

The upper Illustration, a view of the tunnel's mouth, is taken at Göschenen, the north end. A view of the south end, at Airolo, is given at the bottom of this page. Groups of workmen variously employed, and the portraits of Noceraviglia and Chisso, who perforated and blasted the last hole, from opposite sides, are represented in the other Sketches.

OPENING OF THE ST. GOTHARD TUNNEL.