

doc
CA1
EA
99J59
EXF

Y2K

Advice for Canadians Travelling Abroad

As the year 2000 rings in, there is more for the international traveller to think about than simply getting somewhere on time. Not all computers around the world will be prepared to deal with the year 2000 rollover, and some could malfunction. All computers, from large mainframes to laptops, must be checked for non-Y2K-compliant embedded chips. Many are being reprogrammed or replaced.