For Whom Do You Dress?

By RUTH CAMERON.

For whom do you dress? A friend of mine bought a new gown last week. It was a very pretty gown and she paid more for it than she had meant to. Plainly she regarded it as a terrible extravagance and took that uncomfortable delight in it which ones do in such forbidden fruit. It was spread out on the bed when she took me into see it. As she finished showing me the excellent points which had tempted her, she said with her eyes shining, "I can't imagine Alice when she sees me at the tea next week. It's exactly the sort of gown that will hit her hard. She thinks I'm going to wear that old brown dress. I guess this will surprise her."

She Judges People By Their Clothes.

Now, strangely enough, Alice is not an intimate friend that her opinion should mean so much. She is simply one of the "crowd" who dresses rather well herself and judges other people largely by the way they dress.

And yet it was perfectly evident that when my little friend judged her household accounts to be able to buy that gown she had done it partly to impress Alice.

It seemed absurd, and yet, as I thought it over, it seemed to me that most women have some particular person or persons in mind for whom they dress.

Some Other Woman's Envy the Goal. They are not actively conscious of the fact but when they are planning and buying their clothes they see things through the eyes of this other person or persons. "Grace will wear that looks cheap." "I ought not to pay so much but I know Gertrude will be crazy about it and envy me." These are the lurking subconscious thoughts in their minds as they ponder the great question.

Some women, of course, dress primarily for their husbands, but fewer, I think, than is conveniently supposed. Husbands are apt to be queer about such matters and to like some

This is to certify that fourteen years ago I got the cords of my left wrist nearly severed, and was for about nine months that I had no use of my hand, and tried other Liniments, also doctors, and was receiving no benefit. By a persuasion from a friend I got MINARD'S LINIMENT and used one bottle which completely cured me, and have been using MINARD'S LINIMENT in my family ever since, and find it the same as when I first used it, and would never be without it.

Mines Found.

Washington, July 20.—Although Captain Christie, of the armored cruiser San Diego reported his belief that it was a torpedo that sent the ship down off Long Island yesterday, further reports to-day showing that five or six mines were destroyed by warships in the vicinity last night strengthened the opinion of naval officers here that an enemy submarine was not responsible for the disaster.

A statement by Rear Admiral Palmer, acting secretary of the navy, declaring the gallant conduct of Captain Christie and his men, emphasized the absence of any evidence of the reappearance of the enemy raider.

That there was little if any loss of life is indicated by the fact that the

DOING STUNTS.

Best time at our house is when Pa comes home from work, and then After supper's over he Looks at Ma an' then at me. Puts his napkin down an' grunts "Bud, we'd better go out stunts."

Then I give a run an' jump Right up on him with a bump Catch him round the neck an' crawl Way up high an' never fall.

Sometimes too he lets me stand On his shoulders, with his hand Steady, me awhile till I've Got myself all set to dive. Then he says: "Now let 'er go!" An' headfirst I tumble low, But this floor I never meet Coz he holds me by the feet. An' between his legs I swing Just as slick as anything.

Then he lies upon the floor, An' he takes my hands once more An' I stiffen out an' he Tries to catch me on his knee. Sometimes though we fumble that An' I squish his stummick flat An' he says "We're gettin' rough. Guess that one will be enough." But I beg for just one more An' he swings me from the floor.

Ma's so tender-hearted, she Won't stay in the room to see All our tricks—she thinks I might Jump before Pa's got me tight, An' at times I get a fall, But it never hurts at all. For I'm big an' strong an' I Take a bump an' never cry. Do'n' stunts with Pa. Gee whiz! That's the finest fun there is.

THE BEAUTIFUL MOUTH.

If your mouth is neither large nor small and is graceful and firm, if your lips are neither thick nor thin, nor compressed nor weak, but are naturally perfect in shape, they would not achieve beauty without an expression of frankness and amiability. Frankness, amiability and content in the mouth is its greatest charm. No artificial tint ever added beauty to a natural nature. It only makes the mouth appear broader and injures the texture of the lips.

Your eyes have met the gift of smiling to nearly such a degree as your mouth. To prove this, you may take a picture of a face with a sad expression and paste over the lines of depression on the smiling face. You will find the entire expression of the face changed at once, although the eyes themselves have not been altered. The bad habit, that so many girls have, of biting their lips to make them red, thickens them and dries them so that they become chapped and colorless and lose their delicate curves.

Constantly wetting the lips with the tongue is an unpleasant sight. You will see one woman going along with her lips hanging open, another with the lower lip thrust forward will be chewing her lips, another will have her lips screwed up to one side, and so on. A little will power is all that is necessary to overcome these habits.

If your general health is good your lips will naturally be a good color. If the circulation is poor the lips will be purple. If your digestion is bad your lips will be white, if your whole system lacks tone and vigor, your lips will be lacking in color. Therefore, instead of resorting to carmine, to improve the color of the lips, build up the constitution by all the means that make for health and beauty.

Household Notes.

Cheese-making is a very simple art. Blueberries can be canned without sugar.

Tomatoes for canning must never be overripe. Excellent muffins can be made of barley and hominy.

A good marmalade is made of oranges and apricots. Quick breads can be very well made without any wheat flour.

Raspberries can be preserved in the sun as well as strawberries. Rice omelet may be made with peas left over. The rice is best used hot.

Fruit pies economically made without any undercrust are most delicious.

Fine white felt hats, past their usefulness, can be thoroughly washed and cut into soft, little moccasins for the baby.

CARELESS SLACKING.

A million cars thus wasteful stand, as we proceed to press; the gas thus burned, throughout the land, would make a lake, I guess. Ere long months that Uncle Sam will shut off the supply, and then, from York to Yuba Dam we'll cuss the "wasteful guy. I see men slacking" every day, unconscious that they slack; Jinks throws a pair of shoes away, because one has a crack. Bilks squanders money when he supe, but has no ill-intents; Jones feeds a string of useless pups, not worth eleven cents. Crips buys more garments than he needs, and gorgeously he's dressed; Crump blows himself for Cuban weeds when twofers would be best. We all should save in every style, to swat those Teuton scamps; and when we have a little pile, invest in bonds or stamps.

Household Notes.

Freshly made jelly really has a finer flavor than that which has stood for a long time.

Try whipping cream in small glass globes used for gold fish. It does not spatter.

In cases of burns, powdered charcoal soothes the pain and heals the sore very quickly.

To make pies deliciously brown on top, brush over with milk just before putting them into oven.

Warm soda water is the best thing with which to remove dirt from old furniture which is to be renewed.

To keep a meringue from falling, mix in a tablespoonful of baking powder just before putting meringue on pie.

Sew a loop to the inside of a hat where it will not show, if you wish to be sure of your hat staying on its hook.

Whole tomatoes for salads may be put up in stone jars and covered with weak vinegar sweetened and spiced.

Cut links to match the buttons used on a shirtwaist may be made by joining two of the buttons with strong thread.

Without harming the most delicate china, brown spots may be removed from it by burying completely in earth.

Instead of resprinkling small articles which have become too dry to iron, hold them in the steam of a tea-kettle.

Beat a cake batter as little as possible after flour has been put into mixture.

When potatoes and other vegetables take place of bread at a meal, one may venture to have the dessert of short-cake.

Pour boiling water over raisins, and let them stand a minute; then pour off and you can pinch the seed off at each end.

To clean decanters, use soapy water and fine sand and shake until glass is clean. Rinse with fresh water, then with alcohol.

When buying a broom, test it by pressing the edge against the floor. If the straws remain in a solid mass, the broom is a good one.

TRANSPORTATION HITCH.

MELBOURNE, July 25. (Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency).—Referring to the complaint from San Francisco that the Commonwealth Government had not arranged transportation for the Australian press delegates across America and the Atlantic, the Prime Minister's secretary states that their printed itinerary states that the Oceanic Co. of San Francisco would supply railway tickets to Vancouver, where the Canadian-Australian Co. would advise regarding a route across Canada to the Atlantic.

COMING EVENTS.

LONDON, July 25.

(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency).—In the Commons Hon. Bonar Law stated that an inter-departmental committee was inquiring into questions connected with the general election, including the question of placing the views of candidates before soldiers on active service. Replying to a question, Mr. Law declined, in the public interest, to discuss the position of the Murrumbidgee Coast of East Shire. Sir Geo. Cave, Home Secretary, stated that the German war prisoners agreement provided for the exchange of all combatants imprisoned for eighteen months and also the return of additional British combatants in order to compensate for the much smaller number of British interned in Germany. The exchange included those interned in Holland and Switzerland.

HAMILTON, To-day.

In the arrest yesterday on the nominal charge of vagrancy of three aliens, the police have taken the first steps toward stamping out what is believed to be an organized enemy propaganda here. The prisoners, Boilewski, Dennis Boice and Wm. Kanardie, faced the Magistrate to-day. Chief Whistley announced that they are the agitators who have been trying to foment trouble in a big munition plant. The first named, an Austrian, was ordered interned. The other two claim to be Russians. They will have until to-morrow to prove their nationality.

DIXON'S DARING DEED

LONDON, To-day.

An amazing story of how the British airmen reached Fomdirm, and bombed Zeppelin sheds on the occasion of the recent raid, was told King George when he visited the mystery ship of the grand fleet. This ship is a triplane carrier and took the flying men and their machines to a suitable point off the German coast at a very small hour of the morning. A number of airplanes were despatched to destroy the Zeppelin hangars at Fomdirm. Capt. Dixon, a very young officer, arrived at his destination in the grey dawn, and came so low in his search for hangars that at one point he was within five feet of the ground. He flew along the whole length of the main street and was seen by a milkman who took the machine for a German plane, and stood up in his cart to wave a good morning. Dixon quickly recognized how helpful this mistake would prove to him and gleefully waved back a greeting. The crews of the German aircraft guns seem also to have mistaken the machine for a German plane for they did not fire. Dixon searching for Zeppelin sheds hawked around just above the house tops, until he found what looked to be an airship shed. Down went a bomb upon it, but the tremendous explosion showed that he had bombed an airship shed, a dump which was utterly destroyed. Speedy repairs were made to the machine, and it was ready to start again.

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Need Help to Pass the Crisis Safely—Prove that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Can be Relied Upon.

Urbana, Ill.—"During Change of Life, in addition to its annoying symptoms, I had an attack of grippe which lasted all winter and left me in a weakened condition. I felt at times that I would never be well again. I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it did for women passing through the Change of Life, so I told my doctor I would try it. I soon began to gain in strength and the annoying symptoms of the Change of Life passed away. I cannot recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound too highly to women passing through the Change of Life." Mrs. FRANK HENSON, 1316 S. Orchard St., Urbana, Ill.

Women who suffer from nervousness, "hot flashes," backache, headaches, "the blues" should try this famous food and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
