THE CHANCES OF BEING MURDERED.—Dreydorff, in a new work on the Jesuits in the German Empire, just published at Leipzig, draws a few comparisons which are significant at a time of extraordinary Ultramontane activity. Statistics prove that in Rome there are 237 times as many chances of being murdered as in England, and 133 1-2 times more than in Protestant Prussia. In England it is shown that one murder occurs for every 178,000 inhabitants; in Holland, one for 163,000; in Prussia, one for 100,000; in Austria, one for 57,000; in Spain, one for 4,113; and in Naples, one for 2,750; but at Rome there is one homicide for every 750 of the inhabitants. Rome also scores the highest proportion of illegitimate children, the ratio of births of this class being nearly 61 times greater in Rome than in London. It appears that in London there are for every 100 legitimate births 4 illegitimate; in Leipzig, 20; in Paris, 48; in Munich, 91; in Vienna, 118; and in Rome, 248. Judging from these unpleasant facts, Roman Catholicism does not appear to be very conducive to public security, or particularly successful in the promotion of good morals; but perhaps Mr. Dreydorff has made a mistake in his figures.

A LESSON FOR TOBACCO SMOKERS.—Tamisier states that out of fifty-nine grave affections of the nerve-centers observed from 1860 to 1869 among men, forty occurred in smokers. In fifteen cases of paralysis of one side of the body nine abused tobacco, and two used it moderately; four did not smoke. Of eighteen cases palsy of the lower half of the body, five were great smokers, three moderate smokers, and ten abstained from tobacco. Out of twenty cases of locomotive disorders, fourteen were great smokers, five moderate, and one abstainer.

SUDDEN DEATHS.—Our exchanges record four sudden deaths of a young man named John Mines, who died in the snow at Cape John, dead in a snow-g woman named Pictou Co. suddenly at the Lorne, Cape Breton. And Mr. McInroy, of Cape George, was found dead in the snow at a short distance from his home.

HORACE GREELEY, the distinguished farmer, proposes to plant early this season a gross of darning-needles with a view to raising crow-bars. He thinks, by continued application of electricity to the eye of the needles, and deep mulching with nitric-acid-wash, that in nine weeks he can force them to a fine size and profitable crop.

A Yankee editor says: "If the party who plays the accordion in this vicinity at night, will only change his tune occasionally, or sit where we can scald him when the engine has steam on, he will hear of something to his advantage."

The life of a French woman has three great epochs: That of flirtation lasting till she is thirty; the second of skepticism, lasting five years; then comes the epoch of religious devotion, from thirty-five till death.

A Dr. N. E. Cushing, in Drowsville, Ga., has given public to the saloon-keepers of the town that he is an inebriate, and if said saloon-keepers sell him and liquor they will be prosecuted under the law in such cases made and provided.

An immense unvill block, weighing some sixty tons, was recently cast at the Washington Navy Yard. That is said to be the largest iron casting ever made in the United States.

Horseflesh is yet the favorite food of Parisians. On the 23d of January last, twenty large shops were opened in the French capital for its exclusive sale, the Paris physicians warmly recommend it as the best food for consumptives.

The King of Siam is a very small, placid looking young man, dressed in European fashion, with knee breeches and stockings, and the whole party live as Europeans would in all respects.

Daily newspaper paragraphing is getting to be fearfully abbreviated in America. Here is a specimen recording a death—Clay Spencer colored. Pint of Memphis whiskey."

Secretary Robeson has been charged with robbing the U. S. Government of one million dollars. An investigation is being held.
