THE COURT OF KING'S BENCH IMPOSES PENALTIES.

Nine men and one woman were sentenced in the Court of King's Bench to jail terms from nine months to seven years, totalling thirty-eight years.

Five men convicted of crimes of violence with revolver and knife were sentenced to seven and five years, one getting seven years and the four others five years each. The woman convicted of manslaughter in connection with an illegal operation received two years.

A youthful chauffeur who was indicted for murder by the Grand Jury, but against whom manslaughter was returned, was the first in ten to receive his sentence. Lyon W. Jacobs, K.C., asked that the good record of the prisoner be taken into consideration by the Court passing sentence. Mr.

Justice Wilson praised his counsel for the able manner in which he defended him, but told the prisoner who had killed a man by his reckless driving, that he was against the law in many ways and that the jury added a strong plea for mercy, therefore, he would sentence him to nine months in jail. With a sorrowful glance toward his mother, whose eyes had never left him during the trial, the youth stepped back to the guard that waited him to be taken to Bordeaux Jail.

Another man who was driving a car while intoxicated and crashed into another car killing an infant child and severely injuring others, was given a year in jail.

When the woman was sentenced she failed to hear her sentence and waited in suspense as she faced the bar of justice. The constable at her side whispered loudly in her ear, "Deux Ans." Then she heard and understood.

A poker game in a "blind pig" establishment operated by an Italian was the cause of serious trouble with a knife and a gun in which another son of Sunny Italy got five years for

MET TERRIBLE DEATH IN MOTOR SMASH.

A youth of 20 years, of Shawinigan Falls, Que., met a terrible death when he was plumed underneath the motor car he was driving and slowly burned to death before assistance reached him. He failed to take a curve in the road near the Bont de Lile Bridge at 2.45 in the morning. The young man was caught beneath the car which caught fire when gasoline leaking from the tank became ignited. The legs were burnt from his body, as it was ten minutes before any help arrived. Three other occupants of the car were severely injured and had to be taken to the Notre Dame Hospital. The motor party had left Shawinigan Falls en route to St. Jerome to attend the Passion Play there. The driver did not know the road and thus failed to take the curve.

THE OLD VICTORIA RINK DEMOLISHED.

The old Victoria Rink built in 1882 and which enjoyed considerable patronage as a place for some great and stirring hockey matches, during its sixty-two years in operation, has been demolished. A modern garage will be erected in its place.

JUDGE REPRIMANDS PARENTS.

The number of juvenile delinquents is rapidly increasing. Nothing is too large for them to tackle in the way of robbery. Last week a couple of them got away with $140 stolen from a woman. This week five boys under fourteen were arrested for stealing $1,200. They entered one of the 5, 10 and 15 cent stores and broke open the safe after discovering the combination by chance. They had a glorious time for three weeks with the money. Spending it on bicycle, automobile drives, chocolates, tips, cigarettes and the "movies." The quintette played a real elusive part in evading the police and detectives. They held a private caucus and decided to stick together on every occasion and give no information nor form friends with any others. The taxi cab driver, who was hired for the third time. Informed the detectives that the leader of the gang had quite a roll of bills when he paid for the joy ride, though on the two other occasions the fare was paid in five and ten cent pieces. The detectives rounded the bunch up in a few hours, but not before all the money was spent and they were broke. Their trial comes up next week.

Three others under fourteen who appeared for stripping clothes lines and pilfering from refrigerators were returned to their parents for safe-keeping by Judge Lacroix. With a severe lecture to the parents, warning them that if they should be brought before him again, the fathers and mothers would feel the effects of the law as well as the children. "Seven a clock is bad-time for children under 14 years of age and I want you to remember what I say and keep your children under proper control and don't let me see them again brought to the Juvenile Court by police detectives," said the Judge.

C.N.R. NEEDS MORE PEOPLE.

Calling himself a doctor of industry, one who devoted himself to the correction of commercial ills, Sir Henry Thornton in addressing the Association of New York Central surgeons, diagnosed the trouble of the Canadian National Railways, as a case of indigestion—too much mileage for the population served, and offered as the proper therapeutics, intense effort for immigration.

Rising to an outburst of applause after an eloquent eulogy by the chairman, Frank V. Whiting, general claims attorney for the N.Y. Central, Sir Henry insisted that the medical fraternity had no monopoly on the curing of ills and that others, with no degrees, had much the same problems to solve as accredited doctors. He was, he said, called upon to minister to the ills of industry and gave his prescription frankly.

"We are suffering from indigestion from the consumption of too much mileage," he said, "more mileage than is necessary, and the remedy is a liberal dose of immigration. When our population catches up with our mileage—if we can accomplish that rapidly enough, all of our symptoms will disappear. Had we 25,000,000 in Canada, our difficulties would cease, even though problems did continue."

LIQUOR LAWS GOOD IN QUEBEC.

Le Canada, the French morning daily, says: Since the liquor laws have been in force in our province, there has been a constant diminution in the number of cases of drunkenness; public morality is becoming more and more respectable and proper. The same cannot be said of the United States where drunkenness is becoming more common instead of dying out.

HE HAD ONLY A LITTLE NAP.

He was "broke." He had no place to lay his head. He didn't want to go to a police station, although many do so, now that the nights are frosty.

"Ah, an idea," he thought. So he walked into an uptown hotel as though he owned the place, went upstairs, when no one was looking, and camped in an out-of-the-way nook.

There, house detectives found him, his coat for a pillow, his hat reposing by his side. Awakened from his slumbers, he refused to give his name or address. "I'll tell it to the judge," he retorted. He had that opportunity when charged before Recorder Semple with loitering. He said he was Victor Swaney, of Winnipeg, and on his promise to return to that city he was given a suspended sentence.

NOTRE DAME DE GRACE TO WAR UPON MOTORISTS.

Alderman Watson of Notre Dame de Grace said that the authorities have declared war upon speeding motorists and mischievous boys in his ward. There have been constant complaints that drivers of cars are exceeding the speed limits despite sundry warnings. Hereafter the police will do some intensive curbing of the speed demon's enthusiasm and disregard of the pedestrians' rights. Loss of their licenses will have a salutary effect on the pests.

Mischievous boys and cheap mashers are also due for some attention, from the minions of the law. The boys have been in the habit of stealing tomatoes somewhere and using passing cars for targets, much to the annoyance of the motorists, especially if as the tomatoes are verging on the ketchup stage. These boys, after their enthusiasm for the tomato has waned, resort to stringing cord or barbed wire across the streets in an effort to test its strength against the onrush of the cars.

Cheap mashers and youths, who park themselves every evening on different corners of the ward and ogle every girl that passes by, flatter themselves that their attentions are being reciprocated and that they are the only living rivals of Ruddy Valentino, are also due for a shock. Some fine evening they will find themselves flitting with the sergeant as he inscribes a charge of loitering against them on the police blotter.

SELFISHNESS ONE OF THE EVILS OF THE DAY.

Dear Readers—Selfishness is one of the great evils that afflict modern society. The selfish person is proud, haughty and arrogant. He appears to live only for himself. He keeps aloof from his fellow men and gives no thought for the extending of a little kindness or happiness in the lives of others. He fails to bring a little of the sunshine of life, a little bit of heaven even to deserving cases. He has not treated others as he would wish to be treated by them. The selfish person should often meditate on the following verse:

"If I have made one weary life the brighter,
If I have eased another's toil and pain,
If I have made some comrade's burden lighter,
I have not lived in vain."

POOR SERMONS

EASTBOURNE—Are poor sermons keeping church pews empty? Whenever the official discussions at the Church Congress at Eastbourne were not in progress, clergy and laity were exchanging views on the Archbishop of Canterbury's condemnation of the inadequacy of present-day sermons.

Points of differences centre round questions whether sermons are as important as the Archbishop painted them, and whether the clergy have not ample excuse for devoting less time to them.

One clergyman with a generation of experience in an East End parish, for instance, told me:

"If a clergyman went to the East End with the belief that his rhetorical gifts would win his church a big following he would be grievously disappointed."

They want first of all a man's man, one who can be a judge, adviser, pension expert, athlete, and talker of sound common sense in an easily understandable way.

Other views included the following: Ven. T. W. Cook, Archdeacon of Hastings: I do not agree that clergymen are too overworked to produce good sermons. It is their duty to prepare them. Everything else, such as conferences, meetings, and so forth, must be secondary, and, if necessary, must be neglected.

Puzzled Bishop.

Bishop of Winchester (Dr. Woods): To-day the parson is speaking to congregations which are often as well educated as himself and probably know more about the world. Unfortunately the parson's life to-day is so full of mechanical work that he gets no time for study and resection. How can this be mended? Frankly, I do not know.

Bishop of Chelmsford (Dr. Warrman): I agree that modern sermons are not as good as they should be. The Archbishop performed a great service to the clergy when he uttered this warning.

Rev. E. W. Mowll, Southport, next year's general secretary of the congress: How can the clergy shut themselves up in the forenoon with the present amount of mechanical work waiting to be done by them?

Take my own case. For five days a week I keep a secretary constantly employed for mechanical work, and even then am myself kept as busy as can be. Income-tax people admit this work by letting us call a household room our office.

The pressure of work results from a grave shortage of 5,000 clergy, and the position is getting worse. The petrol age is responsible largely for smaller congregations.

20-Minutes Limit.

Other views of the Archbishop's criticism of sermons are:— Bishop Welldon (Dean of Durham).—Good preachers always draw large congregations. Too many sermons are preached in the Church of England. They should seldom exceed 20 minutes.

Canon T. Houghton (Vicar of Eccleall, Sheffield).—In these days when churches are under-staffed and clergy are under-paid and unable to buy books many difficulties arise. The average clergyman has so many things to do that it is very difficult for him to devote all the time he ought to careful preparation of sermons.

Dean of Manchester (Dr. Hewlett Johnson).—A clergyman is often short of money and short of time. The best books are very costly, and he frequently has an impossibly large parish to control and too many parochial organizations to run. Serious sermons are like serious music. Many people look on them as "highbrow" and do not turn up to hear them.—Daily Mail.

Churchill Sees Brighter Times

Outside Abnormal Conditions in Coleridge Situation Has Improved.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—(Star Special Cable by J. E. Poole, Staff Correspondent).—Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill, speaking last night, declared: "Although there are many cases of anxiety, there is no justification for pessimism, methodically exploited cries of pessimism and alarm." He pointed out that there had been no increase in unemployment for five months. Yesterday's returns showed a diminution of nearly 40,000 in a week.

Outside of the abnormal situation in the colonies, there actually had been a decrease of 150,000 unemployed in other trades. Revenue officials had advised him that for the next three years he need not expect anything remarkable, but might expect a gradual improvement in income taxation.

The consuming power of the population was increasing steadily, he said. So far as private thrift was concerned, the people's deposits in savings and other banks had increased, and the sale of national savings certificates showed a net increase of £7,000,000 sterling. He believed there was a great probability that things would get better in the next year.

The newly arranged Locarno agreements are certain to give a decided fillip to the courage of the masses of Britain as well as to business men and financiers.

How often do you clean your teeth?

The frequent washing of the teeth with a pure, non-gritty dentifrice, is just as important as the regular use of a good soap on the face and hands.

For the preservation of good looks as well as good health, the teeth MUST be cleaned night and morning, and, if at all convenient, after every meal too.

Colgate's cleans teeth the right way. Its non-gritty chalk removes clinging particles of food, while its mild, pure soap gently washes them away, leaving the mouth pleasantly refreshed.

Its delightful flavour encourages regular use.
