HER BEAUTY WON HIS HEART.

Boston Saleswoman Captivated a Rich Bostonian on Sight and They Married.

BOY'S FATHER MADE A BIG KICK

But It is Understood That the Parental Heart is Gradually Softening, Now That It's Over.

New York, Sept. 22.—The Evening Journal says: Horatio Bigelow, a rich young Bostonian, the son of S. Bigelow, president of the Boston & Montana Mining Company, and a leader in Back Bay society, so the story is told here, a few weeks ago wandered into Jordan, Marsh & Co.'s big department store in Boston. There he was waited upon by Miss Mary A. Riese, acknowledged to be the famous beauty of Boston's shopping district. Bigelow fell in love at first sight. He obtained an introduction, wooed and proposed marriage to her. She advised him to get his father's consent.

President Bigelow stormed when his son broached the subject to him. The son weathered the storm and pressed for a decision. The father compromised. He proposed that the son should take a trip around the world before pressing his suit further. The son acceded.

With an unlimited letter of credit, young Bigelow started globe-trotting. The trot suddenly ended at Chicago. He hurried back to Boston, called at the department store, and at the close of the business day he and Miss Riese were wed. Then they went globe-trotting together. The father is understood to be relenting.

FIVE STOREY APARTMENT HOUSE

Will Be Erected This Fall at the Corner of St. George and Harbord Streets.

A five-storey apartment house or flat building will be erected this fall on the southwest corner of St. George and Harbord-streets, a site unsurpassed by any in the city for such a purpose. It is within five minutes' walk of Queen's Park, the Parliament Buildings and the University, and is now the only vacant corner on the street. A deed of the premises was placed on record yesterday, the grantor being the Hon. William Mulock, while the purchase is made by A. W. McDougall of the Provincial Trust Company, as trustee for the purchasers. It is now 10 years since the last conveyance of these lots was made, when they were sold by F. W. Kingstone for $15,125.

A few weeks ago The World announced that plans for a flat building, to be erected in the Annex, were under preparation by Architect C. P. Thomas of the Temple Building. It now turns out that the plans were made for the premises described, and no choicer location exists in the city.

QUEEN V. B. A. B. N. CO.

The Case Will Be Threshed Out by the Exchequer Court, Beginning Oct. 12.

Ottawa, Sept. 22.—October 12 has been fixed for the hearing of the Exchequer Court case of the Queen v. The British American Bank Note Company. In this matter the Government claim heavy damages from the defendant firm for alleged breach of contract, in having supplied stamps produced by other processes than those which were specified in the contract. The defendants contend that the processes by which stamps are now printed differ from those in vogue when the contract was first entered into, the contract having extended over many years, having been renewed from time to time without verbal alteration, and that the Government sustained no loss by the alleged shortcoming; also that the Government of the day was cognizant of and party to any departure from the strict letter of the contract which may have been made, the spirit of the contract having been lived up to.

DEWEY'S WELCOME HOME.

Vermonters Propose to Have a Demonstration All Their Own.

Montpelier, Vt., Sept. 22.—Extensive preparations are being made by the people of Vermont to welcome Admiral Dewey upon his return to the state. It is now expected that the parade in his honor will occur Oct. 12 here. It is planned to make the affair strictly a Vermont welcome, and in consequence many offers of foreign organizations to parade on that day have been refused.

The Twentieth Century.

Scientific American: The nineteenth century closes with the year 1900, immediately after midnight, therefore, of Dec. 31, 1900 is when the twentieth century begins. In other words, it begins with the first second of the first hour of the first day of January, 1901.

The twentieth century will open on a Tuesday and close on a Sunday. It will have the greatest number of leap years possible for a century—twenty-four. The year 1904 will be the first one, then every fourth year after that to and including the year 2000. February will three times have five Sundays: in 1920, 1948 and 1976.

The twentieth century will contain 36,525 days, which lacks but one day of being exactly 5218 weeks. The middle day of the century will be Jan. 1, 1951.

Several announcements are made of changes to be inaugurated with the opening of the new century. The first of importance is that Russia will adopt the Gregorian calendar. This will be done by omitting thirteen days, the amount of error that will have accumulated after the close of February, 1900. The Russians will then write Jan. 1, 1901, instead of Dec. 19, 1900, or rather, instead of both, according to the dual system now in vogue in that country and in Greece. The other important announcement is that it is not at all unlikely that the astronomical day, which now begins at noon of the civil day, will be in with the civil day at midnight. The present method of having the astronomical day to begin twelve hours after the beginning of the civil day is apt to be confusing. On the other hand, to have the former begin at midnight, just when astronomers are often busiest, will be to them somewhat inconvenient.
