

CONTENTS.

No.	PAGE
I.—AN EVENING AT CORK . . . . .	1
II.—WALKS, TALKS, AND CHALKS . . . . .	25
III.—HOMEWARD BOUND . . . . .	55
IV.—‘A TRAIN OF THOUGHT, AND THOUGHTS IN A TRAIN’	85
V.—JOHN BULL AND HIS DIGGINS . . . . .	110
VI.—BLACK JOBS AND WHITE FAVOURS . . . . .	138
VII.—A GALLIMAUFRY . . . . .	163
VIII.—OUR NEIGHBOURS AND DISTANT RELATIONS . . . . .	187
IX.—THE LIVING AND THE DEAD . . . . .	218
X.—THE OLD AND THE NEW YEAR; OR, QUAKERS AFLOAT AND ASHORE . . . . .	246
XI.—COLONIAL AND MATRIMONIAL ALLIANCES . . . . .	272
XII.—BIG WIGS . . . . .	302

Narrative Anecd.

EVERYTH
we live i
seems.
countries
upon visi
and the f
alike, dre
South Se
their fast
chester, v
the ‘ends
fold, und
travels n
What fiel
far West
rouetted
whether y
to South
jungles t
reaching
equal eas
New Yo
mended s
Indus to