Twenty firemen were carried unconscious; five badly parboiled; from Duggan's soap factory tanks, containing 70,000 gallons of soap fat which exploded in New York on Friday. The loss is fifty thousand.

Ray Northrup of St. John, employed on the steamer Crystal Stream went bathing from the side of the steamer while in Grand Lake on Saturday, took cramps and was drowned.

George Good, 18 years old, brakeman, fell from a moving train at Glace Bay on Thursday last and the wheels went over his leg which was amputated next morning. He died three hours later. He belonged to Springfield.

Twelve years in the penitentiary for burglary was the sentence pronounced on Samuel Gries in Salt Lake City on the 11th, inst., who in 1877 won the Victoria Cross for saving the life of Lord Roberts.

At Digby, on Saturday, Mrs. Herbert Forest intended giving her sick child a dose of castor oil but by mistake got hold of the carbolic acid bottle and administered a large spoonful of the poison. The child died in dreadful agony.

A London despatch says: Sir Charles Tupper is visiting London after a stay with friends in Cornwall. The veteran Canadian statesman appears to be in excellent health, walking briskly about. He says he has quite recovered from his recent indisposition.

Harry W. Cox, a well known business man of Halifax, went in a row boat to see the races at the North West Arm. He went in to bathe, but in a few minutes was seen to throw up his hands and when his wife waded out and reached him he was dead. Death was due to a rush of blood to the head.

Professor Mayer of the Commission which is investigating in London Rider Haggard's report colonizing, quoted the Canadian Home-stead Act, to show that such a project as Haggard proposes cannot be carried into operation by the Dominion because it is against the Act.

The terns sohr, Silver Leaf, bound from New York for Diligent River was driven ashore last Friday night in a dense fog on Partridge Island near Pembroke, N. S., and carried away hawsprits, jib, boom and all head gear in striking against the rocks. Tugs went from Halifax to her assistance.

A Montreal despatch says: It is now well understood by the Grand Trunk Pacific inside circles that from 800 to one thousand miles of the new Transcontinental railway will be permanently located by October and all placed under contract a little later.

Mr. M. E. Plant's superb steam yacht Venita arrived in port last Friday night about eight o'clock and remained till Saturday evening when she set sail for Montreal and Chicago. The Venita is about the largest and most luxuriously finished yacht that has ever called at this port.

A sixteen year old girl named Carrie McDonald was drowned at Glace Bay on Saturday while attempting to wade across the old coal reservoir approaches which slope gradually. The soon stopped beyond her depth and the children with her were unable to render any assistance. When the body was recovered life was extinct.

At the next Parliamentary session, Canada's fiscal year will be made uniform with that of the Mother Country, that is to terminate on March 31. This will enable the departments blue books to be printed in time for Parliament to meet in November each year, commencing in 1906.

A Winnipeg despatch of the 9th, says: The first of the grain harvests in the west is now under way according to today's report of the C. P. R. Cutting has commenced in many districts, especially general next week. The crop has made wonderful advancement during the week. Wheat is generally looking fine, and there are no reports of damage and no signs of any rust.

Ottawa advices of the 13th say: Several fatalities are reported as a result of a blizzard. In Torblon township two men putting up their horses in a stable were struck and both killed. At Masson near here a girl named McNamara was killed and her father and sister hurt. Later reports indicate that the wind and rain did great damage to the crops in Eastern Ontario and Western Quebec.

There was a fair attendance at the regular meeting of the Cheese Board on Friday. The usual telegrams of prices failed to come to hand. Saturday last was our warmest day. The mercury went up to 86½ in the shade.

The annual meeting of the Maritime Board of Trade, opens at Yarmouth, N. S., to-day.

The shooting matches of the Provincial Rifle Association commenced at the Kensington Range yesterday and are now going on.

Joseph F. Hannan, Esq. Barrister of Lynn, Mass., and his son John L. Hannan, who had been spending a short vacation here left for their home this morning. They were delighted with their visit.

A terrific electrical storm passed over Liverpool, N. S., on Monday, flooding the streets. One woman was killed. This has evidently been the tail end of the terrific electrical storm passing over New York and Maine, elsewhere referred to.

Thousands of people, all over Canada, will sincerely regret the death of Mr. George H. Ham, of the Canadian Pacific Railway, which occurred in Montreal on Saturday last. He had a wide circle of acquaintances and was a favorite with all.

It is reported from Montreal that a conference of Provincial Premiers is to take place at Charlottetown early in September. The object is understood to be the formulation of some plan of united action in a demand on the Federal Government for more money.

A magnificent monument erected by Quebec citizens in memory of the Quebec who fell in the South African War, was unveiled with solemn and impressive ceremonies in the ancient capital yesterday, by His Excellency, the Governor General.

The most disastrous land-slide in the history of British Columbia occurred about a quarter of a mile from Spencer's Bridge, B. C., Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, when a large bank of gravel broke away from the mountain on the north side of the Thompson River hurling itself into the river and on to an Indian reservation on the south side, completely demolishing every building killing at least eighteen people. The dead so far discovered, who are all Indians, include three women, four children and three men and there are known to be eight more bodies missing.

H. E. Smith, D. D. S., left here for his home in Boston, on Sunday of last week. The Doctors rapidly increasing practice necessitates his getting larger and better equipped apartments in the new Elm Hill Chambers, now building at corner of Warren Street and Chisholm Park. He moves into his new quarters next month. He is adding another dental chair to his outfit which will be better prepared than ever to please his patients. While not forgetful of his Island home the Dr. has unbounded faith in the land of the Stars and Stripes.

Archbishop Chappelle of New Orleans died on Wednesday last, a victim of the yellow fever now raging there. Deceased was a very eminent churchman and was only sixty three years of age. He had been Apostolic Delegate to the Philippines and Porto Rico at the time of his death. When the fever broke out in his episcopal city he was absent on a Confirmation tour in the State of Louisiana, and might have escaped the contagion. But he hastened to the stricken city and devoted himself to ministering to the afflicted fever patients and that contracted the deadly disease and died a martyr of charity.

Widespread damage was caused by a thunderstorm of unusual violence, which burst over New York and vicinity on Sunday. A boat house was struck with lightning, Jeanette Freer, aged 90 was killed and a dozen persons rendered unconscious. A trolley car was struck and fourteen persons were injured. Many boats in the harbor were capsized, five hundred immigrants were in danger for an hour on two barges which broke from the tug. Reports from the Saco Valley, Maine, show that a large section of that State was visited early the same morning by what was pronounced to be the worst tempest ever known there. The country affected extends from Bar Mill to Old Orchard and from Bar Mills to West Baxter. Two electrical storms met over the valley lightning being followed by a furious wind and hailstorm. Several farm buildings were struck by bolts, and trees were uprooted, orchards being extensively damaged. No personal injury so far has been reported.
