had departed, only the Seaver party, with Mr. Leighton and young Sir Arthur and the attorneys, Wellington & Hayes, remaining in a great hall...

"Do you mean that this great, big house and everything in it—all the horses and carriages, too, are mine—really mine?" he questioned gravely...

"Yes, everything that you see for miles around you, besides a great deal of money, and you are a baronet now—you are Sir Arthur Vincent Page, and those portraits over the mantel are the likenesses of your father and mother."

"Yes, my boy, for a good many years yet," replied Mr. Wellington. "Then I was engaged to you, never, never go away from him, I will repeat, never go away from him, I will repeat, never go away from him, I will repeat..."

"I can tell you," gravely observed the boy. "I want to stay with you, just the same as before, I must have somebody to take care of me, shall I?"

"Possibly I deserve to be regarded as such," said Mr. H. with a shrug of his shoulders. "But, to tell the truth, I am rather glad to free my conscience of this miserable business..."

"I am inclined to think that it is well thought of, if you will accept the trust," Mr. Leighton said to the attorney, turning inquiringly to the young man.

"I am glad to hear that," Mr. Leighton turned to the two strangers, whom he had designated as Messrs. Sanborn & Richards, wool merchants of London, and requested their testimony as to his sanity..."

"I am glad to hear that," Mr. Leighton turned to the two strangers, whom he had designated as Messrs. Sanborn & Richards, wool merchants of London, and requested their testimony as to his sanity..."

"Now, William, since that point is settled beyond dispute, you will please tell me where I can find the papers that belong to me," Mr. Leighton remarked as he approached the departed Londoner's study...

"The following morning the whole party repaired to London and the Towers was left in the charge of the butler and housekeeper; the former rejoicing greatly over the fact the recent baronet had been deposed and a legit son had been named..."

"Do you flatter yourself that I will tell you anything? curse you!" he began fiercely, when the officer in charge, tapped him sharply upon the shoulder...

"The very day that her father was sentenced to be hanged and her body never saw her, heard of her afterwards, Mrs. Carnegie had been found who would stand for them for the heavy sums demanded. When their cases came to trial, both were found guilty and sentenced to King's Bench Prison..."

"Will, if you must know, they are in the safe in the library," said the sullen reply. "And the keys, if you please," said Mr. Wellington, coming forward and extending his hand for them...

"The very day that her father was sentenced to be hanged and her body never saw her, heard of her afterwards, Mrs. Carnegie had been found who would stand for them for the heavy sums demanded. When their cases came to trial, both were found guilty and sentenced to King's Bench Prison..."

that I was excessively presuming in going through that ceremony with you. Are you sure that you forgive me?"

"Have I not assured you that that act was my salvation?" she inquired, half reproachfully.

"Ah, you are very good to say that," he eagerly responded, "and if I but dare to hope that I might be able to contribute toward your future happiness, it would be my best expression of gratitude..."

"I have loved you ever since you showed that wonderful sunrise together from the upper deck of the Germanic; and, once since then, I have been encouraged to hope that you were not indifferent to me..."

"I have loved you ever since you showed that wonderful sunrise together from the upper deck of the Germanic; and, once since then, I have been encouraged to hope that you were not indifferent to me..."

"I have loved you ever since you showed that wonderful sunrise together from the upper deck of the Germanic; and, once since then, I have been encouraged to hope that you were not indifferent to me..."

"I have loved you ever since you showed that wonderful sunrise together from the upper deck of the Germanic; and, once since then, I have been encouraged to hope that you were not indifferent to me..."

"I have loved you ever since you showed that wonderful sunrise together from the upper deck of the Germanic; and, once since then, I have been encouraged to hope that you were not indifferent to me..."

"I have loved you ever since you showed that wonderful sunrise together from the upper deck of the Germanic; and, once since then, I have been encouraged to hope that you were not indifferent to me..."

"I have loved you ever since you showed that wonderful sunrise together from the upper deck of the Germanic; and, once since then, I have been encouraged to hope that you were not indifferent to me..."

"I have loved you ever since you showed that wonderful sunrise together from the upper deck of the Germanic; and, once since then, I have been encouraged to hope that you were not indifferent to me..."

led, there was a double wedding at the Langham, in Portland place. It was a very quiet, but very elegant affair, there being only about twenty-five guests present...

BLOOD WILL TELL.

Rich, Pure Blood Will Drive Out the Most Obstinate Cases of Rheumatism. Growing pains, aching joints, stiffness of limbs, swollen limbs, that's rheumatism—a blood disease...

Rich, Pure Blood Will Drive Out the Most Obstinate Cases of Rheumatism. Growing pains, aching joints, stiffness of limbs, swollen limbs, that's rheumatism—a blood disease...

Rich, Pure Blood Will Drive Out the Most Obstinate Cases of Rheumatism. Growing pains, aching joints, stiffness of limbs, swollen limbs, that's rheumatism—a blood disease...

Rich, Pure Blood Will Drive Out the Most Obstinate Cases of Rheumatism. Growing pains, aching joints, stiffness of limbs, swollen limbs, that's rheumatism—a blood disease...

Rich, Pure Blood Will Drive Out the Most Obstinate Cases of Rheumatism. Growing pains, aching joints, stiffness of limbs, swollen limbs, that's rheumatism—a blood disease...

Rich, Pure Blood Will Drive Out the Most Obstinate Cases of Rheumatism. Growing pains, aching joints, stiffness of limbs, swollen limbs, that's rheumatism—a blood disease...

Rich, Pure Blood Will Drive Out the Most Obstinate Cases of Rheumatism. Growing pains, aching joints, stiffness of limbs, swollen limbs, that's rheumatism—a blood disease...

Rich, Pure Blood Will Drive Out the Most Obstinate Cases of Rheumatism. Growing pains, aching joints, stiffness of limbs, swollen limbs, that's rheumatism—a blood disease...

Rich, Pure Blood Will Drive Out the Most Obstinate Cases of Rheumatism. Growing pains, aching joints, stiffness of limbs, swollen limbs, that's rheumatism—a blood disease...

THE PRODUCTION AND CARE OF MILK IN WINTER.

(Press Bulletin from the Ontario Agricultural College, by Prof. H. H. Dean.)

Canadian dairymen appear to have lessened their efforts in the production of winter milk; consequently we have a shortage and a period of high prices. Not many are in a position to avail themselves of the good prices now offered for their products of all kinds, and especially for fine butter.

Essentials for Economical Production. 1. Fresh cows. It is unsatisfactory, trying to produce milk with a herd of cows most of which have been milking during the past summer. At least one-half the cows should freshen between the first of November and the last day of February.

2. A moderately warm, clean, light, well-ventilated stable is a great aid in the economical production of winter milk. Cold and badly ventilated stables mean a heavy cost for feed.

Care of the Milk. If the cow be kept clean and the milk be drawn in a clean manner into a pail by a clean person, and removed shortly after straining from the barn, there is no reason why winter milk should have a "soury odor."

A Gigantic Dam. Upon the Tunga Barda River, near Hospet, in the extreme western corner of British India, construction has been begun on a tremendous dam. This rivals even the recently constructed Assuan dam on the Nile.

An Extravagant Shah. It is high praise to say of anything that it is the most beautiful of its kind in the world, yet this claim goes unchallenged when applied to that matchless gem of architecture, the Taj Mahal.

The CZAR IN PROVERB. In a recent number of the Paris Pictorial were found some characteristic proverbs that regard the Czars and his position and find much current application.

The Nimble Sailor. Admiral Dewey, at a dinner in Washington, praised the quickness and the nimbleness of the well-trained sailor.

FODDER CHEESE. The Montreal Produce Merchants' Association being solicitous to promote the interests of all engaged in the Dairy Industry in Canada, whether as producer or merchant, desires to repeat and emphasize the objections expressed in former circulars.

LONDON'S WINTER FOG. London fogs have been legislated against, have been bottled, analyzed, dissected, incensed, and "set upon" by endless committees, but we still know no more about them than from the Aurora borealis.

THE PRODUCTION AND CARE OF MILK IN WINTER.

(Press Bulletin from the Ontario Agricultural College, by Prof. H. H. Dean.)

Canadian dairymen appear to have lessened their efforts in the production of winter milk; consequently we have a shortage and a period of high prices. Not many are in a position to avail themselves of the good prices now offered for their products of all kinds, and especially for fine butter.

Essentials for Economical Production. 1. Fresh cows. It is unsatisfactory, trying to produce milk with a herd of cows most of which have been milking during the past summer. At least one-half the cows should freshen between the first of November and the last day of February.

2. A moderately warm, clean, light, well-ventilated stable is a great aid in the economical production of winter milk. Cold and badly ventilated stables mean a heavy cost for feed.

Care of the Milk. If the cow be kept clean and the milk be drawn in a clean manner into a pail by a clean person, and removed shortly after straining from the barn, there is no reason why winter milk should have a "soury odor."

A Gigantic Dam. Upon the Tunga Barda River, near Hospet, in the extreme western corner of British India, construction has been begun on a tremendous dam. This rivals even the recently constructed Assuan dam on the Nile.

An Extravagant Shah. It is high praise to say of anything that it is the most beautiful of its kind in the world, yet this claim goes unchallenged when applied to that matchless gem of architecture, the Taj Mahal.

The CZAR IN PROVERB. In a recent number of the Paris Pictorial were found some characteristic proverbs that regard the Czars and his position and find much current application.

The Nimble Sailor. Admiral Dewey, at a dinner in Washington, praised the quickness and the nimbleness of the well-trained sailor.

FODDER CHEESE. The Montreal Produce Merchants' Association being solicitous to promote the interests of all engaged in the Dairy Industry in Canada, whether as producer or merchant, desires to repeat and emphasize the objections expressed in former circulars.

LONDON'S WINTER FOG. London fogs have been legislated against, have been bottled, analyzed, dissected, incensed, and "set upon" by endless committees, but we still know no more about them than from the Aurora borealis.

T H I S O R I G I N A L D O C U M E N T I S I N V E R Y P O O R C O N D I T I O N