☞ The Waterloo salt well is a complete failure.

At the Paris Fair in a Yankee steam fakery, where the wheel goes in at one end, and comes out Boston crackers at the other.

☞ A Pennsylvania editor, in an appeal to his patrons, says, "The editor wants grain, pork, tallow, candles, whiskey, linen, beeswax, wool, and anything else he can eat."

☞ An Indiana paper refused lately to publish outsiders' grain, but added, "We will publish the simple announcement of the death of any of our friends with pleasure."

☞ The doctors advise us "to keep the head cool." Too gents can accomplish this by not carrying bricks in their hats, and the ladies by discharging waterfalls and wearing the latest style of bonnet.

☞ A spirited lady caught her husband the other day in the act of breaking up her crinolines hoops. The exertion or something else had a singular effect upon him. His hair came out at an astonishing rate.

The wheat harvest in Southern Illinois began a week ago, and is now going on as far north as Springfield. The grain is very heavy, ripe and excellent. The yield of the State will be immense.

A western paper tells us of a German in Chicago, who wears a beard reaching below his knees, although he is scarcely five feet high. He is a good deal troubled in walking lest he should step on it, and really does not know what to do with it. Why does he not wrap it up in his ears—they must be long enough.

COLD-BLOODED ASSASSINATION.—Fortress Monroe, July 3—Three negroes entered the house of Mr. Reeves Foster, a few days since seized the family and shot them in an outhouse, then robbed the house and afterwards murdered Mr. and Mrs. Foster, their daughter and her infant child, and fired upon a younger daughter who was escaping with a child, wounding the daughter and killing the child, he assassins escaped.

A few days ago it was discovered that the Montreal correspondent of the New York Herald was a fellow employed in the Montreal Telegraph Company's office, and he was at once discharged. He had been sending all sorts of stuff, just such as suits the Herald, charging the people of Canada with disloyality, that Confederation was being forced upon them against their will, and that they were ready to spring into the arms of the Yankees. In discharging him the company did perfectly right. And he as warmly admires the land of greenbacks and bloody patriotism, let him hang up his hat there immediately. It's the best place for him.

A farmer in the State of Connecticute has a pair of twin daughters. They both attend the same school, and not long since one of them, who is rather averse to studying, was called up by the teacher to recite a lesson in geography, which she had learned very imperfectly—in fact, she could not go on at all. The teacher was getting out of patience, when he was called to another part of the room for a moment. No sooner was his back turned, when the twin sister sprang to the floor, unobserved, and pushed the delinquent pupil to her seat. The teacher returned, and proceeded with his questions, which were answered with a degree of promptness and accuracy which, at the close drew from him a few words of commendation. The joke, however, was discovered next day, but the teacher thought it too good and successful to give occasion for offence.

The New York Tribune says:—"In the Feejee Islands, when a man dies there is always a notable cutting and slashing of live human flesh and a smell of roast meat. The women burn their bodies and shinned friends cut off their fingers to festoon the grave. There was something rather worse than this the other day in the suburbs of New York. A funeral party went from this city to Calvary Cemetery, and stopped on the road to console themselves drinking at a tavern. The merits of the deceased came up for discussion and the result was a furious fight, in which whips, knives, stones, and bludgeons were used with bloody effect, the women keeping the men supplied with missiles, and sometimes joining in the fray themselves. One heroe old lady is said to have particularly distinguished herself by jumping on the bodies of her prostrate foes. A child is reported to have been killed and 14 persons injured.

An ingenious but simple mode of adjusting the soldier's knapsack has been devised by Dr. Dolmage, deputy inspector of army hospitals, and is worth attention. It aims at doing away with all superfluous belts and straps and corsists of a yoke made to fit the shoulders equally, and of a piece of leather to encircle the shoulder joint, so as to allow the arm free play and avoid all impediment to either respiration or circulation. It has been submitted to the authorities for trial.

Ingenious, very—If True.

In this connection (as the phrase goes now a-days, when scribblers want to connect two things as wide apart as heaven and——earth or in any case Paris and Dublin), a story of stripping told me yesterday is the best thing I have heard for some time. An ensign in the 52nd regiment, one of those appointed to keep the peace in Ireland, with a detachment of only a dozen men, last week surprised a meeting, the treasonable nature of which could not be mistaken. The door of the place having been secured, every man of the lot was made a prisoner, and the suspected Fenians greatly outnumbering the soldiers with every chance of rescue being attempted from without, the ensign determined to march off his prisoners to headquarters as soon as possible. Circumstances prevented himself and half his men leaving the spot. A non-commissioned officer and five men to take over twenty prisoners along five or six miles of road! How could they be got along? No handcuffs—no anything! The corporal hit on it. He stripped them all of everything but shirts and trousers, and with a knife cut off every button on the latter. Two of his men led the way; then came the prisoners, all holoing up their trousers with both hands then two fixed bayonets, and he brought up the rear himself. The designer of such a handcuffing system must have had a sense of the ludicrous about him that must have made that march a patonine he will never forget! They could not let their trousers go, or they would be hoobled; while the natural delicacy of even a Fenian would force them to hold both corners together at the waist! Could a Yankee beat that for a handcuff? The corporal, by way of distinction, should be allowed to hang his medals on his trousers for the future, and not on the reverse side. That the thing occurred, I am positive, for I have known the ensign from a baby, and have great faith in his veracity. That his corporal's invention was entitled to a patent I cannot assert to positively, but I never heard of it before; and, if it is now, I make Captain Prince a gratuitous present of a notion that may be useful to him some day or other.—London cor. Globe.

BAYFIELD.
July 9th, 1867.

To the Editor of the Huron Signal.

VOLUNTEER PIC-NIC.—Dear Editor I have just returned from a pic-nic given in Bayfield as a small tribute to our noble Volunteers and a more pleasant day I have never spent in Canada out or west, I remarked many of our old settlers there who in early life had trod den the land of the rose, the shamrock and the thistle who like ourselves crossed the wide Atlantic Ocean under the triune banner of a dear and mother country pioneered their way into these western wilds of British North America and assisted to make roads and to drive the wild beasts and wild bush from their cabin door, and while reviewing these noble volunteers with care sobriety and industry they gathered toge ther a sufficiency of this worlds goods to carry them across the stage of life, and when their old cabins rotted down, was able with the assistance of their hardy children to build dwellings that would be no disgrace to their father land. How proud they were to see how well our volunteers went through their exercise, and how safe we feel now that our eyes are so dim that we could not shoot a haystack that we have such fine young men to watch over us who could shoot the smallest bird flying. But says you old fellow you are off the track, you was going to tell us about the pic-nic. well every person was there that I knew and many that I did not know, as it was the volunteers day, I shall not attempt to mention names of all the leading gentry, but I was glad to see our old Captain W. W. Connor, as usual making himself useful and pleasant in every corner. Lieut. Jackson who gave command excellent himself well, and so did the other officers and men. The table was spread in our capacious new Drill Shed, altho the table was a temporary one it was capable of supporting loads of the good things of this life placed there by those beautiful ladies who knows where to place every thing to the best advantage, no less than five hundred and nineteen adults partook from the well supplied restored as well as a large number of smaller grouth the public are grateful to those ladies and gentlemen who helped to get the affair up it well be remembered for life. After tea our Bayfield Brass Band left the shed where they had discoursed sweet music during the afternoon to give the young people a chance to trip the light fantastic-toe on the ground, and a more beautiful sight could not be desired, than to see the crowds enjoying the sport, and every thing ended with regret because it was night and they had to seperate from. Yours Truly.

CHAS. E. ARCHIBALD.
Goderich, August 22nd, 1866. w103

To the Independent Electors
OF THE
SOUTH RIDING
OF THE
COUNTY OF HURON,

GENTLEMEN,—Having been nominated at the Convention of the Liberal Conservative party, held at Clinton on the 29th ult., as a Candidate for the representation of this Riding in the Local Legislature of Ontario, and having received numerous assurances of support from persons of various shades of political opinion, I have consented to offer myself for your suffrages at the election to take place, in all probability, at no distant period.

In the meantime, I shall take the opportunity of visiting the several municipalities, that you may become better acquainted with the sentiments which I profess, and I trust that they will be found so to accord with your own, that you will be enabled to give me a generous support.

I am, gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
ISAAC CARLING.

To the
Free and Independent Electors
OF THE
NORTH RIDING OF HURON

GENTLEMEN:—

Having been nominated by the Reform Convention, held at Clinton on the 4th of this month, as a candidate for the Representation of your Riding in the Local Legislature of Ontario, and having received assurances of support from many friends, over the whole constituency, I have accepted the nomination then made, and in doing so I hope to receive a cordial and generous support from you, to whom is entrusted the privilege of the franchise.

My principles are not such as to satisfy every shade of political opinion; they are, however, as is well known, to maintain what is good—to reform what is corrupt and obsolete, endeavoring to secure right government, in as economical a manner as is consistent with safety.

There are no questions before the public of great importance. Confederation having absorbed all others, it is my desire that it should receive a fair trial, trusting that it will be the means of allaying the sectional jealousies that have so long distracted the country.

Having been actively engaged for the last two years in our municipal affairs, the experience I have gained may, if you see fit to elect me, prove useful in further improving our municipal and assessment laws. It might not serve any useful purpose to go into an immediate personal canvass, but I hope when the contest fairly commences, to meet you in various places over the Riding to make explanations, and set forth my views at greater length, and until that time, I would ask you to refrain from pledging your influence and support to any of my opponents, so that you may be in a position to judge for yourselves as to our respective merits.

I am, gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
THOMAS GIBSON.
