THE BIBLE AND POPERY;

OR, INCIDENTS OF BIBLE DISTRIBUTION FROM THE REFORMATION TO THE PRESENT TIME.

A LECTURE DELIVERED AT SEVERAL MEETINGS OF THE BIBLE SOCIETY,

BY
REV. JAMES GREEN.

And Published by Subscription raised by the Brockville Bible Society.

A LECTURE OF LESSONS FOR THE PRESENT GENERATION.

The Evening was mainly occupied with a lecture by Rev. Mr. Green, on the history of the English Bible in its struggles for existence, from the beginning of the Reformation to the present time. High encomiums have been passed on this lecture, but by no means too high. It is seldom that we are favoured with anything so admirable; language terse and chaste; reasoning, cogent and fair; graphic descriptions of thrilling scenes and dangers, with a rich vein of humor running through the whole. The lecture was a rare treat, and we advise all who may be able to hear it for themselves. At the present juncture of affairs in the Dominion this address is specially opportune, and we could only wish that our two Legislatures now assembled at Toronto and Quebec could hear it, and all our educational boards, too. It would probably throw much needed light upon some problems that our statesmen and educationists do not seem to understand. Again we repeat, let all who can hear it during the ensuing winter.—Prescott Telegraph, December.

The meeting of the Sherbrooke Bible Society, held on the 6th inst., was a very interesting one; Rev. J. P. Reid, Rector of St. Peter's Church, occupied the chair, and very able and appropriate addresses were given by him and Rev. A. Duff; but the speech of the evening was the address of the Rev. J. Green, the Society's agent, on incidents of Bible distribution, from the Reformation to the present, in which, if possible, he out-did himself. He was indeed the "old man eloquent."—Sherbrooke Gazette.
