Rev. Mrs. McKinstry delivered her final lecture in the Baptist church on Sunday evening. The house was crowded, as it has been all through the whole course. The lectures showed a high degree of careful study and the speaker strove successfully to prove that profane history bore out the prophecy of the scripture. Although Mrs. McKinstry is an ordained minister of the second advent church she showed a remarkable breadth of vision and there were none to criticize her utterances through her lectures. She expatiated the peculiar doctrines of her church and while her views are not common orthodox as regards the last great day, yet, she was broad enough to declare that there would be saved upon the new earth members of all churches who stood in favor of God. Mrs. McKinstry is to begin at once a series of lectures at Woodstock. During her stay in Hartland she was entertained at the home of H. H. Hatfield.

Death at Beechwood

The community at Beechwood was again visited by the sad messenger last week when two of the most esteemed of the older women were called away to their eternal home. The parties were Mrs. Stephen Cahill, aged 77, and Mrs. Solomon Crain aged 82. For many years they lived as neighbors, only to have one day between them in death. Of either nothing but good could be spoken during their long and useful careers.

Mrs. Cahill, formerly of Richmond, lived at the home of her son Samuel, Beechwood, he being the only son and child. The funeral service was at the home Tuesday. Ex-Councilor John Kinney was director and Miss Fanny Kinney played some appropriate hymns, the Beechwood choir assisting in the singing. Rev. C. O. Howlett, B. A., B. D. preached an impressive sermon from the Savior's words "Into Thy Hands" Luke 23: 46. Interment was at the Whar-ton cemetery, Upper Kent.

Mrs. Margaret Crain leaves a large and highly respected family of nine children eight of whom are still living. Annie having died a few years ago. David, Stephen, Mrs. Thomas Howard (Alice), William, Mrs. Tozier (Mary), Mrs. Williams, (Fanny) Joseph and Caleb. Solomon Crain, the husband of respected memory, died some nine years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Crain always took deep interest in Christian work and left the impress with the entire family. They remained constant and faithful members of the Beechwood Baptist church.
