PISTOL, MOTOR, CRIME ADJUNCTS

Commissioner Enright Would Double Penalties.

QUEBEC, July 31.—The greatest adjuncts to crime are the automobile and the pistol, and at the next session of the New York State Legislature I will recommend that the penalties for all major crimes committed with the aid of either of these be doubled wherever possible," said Commissioner Richard A. Enright, head of the New York police department, here to-day, in the course of the discussion on the prevalence of crime, the means of preventing it and of curbing the activities of the habitual criminal.

Commissioner Enright said the automobile made it easier to commit a crime and easier to escape afterwards. It has also opened up a new avenue of crime, that of stealing cars.

OFFICER WINS BOY'S FREEDOM

John Farrell Pleads Case of Edward Stewart.

STOLE A RAINCOAT

Lure of City Led Lad To Temptation's Path.

Pleas for leniency made by Immigration Officer John Farrell to Deputy Magistrate Gladman in city police court to-day brought a suspension of sentence for Edward Stewart, 17 years old, an immigrant lad, charged with the theft of a raincoat. Stewart was taken into custody yesterday by Detective Elmer Walsh, who had been assigned to the task of tracing the coast, which had been purloined a few days previously.

The youth, according to Mr. Farrell, was brought to this country some time ago to work on a farm. For many months he was employed by a farmer near Glastonbury, and later by another near Dorchester. Both farmers, Mr. Farrell said, spoke highly of the lad's honesty and industry.

AND SUSPICIONS AROUSED

Car Minus Women Plus "Crock" Equals Fine.

An automobile that came under the observation of police officers as it turned the corner of Queen's avenue and Quebec street last night contained a club bag, two women and two men. Not that those items are so different from other cars, but the officers had their suspicions.

A few minutes later the car returned, this time minus the two women, and the vehicle was intercepted. In the club bag was found one "crock" of liquor.

The sequel to this episode took place in to-day's city police court, where the

VITAL STATISTICS CREDIT CITY WITH POPULATION BOOST MORE THAN 200

Births, Marriages and Deaths For 1922 All Show Decrease Over Same Seven-Month Period of 1921.

LONDON's net increase in population for the first seven months of this year was 236, as compared with a net increase of 316 for the corresponding period of 1921, based on vital statistics prepared in City Clerk Baker's office. There were 846 births and 610 deaths recorded in the city since January 1, of this year, as compared with 832 births and 616 deaths for the corresponding period of last year.

Marriages also show a decrease this year, with 248 recorded from January 1 to July 31, as against 263 for the first seven months of 1921.

July, 1922, records show a decrease of births, deaths and marriages, compared with July of 1921. In the month just closed there were 135 births, 77 deaths and 41 marriages recorded, as compared with 144 births, 82 deaths and 62 marriages in July of last year.

McIntosh pleaded guilty and was fined $50. Ripsey pleaded not guilty and was dismissed in pursuance of the court's customary attitude in rendering one conviction where the same liquor is involved.

McIntosh had no money, but Ripsey had, so the fine was paid by him, thus indicating that there still are some followers of the belief that one good turn deserves another.

STAVE OFF

the expiration notice was still under consideration and no decision had been reached.

Replying to a question in the House of Commons this morning, the Government whip, Commander B. M. Eyre, stated that the premier was not yet in a position to make a statement as to the mine dispute negotiations, which were still proceeding. He added that he was afraid it would be impossible to make a statement to-day, as the premier had not met the parties.

When at an early hour this morning the Government had determined to organize a most complete inquiry into the mining industry and give it financial help until next spring, it was felt that the period crisis of the last few days had undergone a dramatic change, with every hope that the threatened stoppage of work in the mines would be averted.

DARKEST HOUR.

The situation had seemed to be growing darker each hour last night, when Premier Baldwin called a meeting of the Cabinet, after which he summoned the mine owners and miners' delegates to meet him at 11 o'clock, in separate talks with each side—he never succeeded in bringing them together—he was able to announce that the miners were willing to co-operate in an inquiry into the industry, and that an inquiry into the investigation of methods for improving productive efficiency of the industry and for the purpose of increasing its competitive power in the world market.

The miners, it was added, felt it was unfair to ask them to accept a reduction in wages, in view of the high cost of living, and that an attempt to do so first be made to meet the difficult situation with which the industry was confronted by other means.

Under the circumstances, the Government announced through the ministry of labor that it was ready to lend assistance to the coal industry until spring. By that time it was expected that an exhaustive inquiry into the economic difficulties of the mining industry, as suggested by the prime minister, would have been completed.

PURELY TEMPORARY.

LONDON, July 31. — (Special) — Everywhere there are signs of relief that there is not going to be a lock-out at the mines. Particularly is this so in labor and official quarters, where it was realized that the situation was far more potential for peril than the public ever knew.

It is emphasized, however, that Premier Baldwin's way out is a purely temporary measure to carry the industry on until spring, when it is expected that a full inquiry into the mining industry will be completed. He is already being severely criticized for his subsidy measure, as many after day he had insisted that a subsidy was out of the question and when the matter comes before the House of Commons there are bound to be several attacks on the line he has taken. Only by humiliating himself in this manner was Baldwin able to hold off the crisis at the expense of the public for the Cabinet had backed him in his opposition to a subsidy.

Baldwin told the miners they would have to take a reduction in wages, because wages were going to fall everywhere and he maintained this stand up to the last moment, and it was only by a dramatic retreat that the lockout was averted. The crisis, however, has shown the solidarity of labor in opposing these reductions and the Government now knows what it has to face in such a crisis in the future. A new element has been brought into the industrial life of the country, which means that every time in the future there are industrial troubles of a like character there will be the menace of a complete stoppage of all activities to overshadow the negotiations and make it more and more difficult to reach a reasonable settlement. Labor has recovered from its "Black Friday," and that is the real meaning of the averted crisis.

EARL AND COUNTESS HAIG BID CANADA FAREWELL

MONTREAL, July 31.—Field Marshal Earl Haig and Countess Haig sailed for home from Montreal this morning aboard the Letitia. The visitors were accompanied from the residence of Sir Henry Thornton, which had been placed at their disposal during their visit to the city, to the port by a guard of honor and a military band.

"I have enjoyed my visit more than I can tell," said the field marshal as he went aboard the liner. "I am more than satisfied that the thousands of brave Canadian ex-service men will join in the British Empire Service League."

"You have all been so kind to me that I shall put forth every effort to come again. You have a wonderful country and as I said in a recent speech, we consider Canada the keystone of the dominions."

WEST WILLIAMS CASE ADJOURNED

County Council Must Agree On Method.

ASSESSMENT SQUABBLE

Township Claims Boost of 25 Per Cent. Too Much.

Before Talbot Macbeth and J. C. Judd, county court judges, the appeal of West Williams Township against the equalization of the assessment for Middlesex was opened at the courthouse to-day at 10 o'clock. Nearly two-thirds of the local municipalities were represented, by their Reeves or deputy Reeves.

West Williams was represented by J. M. McEvoy, K. C., and Thomas Elliott, Reeve of the municipality. After a discussion lasting two hours the appeal was adjourned until September 4. The reason for the layover lies in the fact that it is necessary to obtain the unanimous assent of the County Council as to what method they will consent to the appeal being taken on.

TWO COURSES OPEN.

There are two courses open, that of appointing valuers, which procedure was urged by Mr. McEvoy or taking a census of the sale of farms in each township covering a set period of years. Before any further step can be taken the Council must agree. For this reason the adjournment was granted.

The equalization of the assessment in Middlesex was in 1912 and remaining unchanged up until the recent general increase of 25 per cent. made by the Council in June. West Williams claims this is too high and that other townships are not high enough.

In his opening remarks Mr. McEvoy suggested to the judges that they appoint valuers in all the townships. He stated there had been a great many improvements made in the townships since the last equalization was made. This would involve an expenditure of $2,000 or more to the county, and in the opinion if the judges, the valuations could not be completed until January.

MUCH WORK.

Both judges held it would mean the examining of 5,000 properties or more, totalling nearly 50,000 acres.

"This matter should have been taken up long ago, and I don't want to be unreasonable in our demands," said Mr. McEvoy. "We are just about as far ahead now as any other year, and we would like to go on."

"Well what do you want me to do?" asked Judge Macbeth.

"I want you to equalize the assessment."

"The county does it."

"Yes, but they have done it," came back counsel.

Judge Macbeth: "The difficulty with me is where are we going to get the money?"

Mr. McEvoy: "We are the appellants in the case, your honor."

Judge Judd stated the valuations would want $10 a day and traveling expenses. On former occasions, Judge Macbeth stated, sales of farms in the townships were taken and compared with assessment. Mr. McEvoy said that was a pretty good test, but the fairness depended on the farms chosen.

Later Mr. Elliott consented to this procedure.

ADJOURNED MEETING.

There was some confusion as to whether the Council meeting held on July 19 was a special one or an adjourned session. Counsel for West Williams had been informed it was the former and would like the matter settled. John Stuart, county clerk, produced the minutes of both meetings. It was finally taken and compared with assessment. Mr. McEvoy said that was a pretty good test, but the fairness depended on the farms chosen.

The camp is situated two miles west of Camlachie, and has an excellent beach near by, as well as a large athletic campus.

TO REBUILD MINAKI INN.

MONTREAL, July 31.—Minaki Inn, of the Canadian National Railway, summer hotels, which was destroyed by fire last month, on the eve of the opening, will be rebuilt on the bungalow style similar to Jasper Park Lodge. Announcement of this effort was made following a conference of system officials with Sir Henry Thornton, who states that plans will be developed immediately for the erection of the new inn on the banks of the Winnipeg River.

LUNCH AT BUNGALOW TEAROOM

dinner at the Bungalow Tearoom was the program of the KIWANIS Club to-day as a part of their summer program of dinners. For a summer vacation meeting the attendance was good. The entertainment was in the hands of the "H" members of the club. S. L. Squire, deputy minister of highways and public works, was the speaker scheduled for the dinner.

HOTEL SHOULD BE ON SCIENCE CHURCH SITE

London's new hotel should stand on the site now occupied by the old Pepper Box Church, says ex-Ald. Gordon Drake. "The site of the Christian Science Church on Richmond street was the original site suggested for a new hotel years ago," he says, "and in my opinion is still the best site in London. It has three streets passing by, it has a street railway line in front of it, and it has the park on one side. There is not a finer site for a hotel in the city. It is half way between the two stations and is ideal in every way."
