THE PRESBYTERIAN POSITION

Doctrine of the Real Spiritual Presence in the Eucharist Affirmed.

MONTREAL, Sept. 14.—At the quarterly meeting of the Montreal Presbytery, held at Knex Church, a resoluwas passed, after a brief discussion on the probable effect of the recent eucharistic congress, setting forth the reformed position with regard to the Presence, the resolution affirming the real spiritual presence of the Saviour in the holy eucharist, but disa-greeing with the view of the Roman Catholic Church as to the actual bodil presence. The resolution was in two parts, the second of which acknowledged that the Catholic Church accom-plishes a great work in uplifting the morals of the people. Rev. Dr. Amaron of Joliette, con-vener of the Presbytery's French evangelization committee, said that there were reasons for him to be glad that the Church of Rome had chosen Mont-real as the meeting place of the eucharistic congress. Everyone would now realize the necessity and advisability of the work. The Roman Catholi Church, he declared, saw France, Italy and Spain slipping out of her grasp, and had resolved to make this province

YOUNG UNION REBELS ARE ENGLAND'S MENACE

Sir William Grantham, Noted English Judge, in the City-Ideas on Imperialism.

The Hon. Sir William Grantham, judge of the King's Bench division of the high court of justice, arrived at the king Edward yesterday with his daughter, after an extended tour of the Canadian west. Sir William, whose estate is at Lewes, in Sussex, is a Tory of the Tories, tho his judicial position precludes his taking active part in politics, from which he withdrew on his elevation to the Queen's Bench in 1886.

"From what I have seen of the Radicals of Canada," he said last night, "I don't believe they are real Radicals at all; they are all strong loyalists and protectionists.

"In England, at the present time, the danger lies in the fact that the younger members of the trades unions are rebelling against the law and order which the older members are endeavoring to inculcate. When these declare their employers' decision to be equitable and just, the younger men re-protectionists.

"In England, at the present time, the danger lies in the fact that the younger members of the trades unions are rebelling against the law and order which the older members are endeavoring to inculcate. When these declare their employers' decision to be equitable and just, the younger men refuse to obey the lawful orders of their own executive. Therein lies the difficulty that has got to be faced."

Regarding his visit to Canada, Sir William said: "I am delighted with my trip, to which I have looked for ward from my youth. I have always able and just, the younger men refuse to obey the lawful orders of their own executive. Therein lies the difficulty that has got to be faced."

Regarding his visit to Canada, Sir William said: "I am delighted with my trip, to which I have looked forward from my youth. I have always felt it my duty to come some day, that I might see for myself, talk to the people and hear their views. I believe that the future of England depends on the welfare of her colonies, and have had an idea that the British Government was not doing as much for Canada as Canada has done for her—in fact, that not enough reciprocity has been shown. I, therefore, wanted to see the real feeling in Canada and of the Canadians, and to show my respect for them. It is the men they sent out to the South African War, and the spirit they showed at that time, that gave the keynote to the imperial character of the war."

Sir William expressed great delight

> OTTAWA, Sept. 14 .- John Levis of Bridge-street, Hull, who was recently up before the Ottawa magistrate on the charge of stealing sums of money from the Singer Sewing Machine Company, faced a charge of attempted murder, before Recorder Desjardins and was remanded until Tuesday next, so that his record can be looked up. From the evidence given it appeared that Levis had been quarreling lately with a neighbor, Mrs. Abraham Ladecoute, who resides on Anne-street. Last night the accused was his back yard with his wife, when he got into an altercation with Mrs. Laderoute, and after some words he requested his wife to bring him an He then, it appears, grabbed the axe and the woman realizing her danger ran into the house. The accused is alleged to have hurled the axe after her, the instrument just missing her a hair's breadth, and sticking in the frame of the door.

ager Fleming in the light of a kindly benefactor to a suffering community. He sent Mr. Fleming a letter yesterday afternoon, an epistle somewhat tart in flavor. It read like this:

"Dear Sir:—

"I am very pleased to hear that your company has, at length, been able to arrange for the construction of the much-needed extensions which have been assented to by the Ontario Rallway Board. I do not feel at all concerned with the excuses you make for the company's long delay. It would not have occurred to me, tho, that your operating men would have had much to do with the construction of new lines, or, indeed, that the citizens are interested in the spirit in which your company is doing the work.

"I notice, however, from your letter that the compan ydo not want to lay the lines for their own purposes, as I understand your attitude to be in the past, but that the construction had been forced on you by the order of the hoard. I hone that whatever the de-past, but that the construction had been forced on you by the order of the board. I hope that, whatever the desires and motives of the company may be, and however subject to change, nothing will prevent the completion of the work at the earliest possible moment. "I trust that your past delay will not threw much, if any, of the work over the open season."

Rust is Persistent.

City Engineer Rust also wrote a letter. In it he repeated a request made six times previously within the past few months for information as to where the company intends to start building. The city will be ready to begin work on the substructure immediately, says Mr. Rust.

Manager Fleming promises that the new tracks will be laid as fast as the city supplies the foundations, that heavy rails and wide devil strips will be provided, and that 50 new cars will be ready by the end of the year. He declares that the railway will be prepared to start work at once if the city is also ready.

H. L. Drayton, K.C., city counsel, remarked yesterday that he would have been surprised if the company had taken any other course than that of obeying the order.

Another Offer.

By a somewhat strange coincidence, the board of control, in addition to Manager Fleming's letter stating that the company would build the lines ordered by the Ontario Railway Board, had before it a communication from or, offering on behalf of clients, nam tor, offering on behalf of clients, names unknown, to construct and operate a street railway system. As the street railway has fallen into line, the board agreed that the new proposition came too late, but the mayor promised that it would receive consideration later in connection with the whole situation. It will be recalled that about a year ago, when H. C. Hocken, then controller, was advocating tubes, Mr. Chisholm, acting for a mysterious syndicate, offered to carry out the project.

Would Use Ontario Power. The present suggestion is that the city use the right it has, where the street railway erfuses to build lines on streets designated by the city engineer, to grant a franchise to another company, and that the city may ob-tain legislation to extend the same privilege in the newer districts, namely, those not included in the city as it was when the street railway got its franchise in 1891. The new company undertakes to have its franchise expire with the street railway franchise in 1921, on condition that the city take over the lines at cost, plus a percentage to be agreed upon. The new company also offers to operate the system by hydro-electric power supplied by the city.

Two Opinions.

Tom Johnson, ex-Mayor of Cleveland, Ohio, who fought hard and long for three-cent car fare in his city, in a message yesterday, said: "I favor municipal ownership of all public utilities. City should only pay for physical value. Recent inventions make subway building possible at less than half the cost reported by experts in Toronto. By owning subways city could purchase surface lines on their physical value basis."

physical value basis."
Sir Edmund Walker, president of the Bank of Commerce, in discussing the city's decision to bargain for the the city's decision to bargain for the purchase of the street railway, said:
"They are just as certain to make fools of themselves as the sun rises. Let them buy it now. They may as well take their medicine as soon as possible. But this I say there will be possible. But this I say, there will be increased discomfort under civic control, for it will not be managed as well as it is now."

Ald. McCausland's Reasoning.

Ald. McCausland is not impressed with the views of Sir Edmund Walker, which are in effect that city ownership of the street railway would encounter financial difficulties which are avoided by private control.

The alderman points out that the company is paying 7 per cent. in dividends on $8,000,000 stock, or $560,000 a year. On the other hand, the city could borrow funds to take over the railway, issuing bonds af, say, 4 1-4 per cent. This would on $8,000,000 mean a total of only $340,000 a year, leaving $220,000 for reserve or improveleaving $220,000 for reserve or improve-ments, instead of getting into the pockets of shareholders.
